Conservation Monique Borgerhoff Mulder, Peter Coppolillo, 2005 Publisher Description Conservation Monique Borgerhoff Mulder, Peter Coppolillo, 2005 Tracing the historical roots of modern conservation thought practice this book explores current perspectives from evolutionary community ecology conservation biology anthropology political ecology economics and policy Conservation Cram101 Textbook Reviews, & Coppolillo Mulder & Coppolillo, Coppolillo, 2007-08 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all of the testable terms concepts persons places and events from the textbook are included Cram101 Just the FACTS101 studyguides give all of the outlines highlights notes and quizzes for your textbook with optional online comprehensive practice tests Only Cram101 is Textbook Specific Accompanys 9780691049809 9780691049793 Economic Development in Rural Sector Jody Gordon, 2019-04-19 The history of economic development of countries show that there have been countless examples of institutional agencies that have played pivotal role in fulfilling certain developmental activities Cooperation as an institution is used in various countries as instrument of economic growth The economic performance of rural regions around the world is lagging despite efforts by governments and local leaders to address the problem Rural economic development should focus on the unique strengths of each area rather than concentrating on ameliorating generic weaknesses Rural economic development should address and harness the efficient spatial distribution of economic activity rather than attempt to replicate urban economies Rural development aims at improving rural people s livelihoods in an equitable and sustainable manner both socially and environmentally through better access to assets and services and control over productive capital that enable them to improve their livelihoods on a sustainable and equitable basis It is certain that the valuable contributions views and suggestions of the researchers will be of immense help to the future researchers policy makers administrators and social thinkers in solving the problem of poverty unemployment and to achieve economic development of the country as well as the state especially in rural sector renewing the existing employment generating programmes The objective underlying the publication of this book is therefore to attract the attention of those interested in and concerned with the growth and progress of agricultural sector in our country

Respect and Responsibility in Pacific Coast Indigenous Nations E. N. Anderson, Raymond Pierotti, 2022-10-12 This book examines ways of conserving managing and interacting with plant and animal resources by Native American cultural groups of the Pacific Coast of North America from Alaska to California These practices helped them maintain and restore ecological balance for thousands of years Building upon the authors and others previous works the book brings in perspectives from ethnography and marine evolutionary ecology The core of the book consists of Native American testimony myths tales speeches and other texts which are treated from an ecological viewpoint The focus on animals and in depth research on stories especially early recordings of texts set this book apart The book is divided into two parts covering the Northwest Coast and California It then follows the division in lifestyle between groups dependent largely on fish and largely on seed crops It discusses how the survival of these cultures functions in the contemporary world as First Nations demand recognition and restoration of their ancestral rights and resource management practices Macroeconomics Sammy Gentry & Tanner Wilkerson, 2018-08-18 Macroeconomics is a branch of economics dealing with the performance structure behavior and decision making of an economy as a whole This includes national regional and global economies Macroeconomics and microeconomics a pair of terms coined by Ragnar Frisch are the two most general fields in economics In contrast to macroeconomics microeconomics is the branch of economics that studies the behavior of individuals and firms in making decisions and the interactions among these individuals and firms in narrowly defined markets Macroeconomics is the economics subfield of study that considers aggregate behaviour i e the study of the sum of individual economic decisions In other words it is the study of the entire economy in terms of the total amount of goods and services produced total income earned the level of employment of productive resources and the general behaviour of prices Macroeconomics can be used to analyse how best to influence government policy goals The present book provides all primary aspects of macroeconomics elaborately It explains the relationships between macroeconomic variables and their implications for macroeconomic policy It also aims to develop a broad coherent framework for thinking about the fundamental problems in macroeconomics The book has been supplemented with figures tables and equations wherever required and presented in a lucid manner for easy understanding by the readers The book will be found highly useful by students and teachers of economics Cultures of Doing Good Amanda Lashaw, Christian Vannier, Steven Sampson, 2017-12-05 Anthropological field studies of nongovernmental organizations NGOs in their unique cultural and political contexts Cultures of Doing Good Anthropologists and NGOs serves as a foundational text to advance a growing subfield of social science inquiry the anthropology of nongovernmental organizations NGOs Thorough introductory chapters provide a short history of NGO anthropology address how the study of NGOs contributes to anthropology more broadly and examine ways that anthropological studies of NGOs expand research agendas spawned by other disciplines In addition the theoretical concepts and debates that have anchored the analysis of NGOs since they entered scholarly discourse after World War II are explained The wide ranging volume is organized into thematic parts Changing Landscapes of Power Doing Good Work and Methodological Challenges of NGO Anthropology Each part is introduced by an original reflective essay that contextualizes and links the themes of each chapter to broader bodies of research and to theoretical and methodological debates A concluding chapter synthesizes how current lines of inquiry consolidate and advance the first generation of anthropological NGO studies highlighting new and promising directions in this field In contrast to studies about surveys of NGOs that cover a single issue or region this book offers a survey of NGO dynamics in varied cultural and political settings The chapters herein cover NGO life in Tanzania Serbia the Czech Republic Egypt Peru the United States and India The diverse institutional worlds and networks include feminist activism international aid donors USAID democracy experts Romani housing activism academic gender studies volunteer tourism Jewish philanthropy Islamic faith based development child welfare women s legal arbitration and environmental conservation The collection explores issues such as normative democratic civic engagement elitism and professionalization the governance of feminist advocacy disciplining religion the politics of philanthropic neutrality NGO tourism and consumption blurred boundaries between anthropologists as researchers and activists and barriers to producing critical NGO ethnographies The Ethics of Anthropology and Amerindian Research Richard J. Chacon,Rubén G. Mendoza,2011-12-14

