Clemson University 101 Brad M. Epstein, 2004-11 Clemson 101 is required reading for every future Clemson Tiger From the spirit of the First Friday Parade to the awesome sight of the team running down The Hill you ll share all the excitement with the next generation Children's Books in Print, 2007 ,2006 Name of University 101: Clemson University ,2003 Simple text and illustrations explain university life Historiographies of Game Studies Alisha Karabinus, 2025-07-25 Historiographies of Game Studies offers a first of its kind reflection on how game studies as an academic field has been shaped and sustained Today game studies is a thriving field with many dedicated national and international conferences journals professional societies and a strong presence at conferences in disciplines like computer science communication media studies theater visual arts popular culture and others But when did game studies start And what and who is at the core or center of game studies Fields are defined as much by what they are not as by what they are and their borderlands can be hotly contested spaces In this anthology scholars from across the field consider how the boundaries of game studies have been established codified contested and protected raising critical questions about who and what gets left out of the field Over more than two dozen chapters and interviews with leading figures including Espen Aarseth Kishonna Gray Henry Jenkins Lisa Nakamura Kentaro Matsumoto Ken McAllister and Janet Murray the contributors offer a dazzling array of insightful provocations that address the formation propagation and cultivation of game studies interrogating not only the field s pasts but its potential futures and asking us to think deliberately about how academic fields are collectively built Enhancing Learning with Laptops in the Classroom Linda B. Nilson, Barbara E. Weaver, 2005-04-20 This issue is the first major publication on teaching with laptops in the classroom Its primary purpose is to show that university instructors make pedagogically productive and novel use of laptops in the classroom As the chapters illustrate laptops indeed offer rich new opportunities to make classes more student active thereby enhancing student engagement and learning Moreover these benefits can accrue without compromising the quality of student instructor interaction or increasing the student workload The issue also has a timely secondary purpose to advise institutional leaders on how to make a laptop mandate successful at their university Clemson University s mandate has meet with tremendous and documented success Their Laptop Faculty Development Program ensures that faculty interested in teaching with laptops receive extensive pedagogical as well as technical traing before they take on a laptop course Some of the more creative and effective laptop faculty are showcased in this volume This is the 101st issue of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Teaching and Learning Fairness in International Trade Geoff Moore, 2010-04-08 This book arises out of papers delivered at the World Congress of the International Society of Business Economics and Ethics ISBEE held in Cape Town in 2008 There are two sections First a number of key papers provide an insight into global business wealth creation and welfare issues with particular reference to the African continent appropriate for a Congress that was based in South Africa and drew wide participation from African scholars Second it provides the output from a global research project on Fairness in International Trade which ran over the two years prior to the Congress This project drew together the work of scholars in five regions across the globe and is the first time that such a global perspective has been attempted This book is aimed at academics working in the area of international trade or development economics particularly those who have an interest in the ethical dimensions of trade It will also be of interest to students of development economics and business ethics particularly at Masters and Doctoral level
