Considering Children's Art Brenda S. Engel, 1995      Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, Maulfry Worthington, 2006-08-30 In Case Study 5 a grassroots Children's Mathematics Network group the initiative supported the participants in their professional change by giving them a space for the detailed and joint consideration of children's mathematical thinking Another significant feature of this initiative is its focus on careful consideration and analysis of children's mathematics and the ways in which professionals can support and encourage the children's mathematical thinking and reasoning The standard of the mathematical understanding thinking and reasoning that the displays revealed was far higher than the specified curriculum objectives for children of this age Researching Effective CPD in Mathematics Education RECME project NCETM 2009 The review also plays great score by play based learning of a mathematical nature and makes specific recommendations regarding early mark making as a precursor to abstract mathematical symbolism Section 115 features children's mathematical graphics and emphasises The role of mark making in children's cognitive development is set out in the taxonomy Carruthers and Worthington 2006 The report recommends that local authorities leaders managers and head teachers should provide a culture with a significant focus on mathematical mark making and a learning environment that encourages children to choose to use their own mathematical graphics to support their mathematical thinking and processes The Williams Maths Review DCSF 2008 At the very heart of the success of the book is the authors ability to see mathematics through young children's eyes by listening to and reflecting on the constant efforts made by children to make sense of their world This is a liberating book which proposes that the teaching of mathematics could and should be a highly creative and enjoyable process Branwen Llewelyn Jones Early Years Consultant at PACE Ltd TACTYC Ground breaking To single out any one chapter would be unfair because there is something thought provoking and inspirational throughout If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon Times Educational Supplement I first read Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning a couple of years ago and it had an immediate impact on my own thinking and teaching and the work I do with trainee teachers I'm sure you will find it compelling reading too I think it has the potential to change in a fundamental way how we think about early mathematical development Lynne McClure Editor Math Coordinator's File Mathematics Association In their exceptionally readable and informative book Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning Carruthers and Worthington 2006 draw attention to one of the main goals of early years teaching that is to help children make links between the mathematics they have already encountered and continue to engage with at home and the more abstract mathematics of the school These authors suggest that by encouraging children to represent mathematical ideas in their own ways and crucially by talking to the pupils about the marks they have made we are given a window onto their thinking that may otherwise be inaccessible Liz Pumphrey NRICH This book draws on the authors many years of teaching children aged three to eight years and also on their extensive research with children in the home nursery and school The authors explain the development and range of young children's mathematical marks and visual representations showing how children make mental connections between their own early marks and subsequent abstract mathematical symbolism and go on to develop their own written methods Combining theory and practice this acclaimed book demonstrates how children's own mathematical graphics are highly creative and show deep levels of thinking The authors show how this is the key to success in school mathematics and to higher levels of achievement The authors are winners of TACTYC's 2003 Jenefer Joseph Award for the Creative Arts 3-8 awarded for their innovative work with children on mathematical graphics Making Space for Active Learning Anne C. Martin, Ellen Schwartz, 2015-04-28 This powerful collection will inspire new and veteran teachers to make space for children's interests for teaching as relational and intellectual work and for new insights and ideas The authors introduce the Prospect Center's Descriptive Review of Practice a collaborative inquiry process that provides an opportunity for teachers to examine their practice and gain new perspectives from other participants The contributors to this volume respond to each child's modes of thinking as they develop curriculum or find wiggle room in curricula they are given By demonstrating how it is possible to pursue careful knowledge of craft this book offers ways of teaching that allow for continuing growth and change Book Features An inquiry methodology that assists teachers to reflect on the classroom and develop curriculum that responds to children s interests and needs Specific examples of a variety of sources teachers can draw on and think about to improve practice A method of data collection that can inform practice while allowing for the unevenness messiness and essential humanness of teaching and learning Making Space for Active Learning is a collection that stands alone and gets to the heart of what we mean by learning and teaching Each contribution reminded me of how much I miss being in the classroom and how much we re missing in current so called school reform discourse Keep this book handy A chapter at a time will restore some needed sanity