The decision to publish scholarly findings bearing on the question of Amerindian environmental degradation warfare and or violence is one that weighs heavily on anthropologists This burden stems from the fact that documentation of this may render descendant communities vulnerable to a host of predatory agendas and hostile modern forces Consequently some anthropologists and community advocates alike argue that such culturally and socially sensitive and thereby politically volatile information regarding Amerindian induced environmental degradation and warfare should not be reported This admonition presents a conundrum for anthropologists and other social scientists employed in the academy or who work at the behest of tribal entities This work documents the various ethical dilemmas that confront anthropologists and researchers in general when investigating Amerindian communities The contributions to this volume explore the ramifications of reporting and specifically of non reporting instances of environmental degradation and warfare among Amerindians Collectively the contributions in this volume which extend across the disciplines of archaeology anthropology ethnohistory ethnic studies philosophy and medicine argue that the non reporting of environmental mismanagement and violence in Amerindian communities generally harms not only the field of anthropology but the Amerindian populations themselves

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Biodiversity Justin Garson,Anya Plutynski,Sahotra Sarkar,2016-10-04 Biological diversity or biodiversity is the degree of variation of life within an ecosystem It is a relatively new topic of study but has grown enormously in recent years Because of its interdisciplinary nature the very concept of biodiversity is the subject of debate amongst philosophers biologists geographers and environmentalists The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Biodiversity is an outstanding reference source to the key topics and debates in this exciting subject Comprising twenty three chapters by a team of international contributors the Handbook is divided into six parts Historical and sociological contexts focusing on the emergence of the term and early attempts to measure biodiversity What is biodiversity How should biodiversity be defined How can biodiversity include entities at the edge of its boundaries including microbial diversity and genetically engineered organisms Why protect biodiversity What can traditional environmental ethics contribute to biodiversity Topics covered include anthropocentrism intrinsic value and ethical controversies surrounding the economics of biodiversity Measurement and methodology including decision theory and conservation the use of indicators for biodiversity and the changing use of genetics in biodiversity conservation Social contexts and global justice including conservation and community conflicts and biodiversity and cultural values Biodiversity and other environmental values How does biodiversity relate to other values like ecological restoration or ecological sustainability Essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy environmental science and environmental studies and conservation management it will also be extremely useful to those studying biodiversity in subjects such as biology and geography

