The Search for Heinrich Stief Les Bowser, 2001. Heinrich and Regina Stief left their homeland in 1749 and settled in Pennsylvania. From there they and a small band of fellow settlers migrated to the rough terrain around New Brunswick's Peticodiac River. Faced with starvation, frigid winters, and abandonment by their sponsors, among them Benjamin Franklin, the settlers defied the odds by not only surviving but prospering. Steeves' descendants now number upwards of 150,000 worldwide. Heinrich's tale has been told so many times that its parts have become legend. From the stories his earliest descendants told around the fire to the ones family historians have written and published since then, the facts surrounding Heinrich Stief, his roots, and his exploits have become confused, murky, and half-remembered. Certain pieces of the puzzle have always eluded genealogists. Recently a Stief family descendant with a knack for research and more than his share of luck has uncovered a piece of history that is as significant as it was elusive. Here then is Heinrich Stief's story told as never before.
