   Reporting Humanitarian Disasters in a Social Media Age Glenda Cooper,2018-10-26 From the tsunami to Hurricane Sandy the Nepal earthquake to Syrian refugees defining images and accounts of humanitarian crises are now often created not by journalists but by ordinary citizens using Twitter Facebook YouTube Instagram and Snapchat But how has the use of this content and the way it is spread by social media altered the rituals around disaster reporting the close if not symbiotic relationship between journalists and aid agencies and the kind of crises that are covered Drawing on more than 100 in depth interviews with journalists and aid agency press officers participant observations at the Guardian BBC and Save the Children UK as well as the ordinary people who created the words and pictures that framed these disasters this book reveals how humanitarian disasters are covered in the 21st century and the potential consequences for those who posted a tweet a video or photo without ever realising how far it would go   Copyright and Anonymity in the Creative User-Generated World Rachel Maguire,2025-05-01 This book explores the relationship between copyright law online anonymity and creative user generated content CUGC Presenting original empirical findings the book evaluates the co existence of copyright law and normative systems regulating a CUGC landscape made up of artists photographers and writers and makes novel recommendations for copyright reform It takes a multi jurisdictional approach across Anglo American and EU legal systems using the UK USA and Germany as representative jurisdictions for legal analysis Qualitative findings are drawn from creators and communities on Reddit and 4chan Copyright subsists in much CUGC but pervasive anonymity makes it difficult for the law to regulate it effectively Simultaneously anonymity offers creative benefits in a way that highlights flaws in traditional justifications of copyright Comparisons between community norms and copyright law identify practical differences but also fundamental compatibilities in terms of ownership expectations However the simultaneous existence of legal and normative enforcement mechanisms complicates matters for creators and potential users with negative implications for creativity and copyright law While existing reform efforts have made suggestions to create a UGC exception these overlook and undermine the role of CUGC creators as copyright holders This can be addressed through the consideration of a framework of supplementary CUGC guidelines when developing such reforms This valuable resource for researchers and students provides a distinct perspective in framing CUGC creators as copyright holders examining online anonymity as a pivotal factor influencing regulation   Computational Engineering of Historical Memories Andrea Nanetti,2022-09-26 Nanetti outlines a methodology for deploying artificial intelligence and machine learning to enhance historical research Historical events are the treasure of human experiences the heritage that societies have used to remain resilient and express their identities Nanetti has created and developed an interdisciplinary methodology supported by practice based research that serves as a pathway between historical and computer sciences to design and build computational structures that analyse how societies create narratives about historical events This consilience pathway aims to make historical memory machine understandable

It turns history into a computational discipline through an interdisciplinary blend of philological accuracy historical scholarship history based media projects and computational tools Nanetti presents the theory behind this methodology from a humanities perspective and discusses its practical application in user interface and experience An essential read for historians and scholars working in the digital humanities Screen Digest ,1998 Bulletin Madras Institute of Development Studies,1994 The Complete Guide to Becoming a UGC Content Creator and How to Get Started Jai Cadell,2024-02-27 UGC content creators are people who create UGC on behalf of their companies They are often employees or contractors who are given specific tasks to create UGC under the company s brand The UGC they create is often a work of art and may be considered copyrighted by the artist which then falls within a company s brand guidelines Some examples are A marketing team creates videos UGC to advertise their product A YouTube channel creates videos related to their product or service A Facebook page uses images from users photo albums in an ad
