Climate and Economic Development Andrew M. Kamarck,Economic Development Institute (Washington, D.C.),1972

Economic Growth and Development in the Tropics Sook Rei Tan,Haejin Jang,Jacob Wood,2024-02-06 The living standards and scale of development around the world are vastly unequal One notable observation is that much of the poverty stricken area is located between the tropics of Cancer and Capricorn By contrast affluent nations are situated in more temperate zones Such a phenomenon gives weight to the geography hypothesis that seeks to explain the occurrence of global economic inequality by placing an emphasis on the importance of natural elements such as location and climate in determining the economic conditions of a nation This book concentrates exclusively and in depth on the key economic phenomena and factors which shape tropical economies today It examines contemporary economic problems confronting the tropical countries and provides policy recommendations that align with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals set in the 2030 Agenda It contains research works and case studies of tropical economies that are related to the area of development and environment economics The book s themes range from economic growth poverty reduction income inequality economic globalization international trade capital flow financial development and institutional development to environmental sustainability within the Tropics Recognizing the dynamism and diversity of the tropics the book encompasses empirical and policy analyses that address the key economic issues and challenges in the region so as to provide an important platform from which new policymaking initiatives can flourish This book will draw readership primarily from the fields of economics and public policy particularly under the subject areas of development and environment economics as well as discussions in the sustainability policy space Natural Resources in Tropical Countries Jin-Bee Ooi,1983 Economic Development in the Tropics B. W. Hodder,1968 Study of problems of economic development in tropical developing countries of Africa Asia incl South East Asia and Latin America with particular reference to geographical aspects covers natural resources irrigation soil conservation population problems human resources agriculture cultivation techniques agricultural production rural development industrialization transport trade investment etc Bibliography pp 238 to 252 and statistical tables Tropical Conservation A. Alonso Aguirre,Raman Sukumar,2017 Tropical Conservation Perspectives on Local and Global Priorities is intended to be a key resource on the biodiversity conservation crisis in the tropics and subtropics for university professors university students researchers practitioners in grassroots local community organizations technical staff of non profit conservation and development organizations wildlife managers and other technicians in the resource extraction industries government and policy makers This book provides unique exposure to the experiences of Latin American Asian and African conservation scientists working on the ground Climate Economics Richard S.J. Tol, 2023-03-02 This thoroughly revised third edition offers comprehensive coverage of the economics of climate change and climate policy and is a suitable guide for advanced undergraduate postgraduate and doctoral students Topics discussed include the costs and benefits of adaptation and mitigation discounting uncertainty equity policy instruments the second best and international agreements

Human Activities and the Tropical Rainforest Bernard K. Maloney, 1998 Arising initially from a conference the papers published here have been integrated into book form to provide information on human activities and the tropical rainforest in the past and present and on the possible future of the rainforest in a unique way Other books have considered some but not all of these themes however none has stressed the continuity of change over time and its possible outcome for the people of the forest as well as for the forest itself Because of the approach taken this book should appeal across traditional disciplinary boundaries Indeed a prime aim has been to suggest that rainforest because of its complexity and the complexity of people rainforest relationships throughout time deserves study from a broad perspective This book poses more questions than answers about the rainforest and it is hoped that it will encourage readers to think about the rainforest in a wider way than hitherto This book is aimed at geographers physical and human social anthropologists archaeologists pedologists foresters and tropical botanists and will be of value to graduates of various disciplines setting out to research the rainforest Achieving sustainable management of tropical forests Professor Jürgen Blaser, Mr Patrick D. Hardcastle, 2020-10-27 Explores the broader economic political and environmental context in which management of tropical forests needs to operate Particular focus on management structures and techniques to achieve sustainable forest management SFM on the ground Includes case studies of practical experience of managing tropical forests in South America West Africa and Southeast Asia Tropical Diseases Bulletin, 1912

Resources, Environment, and Population Kingsley Davis, Mikhail S. Bernstam, 1991 Based on papers presented at a conference on the economic and environmental aspects of natural resources and population Issued as a supplement to Population and development review Proceedings of International Meeting on the Use of Ecological Guidelines for Development in the American Humid Tropics, Held at Caracas, Venezuela, 20-22 February 1974, 1975 Influences of Geographic Environment, on the Basis of Ratzel's System of Anthro-geography Ellen Churchill Semple, 1911
