Conversations With May Sarton:

Conversations with May Sarton May Sarton, 1991 With increasing candor and openness May Sarton's conversations have given an intimate view of her honest courageous inner life Best known to her many readers as a novelist and keeper of journals Sarton sees herself pre eminently as a poet In the interviews collected here she speaks forthrightly about herself her independence and her writing Although born in Belgium Sarton is quintessentially American in her choice of solitude on which her personal well being and writing depend She is a modernist who has defined herself as an artist with the occasionally painful recognition that all else must finally be subordinated to her writing Her journal After the Stroke makes clear that when she cannot write she stands on the edge of the abyss of nonbeing These interviews offer Sarton's readers the model of a woman who has supported herself as a writer of achievement who has made her way without the comforts of academic tenure grants or bestseller listings

Crucial Conversations May Sarton, 1994 May Sarton's provocative novel is about a wife who has outgrown her husband and after twenty seven years of marriage decides that she has had enough she is altogether believable The Atlantic

Herspace J Dianne Garner, Victoria Boynton, Jo Malin, 2014-02-25 This collection delves deeply into the power of solitude in a richly detailed exploration of the lives of women writers The essays in this fascinating volume combine literary theory autobiography performance and criticism while opening minds and expanding concepts of women's roles both in the home and within academia along the way Herspace Women Writing and Solitude begins with a discussion of the importance of solitude to the works of a variety of writers including Margaret Atwood May Sarton Virginia Woolf Marguerite Duras and Zora Neale Hurston and then moves on to an examination of the actual solitary spaces of women writers The book concludes with the stories of modern women asserting their right to a space of their own These essays full of pain and new growth lessons learned and battles fought resound with the honesty and courage the authors have found in the process of truly making their own homes Herspace examines the stereotyped spinster solitude as a process and a journey women's prison literature cars empty nests kitchen counters and other found spaces for writing the meaning of a home of one's own creating beauty in solitary settings Contributors to Herspace have made a conscious effort to integrate the personal with the academic and the result is a volume of surprising intimacy a window into the world of women writers past and present actively engaging solitude From finding and defining the muse to the identity issues of home ownership Herspace which includes Jan Wellington's essay What to Make of Missing Children A Life Slipping into Fiction winner of the 2003 NCTE Donald Murray Prize for the best creative essay about teaching and or writing published during the preceding year provides you with the perspectives of women who are living these issues As the editors write The solitary space itself enables the writing process protects it And women more than men need this enabling protection Women need to claim their own space to bargain and plan and keep out of sight that solitary space in which to commune with their thoughts and feelings to experience their creative process intimately Herspace explores these women's experiences revealing the unique creativity that comes from solitude A House of Gathering Marilyn Kallet,1993 May Sarton has been writing and publishing poetry for over sixty years A House of Gathering gives her poetry long overdue critical attention and discusses Sarton s place among modern and contemporary world authors As working poets the contributors offer knowledgeable discussions of Sarton s craft The essays cover a broad range of topics from Pastan s memoirs of Sarton as her teacher at Radcliffe in the 1950s to Charlotte Mandel s close scrutiny of Sarton s poetic forms in her earliest collections to Bobby Caudle Rogers s consideration of the poetic sequence as a form in contemporary American poetry to Keith Norris s reading of Sarton as a postmodernist William Stafford s essay on Sarton s A Private Mythology offers eloquent testimony as to the poet s breakthrough in mid career In addition A House of Gathering includes an original interview with May Sarton a recent poem Friendship and Illness working drafts for Old Lovers at the Ballet a letter from Sarton to H D and several original photographs These essays will appeal to readers interested in poetry and literature in general in women s studies and in May Sarton The Older

Woman in Recent Fiction Zoe Brennan,2014-12-09 This critical study explores late twentieth century novels by women writers including Doris Lessing May Sarton and Barbara Pym that feature female protagonists over the age of sixty These novels discourses on aging contrast with those largely pejorative ones that dominate Western society They break the silence that normally surrounds the lives of the aged and this book investigates how older female protagonists are represented in relation to areas such as sexuality dependence and everyday life Beginning with an investigation of popular opinions about aging and a survey of hypotheses from disciplines including gerontology psychology and feminism the text reviews literary critical attitudes toward fictions of aging analyzes representations of physically dependent characters whose anger over their failing bodies is often eased by relationships with their female friends discusses how paradigms of female sexuality exclude the possibility of older women being sexually desirable examines characters that live a contented life finding a more polemical side to them than is noted in more conventional literary critiques and analyzes the aged sleuth in classical detective fiction Using the Greek Goddesses to Create a Well-Lived Life for Women Martha Beck,2019-01-15 This book brings to life the meaning of the stories of the seven goddesses of Greek mythology Each goddess represents a sacred calling a way of life whose goal is to live for the sake of something greater than oneself Athena is the goddess of wisdom and justice Artemis is the woods woman who protects the natural world Demeter is the goddess of the fertility of the earth and the birth and nurturing of children Hera is the wife of Zeus the king who dedicates her life to creating a high quality of public life through nurturing various community activities Aphrodite is the goddess of creativity Persephone is the victim who was raped by Hades and abducted to the underworld where she punishes those who victimized others while alive and Hestia is the contemplative she who reflects upon human affairs and sees how all the parts fit a larger whole The book will allow readers to recognize themselves and their own sacred passions in these stories Once recognized women can educate themselves and each other They can use the wisdom represented in Greek mythology to create meaningful and complete lives in the context of a culture that is still dominated by men and their passions In this way women will be liberated to do everything they can to leave a better world behind for their children grandchildren and future generations The Norton Anthology of Literature by Women: Early twentieth-century through contemporary Sandra M. Gilbert,Susan Gubar,2007 Long the standard teaching anthology the landmark Norton Anthology of Literature by Women has introduced generations of readers to the rich variety of women s writing in English May Sarton Selected Letters 1955 To 1995 May Sarton,2002-06-04 All her life May Sarton carried on a voluminous private correspondence with family friends and lovers Early childhood into middle age covers topics of theater study travel teaching and the anguish as World War II approaches Later joys of flowers affection for animals and illustrious acquaintances and intimates both here and abroad are shown

The Contemporary Novel Irving Adelman,Rita Dworkin,1997-10-09 In this new edition what was already an expansive work has been updated and further enlarged to include information not only on American and British novelists but also on writers in English from around the world In Their Own Words Jim McWilliams,2002 May Sarton Lenora P. Blouin,2000 In her third bibliography of Sarton s work Blouin an independent research librarian and bibliographer delineates Sarton s writings in their various genres along with their critical response The primary sources section arranges all works chronologically by genre with the exception of poems not in volumes of poetry poetry and prose in anthologies and translations all arranged alphabetically The expanded secondary sources section now includes reviews of works also by genre and separates articles with substantial critical content from book reviews and biographical or more general pieces Also included are reviews of major critical studies published in the last 20 years a section for special editions and an appendix which lists individual poems alphabetically by title followed by location Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Conversations Hannah Ward,Jennifer Wild,1997 The Longman Anthology of Women's Literature Mary K.
