Adolescent Use of New Media and Internet Technologies Gordon P. D. Ingram, 2023-03-31 This book engages with contemporary and often polarizing debates surrounding the risks of adolescent use of digital media and internet technologies. By drawing on multiple research studies, the text synthesizes current understandings of the impacts of social network use, online gaming, pornography, and phenomena including cyberbullying, cyberstalking, and internet addiction to develop recommendations for the effective identification of at-risk youth as well as strategies for informed communication about online risks and opportunities. It shows how media discussion of risks to children and teenagers from new technology is highly emotive and often exaggerated, rooted in the moral panic surrounding new cultural practices that young people engage in but which adults do not understand. Online risks are thus conceptualized as centering on three areas specific to adolescence which have undergone radical changes due to new internet technology. These include young people's identity, the types of content that are accessed, and social relationships. The author shows how these matters stem from the potential of new technology to establish new interpersonal connections, emphasizing how it brings opportunities as much as risks. As such, he provides a uniquely balanced discussion of potential dangers while also emphasizing the opportunities for social, academic, and personal growth which new technologies afford young people. It will be indispensable for researchers and clinicians interested in assessing levels of online risk, as well as scholars and educators with interests in cyberpsychology, social psychology, cyber culture, social aspects of computing and media, and adolescent development. iParent Neha J Hiranandani, 2024-02-05 Born into a digital wonderland, our children are practically mini hackers right from the crib. Most of them were handed a device before they could walk, they clicked before they took their first bite, and scrolled before they said their first words. But living online is a giant uncontrolled experiment. Cyberbullying, Internet addiction, body dysmorphia, and other digital villains lurk in the shadows. How can parents ensure their kids navigate the digital world safely when there's no rulebook? Neha J Hiranandani's iParent comes to the rescue. This book decodes India's app generation and elevates the discussion beyond these kids and their phones. Based on research, candid conversations, and personal reflection, this timely book is a witty meditation on parenting in a digital world. Hilarious and informative in equal measure, iParent empowers you to connect with the new generation and guide them to cyber safety without being a helicopter parent. No judgement, no preaching. The Global Divas Presented by The Great Podium Group Priyanshu Bajaj, The Global Divas Magazine Not just a magazine, it's a whole mood, a movement, a moment.
