Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development Effective Technology for Gender Equity in Business and Organizations

Many young people around the world especially the disadvantaged are leaving school without the skills they need to thrive in society and find decent jobs As well as thwarting young people s hopes these education failures are jeopardizing equitable economic growth and social cohesion and preventing many countries from reaping the potential benefits of their growing youth populations The 2012 Education for All Global Monitoring Report examines how skills development programmes can be improved to boost young people s opportunities for decent jobs and better lives Publisher s description Social and Economic Effects of Community Wireless Networks and Infrastructures Abdelaal, Abdelnasser, 2013-02-28 It is surprising to think that in today's rapidly evolving world of technology over half of the globe still does not have access to high speed internet. Creating community wireless networks has in the past been a way to provide remote communities with internet and network access. Social and Economic Effects of Community Wireless Networks and Infrastructures highlights the successes of community wireless networks but also boldly addresses the potential risk factors and broader socioeconomic concerns. This publication's exploration of previous successes and failures, various designs and potential challenges with CWNs makes it a valuable resource for researchers, practitioners, vendors and activists.

African Youth and the Persistence of Marginalization Danielle Resnick, James Thurlow, 2015-04-10. The much heralded growth and transformation of many economies in sub-Saharan Africa over the last decade continues to receive prominent attention in academic scholarship and among policy practitioners. An apparent feature about this transformation however is that Africa's youth appear to have been left out. This book critically examines the extent and consequences of the marginalization of African youth. It questions conventional wisdoms about data trends, aspirational goals and common policy interventions surrounding Africa's youth that have been variously propagated in both the development studies literature and in mainstream donor policy reports. The book explores macro trends from both a temporal and cross regional perspective in order to highlight what is distinct about contemporary African youth and whether their prospects and behaviours do actually vary from their counterparts in other regions of the world or from previous generations of African youth. Such studies include cross country analyses of youth employment patterns and modes of political participation in depth examination of the behaviours and aspirations of the urban youth and critical reflections on the impact of rural employment initiatives, vocational education and learnership programmes. The incorporation of multiple methods and disciplines as well as its attention to policy issues ensures that the book will be of great interest to graduate students, researchers and professional researchers whose work lies at the intersection of African area studies and development studies as well as those focused on development economics, political science and public policy and administration.

National gender profile of agriculture and rural livelihoods Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2022-05-19. National gender profile of agriculture and rural livelihoods: the Republic of Moldova reflects FAO's commitment to promoting gender equality while integrating a gender perspective into its operations. The report focuses on the intersections of gender, agriculture and rural development and presents a snapshot of critical gender-based inequalities and their consequences for agricultural production and rural livelihoods in the Republic of Moldova. A picture of significant gender gaps in terms of the rural population's access to educational and employment opportunities and social services is presented. In the area of agricultural production, women have much more limited access to and control over vital resources including land, extension and advisory services and irrigation. The assessment includes recommendations on enhancing agriculture and developing rural communities with a gender sensitive perspective, taking into consideration gender roles and differences between women and men in access to
