Activism and the Policy Process Anna Yeatman,2020-07-29 Activists protecting rainforests demanding increased childcare developing local community housing campaigning for AIDS funding or protecting consumers are as much part of the political landscape as the media parliament peak industry groups political parties or trade unions This collection explores the idea of policy activism and its relationship to the processes that not only set but implement and deliver the policy agenda Policy activists operate both inside and outside government They include community based organisers activist bureaucrats service providers and professionals Policy activism has been barely explored in existing literature This collection puts the idea on the map It is an innovative contribution to the literature using case studies across a broad range of policy areas This volume opens the window on an aspect of the policy process that rarely receives attention from students of politics or policy anywhere across the globe The framework presented and the cases included in these pages provide a glimpse of the workings of a complex democracy describing a range of actors responding creatively to the dynamics of social political and economic change It is fascinating to see how policy functions and social values appear to be more important to these processes than the formal structures of the government in which they are placed Beryl A Radin Professor of Public Administration and Policy State University of New York at Albany
