Coop Himmelblau, Architecture is Now Coop Himmelblau, 1983      Covering + Exposing Frank Werner, 2000-01-01

Since 1968 Coop Himmelblau has been practicing a form of architecture which provocatively breaks away from traditional structures to expose inherent tensions. The principles of deconstructivism can be seen in many of their most famous buildings and projects: the seminal Falkestrasse roof extension in Vienna, the east wing of the museum in Groningen, the JVC New Urban Entertainment Centre in Mexico, the spectacular UFA cinema centre in Dresden, and the SEG residential tower in Vienna. Their work has been the subject of international exhibitions in New York, Los Angeles, and Chicago, and in 1996 they represented Austria in the Venice Biennale.

Get Off of My Cloud Martina Kandeler-Fritsch, Thomas Kramer, 2005

Coop Himmelblau was founded in 1968 in Vienna, Austria, by Wolf D. Prix and Helmut Swiczinsky, and has since then continued to work within the fields of urbanism, architecture, design, and art. They design each project based on a series of intense discussions which will be presented in this text.

Coop Himmelblau, Wolf Prix and Helmut Swiczinsky Sara Richardson, 1989      Coop Himmelblau Alvin Boyarsky, Wolf D. Prix, Michael Sorkin, Helmut Swiczinsky, 1988

Exquisite Corpse Michael Sorkin, 1991

Exquisite Corpse was a game played by the surrealists in which someone drew on a piece of paper, folded it, and passed it to the next person to draw on. Finally, the sheet was opened to reveal a calculated yet random composition. In this entertaining and provocative book, Michael Sorkin suggests that cities are similarly assembled by many players acting with varying autonomy in a complicit framework. An unfolding terrain of invention, the city is also a means of accommodating disparity of contextualizing, sometimes startling juxtapositions. Sorkin's aim is to widen the debate about the creation of buildings beyond the immediate issues of technology and design. He discusses the politics and culture of architecture with daring, often devastating observations about the institutions and personalities who have dominated the profession over the past decade. Their preoccupation with the empty style of beach houses and Disneyland has consistently trivialized the full constructive scope of contemporary architecture's possibilities. Sorkin's interventions range from the development scandals of New York, where skyscrapers stand at the intersection between grid and greed, through the deconstructivist architectural culture of Los Angeles to the work and ideas of architects, developers, and critics such as Alvar Aalto, Norman Foster, Paul Goldberger, Michael Graves, Coop Himmelblau, Philip Johnson, Leon Krier, Frank Lloyd Wright, Richard Rogers, Carlo Scarpa, James Stirling, Donald Trump, Tom Wolfe, and Lebbeus Woods. Throughout, Sorkin combines stinging polemic with a powerful call for a rebirth of architecture that is visionary and experimental, a recuperated dreamy science.
