Shorthand Writer and Takigrafer, 1882 English Translation Style Guide for European Union European Commission, 2015-04-02 This Style Guide is intended primarily for English language authors and translators both in house and freelance working for the European Commission. But now that so many texts in and around the EU institutions are drafted in English by native and non-native speakers alike, its rules, reminders and handy references aim to serve a wider readership as well. The Guide is divided into two clearly distinct parts: the first dealing with linguistic conventions applicable in all contexts and the second with the workings of the European Union and with how those workings are expressed and reflected in English. This should not be taken to imply that EU English is different from real English; it is simply a reflection of the fact that the European Union as a unique body has had to invent a terminology to describe itself. However, the overriding aim in both parts of the Guide is to facilitate and encourage the writing of clear and reader-friendly English. [With] Answers Isaac Pitman & Sons, Sir Isaac Pitman (and sons; Ltd.), 1898 The Shorthand Writer, 1887 Language and Law Silvia Marino, Łucja Biel, Martina Bajčić, Vilelmini Sosoni, 2018-10-30 The book provides an overview of EU competition law with a focus on the main developments in Italy, Spain, Greece, Poland and Croatia and offers an in-depth analysis of the role of language translation and multilingualism in its implementation and interpretation. The first part of the book focuses on the main developments in EU competition law in action which includes legislation, case law and praxis. This part can be divided into two subparts: the private enforcement of EU competition law and the cooperation among enforcers, i.e. the EU Commission, the national competition authorities and the national courts Language is of paramount importance in the enforcement of EU competition law and as such the second part highlights legal linguistic skills showcasing the advantages and the challenges of multilingualism especially in the context of the predominant use of English as the EU drafting and vehicular language The volume brings together contributions prepared and presented as part of the EU funded research project Training Action for Legal Practitioners Linguistic Skills and Translation in EU Competition Law Pitman's Journal of Commercial Education ,1887 The Philadelphia Stenographer ,1890
