Feindler,Randolph B. Ecton,1986 The Adolescent Anger Control Program described in this guidebook is modeled after the important work of Ray Novaco and Don Meichenbaum They have developed a stress inoculation or coping skills approach which incorporates a number of cognitive behavioral techniques for arousal reduction and cognitive restructuring We have blended these techniques with various self control strategies known to be effective with children and adolescents in particular self monitoring self evaluation and self reinforcement to facilitate the control of anger and aggression Finally we have included several social skills and assertion components as well as the training techniques of modeling and behavior rehearsal we are indebted to Arnie Goldstein his colleagues and their Skill streaming approach Strategies for

Controlling Adolescent Drug Use J. Michael Polich,1984 The purpose of this study is to evaluate the available evidence on the effectiveness of drug control measures and to recommend the most promising areas for future private and public programs to reduce the use of drugs by young people Illicit drug use is widespread among both adolescents and adults Programs to control it have employed three principal methods 1 enforcement of drug laws 2 treatment of chronic abusers and 3 prevention of initial drug use The authors find that while intensified law enforcement is not likely to reduce adolescent drug use and the benefits of expanded treatment remain uncertain prevention programs hold more promise The most encouraging evidence comes from the success of school based programs to prevent cigarette smoking which offer a strategy that may be adaptable to other drugs Annual Report of the Boston Children's Aid Society Boston Children's Aid