Environmental Social Sciences Ismael Vaccaro, Eric Alden Smith, Shankar Aswani, 2010-11-11 The relationship between human communities and the environment is extremely complex In order to resolve the issues involved with this relationship interdisciplinary research combining natural sciences social sciences and humanities is necessary In this 2010 book specialists summarise methods and research strategies for various aspects of social research devoted to environmental issues Each chapter is illustrated with ethnographic and environmental examples ranging from Australia to Amazonia from Madagascar to the United States and from prehistoric and historic cases to contemporary rural and urban ones It deals with climate change deforestation environmental knowledge natural reserves politics and ownership of natural resources and the effect of differing spatial and temporal scales Contributing to the intellectual project of interdisciplinary environmental social science this book shows the possibilities social science can provide to environmental studies and to larger global problems and thus will be of equal interest to social and natural scientists and policy makers

The Journal of Environment & Development, 2008 The Archaeology of Anthropogenic Environments Rebecca M. Dean, 2010 Conservation Paul Jepson, Richard J. Ladle, 2010-02 In this age of unparalleled environmental change the need to preserve our fauna and flora has never been so urgent Fortunately the ceaseless erosion of nature is counterbalanced by the desire of people to do something about it Encyclopedia of Environment and Society Paul Robbins, 2007-08-27 As befits the topic this beautifully packaged wonderfully illustrated interdisciplinary resource has more than 1200 entries written by specialists A helpful reader's guide groups topics like agriculture conservation and ecology movements and regulations politics pollution and society A resource guide chronology glossary and list of the UN's economic indicators complete the set Library Journal this important work gives a well focused snapshot of environmentalism in the early 21st Century and it will remain valuable into the future both for its content and as a yardstick to measure progress toward sustainability and conservation Summing Up Recommended Undergraduates and general readers CHOICE Booklist Editors Choice 2008 This superb interdisciplinary work should find a place on the shelves of every public and academic library that has the least bit of interest in environment issues which should mean just about all Booklist Starred Review Where does the environment leave off and society begin When expanding production and consumption drives greenhouse gas emissions that warm the planet which in turn influence the conditions of economic expansion it is unclear where the climate ends and the economy begins This fact is not new to our era however our social and natural sciences have only recently come to grips with the incredible complexity of the world described by understanding the environment and society as being of a piece As a result in the last decade there has been an unprecedented explosion of new concepts theories facts and techniques that follow from such an understanding The Encyclopedia of Environment and Society brings together multiplying issues concepts theories examples problems and policies with the goal of clearly explicating an emerging way of thinking about people and nature With more than 1 200 entries written by experts from incredibly diverse fields this innovative resource is a first step toward diving into the deep pool of emerging knowledge The five volumes of this Encyclopedia represent more than a catalogue of terms Rather they capture the spirit of the moment a fascinating time when global warming and genetic engineering represent only two of the most obvious examples of socio environmental issues Key Features Examines many new ideas about how the world works what creates the daunting problems of our time and how such issues might be addressed whether by regulation markets or new ethics Demonstrates how theories of environmental management based on market efficiency may not be easily reconciled with those that focus on population and both may certainly diverge from those centering on ethics justice or labor Offers contributions from experts in their fields of specialty including geographers political scientists chemists anthropologists medical practitioners development experts and sociologists among many others Explores the emerging socio environmental problems that we face in the next century as well as the shifting and expanding theoretical tools available for tackling these problems Covers regions of North America in greater detail but also provides a comprehensive picture that approaches as effectively as possible a cohesive global vision Key Themes Agriculture Animals Biology and Chemistry Climate Conservation and Ecology Countries Geography History Movements and Regulations Organizations People Politics Pollution Society Packed with essential and up to date information on the state of the global socio environment the Encyclopedia of Environment and Society is a time capsule of its historic moment and a record of where we stand at the start of the 21st century making it a must have resource for any library These inspiring volumes provide an opportunity for more new ways of thinking behaving and living in a more than human world
