The screenshot shows a web browser displaying an article generated by Frase. The article title is "Beginner's Guide to Search Engine Optimization". The content includes an introduction to SEO, a list of three key points (Provide good content, Research your keywords, and Understand the needs of your audience), and a section titled "How is SEO different from SEM and PPC?". The right sidebar shows a "Top Score" of 88% and a table of metrics: Writing (98%), Research (92%), Links (85%), and Quotes (81%). Below this, there are four "Top Topics" listed with their respective scores: "Search engine optimization" (94%), "Content marketing" (92%), "Content strategy" (90%), and "SEO optimization" (88%).

Beginner's Guide to Search Engine Optimization

SEO stands for "search engine optimization." In other words, SEO means the process of improving your website to increase its visibility in Google, Microsoft Bing, and other search engines. And that's exactly what you want to do.

- Provide good content
- Research your keywords
- Understand the needs of your audience

The better content your pages have in search results, the more likely you are to be found and clicked on. Otherwise, the goal of "search engine optimization" is to help search engines understand your website, your website's customers, needs, and to surface relevant content from.

How is SEO different from SEM and PPC?

SEM and PPC are two other content-based, paid and unpaid search engine marketing strategies. SEM stands for "search engine marketing" and PPC stands for "pay per click." Both are used to drive traffic to your website.

SEO vs. SEM

SEO stands for "search engine optimization." It is the most commonly known, least expensive, and most effective way to drive traffic to your website.