about what s important Deborah Meier author and education activist This book is a moving and powerful collection of teachers work that holds the possibility of inspiring and changing new teachers practice Kathy Schultz Dean and Professor School of Education Mills College This book will add significantly to the expanding and important literature about The Prospect Processes which were developed over many years at the Prospect School and Center in Vermont The chapters all by experienced educators profit from the back and forth between inquiry and stories of classroom life each informing the other Brenda S Engel associate professor retired Lesley University Young Children as Artists Suzy Tutchell,2014-04-29 From the moment a child is born they interact with the sensory world looking at colours feeling textures constructing mental and physical images of what they see and experience Within all early years settings and into primary school the aim for the practitioner is to provide as many opportunities as possible to stimulate excite and ignite the visual and tactile imagination of the young children they teach Young Children as Artists considers how art can be managed understood and relished as an essential ingredient towards the creative potential of each unique young child The book focuses on how to enjoy celebrate and extend what a young child can do in art and show how engaged adults and the wider school community can become confident participants in the process of early years art making Full of practical advice on to how to design develop resource and extend art and design environments within the early years setting the book covers Developing skills for positive and participative adult interaction and engagement Understanding and analysing child involvement in art Planning for opportunities and responding to observation and schema in art and design Practical suggestions for activities and resources inside and out Ideas to explore sensory development and awareness Ways to manage and savour the art transition into KS1 Ways to encourage parental participation and understanding of the art process with their children Opportunities to engage with practising artists This book will help to invigorate the art experiences offered in your early years setting by considering what is accessible individual inspiring and meaningful for young children and how you can best support their formative paths of enquiry Young Children ,1998 Dimensions of Early Childhood ,2000 Growing Artists Joan Bouza Koster,2001 This well organized readable text provides the tools to develop rich meaningful activities that integrate art into the total educational experience for young children It specifically focuses on developmentally appropriate teaching practices best suited for use with children ages 1 1 2 through 8 Multiple intelligences theory the Reggio Emilia experience artistic development the creative process thematic teaching and the project approach form the framework for designing safe open ended art experiences that develop the child s ability to look at talk about and create art This text is designed for both those preparing to enter the early childhood fields as well as those who wish to incorporate art more fully into their early childhood programs Journal of Nursery Education ,1995 Approaches to Early Childhood and Elementary Education Francis Wardle,2009 This book covers a vast range of different philosophical and practical approaches to early education from Free Open schools and Waldorf education to the Core Curriculum and the learning standards approach of the U S federal No Child Left Behind Act By the early years it is meant the ages from infancy through the end of elementary school While some of the approaches such as Montessori and Reggio Emilia are best known for the pre school years and the standards approach is best know for American K 12 education there is more and more overlap and merging across early childhood and elementary education approaches world wide All the approaches covered in this text can be seen in programs from infancy through the end of elementary school even if each may focus on a certain age within this time frame We are seeing major changes in infant pre kindergarten and elementary school education approaches world wide These changes are the result of several major factors including the extensive and powerful new brain research globalisation of markets ideas and the Internet rapid demographic shifts in many developed countries and a move to more universal education in developing countries and more universal pre school programs in developed countries Thus the focus of this book in describing a variety of current education approaches with a detailed description of their historical and philosophical foundations and their current practice is very timely The Art of Awareness Debbie Curtis,Deb Curtis,Margie Carter,2000 The authors explain that the key to observing children is to know that observation is more than just a teaching technique Observing children closely provides a new way of thinking about learning and teaching Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work National Conference on Social Welfare,1886 The Colorado School Journal Aaron Gove,Dorus Reuben Hatch,Harry McWhirter Barrett,Nathan B. Coy,Henry Burnside Smith,William Barnard Mooney,1896 A Child Goes Forth Barbara J. Taylor,2004 For Curriculum in Early Childhood courses With its coverage organized around eleven areas of experience that are critical to a child s development this practical text shows prospective teachers of children ages 2 to 5 how the basic characteristics of young children should influence instructional planning curriculum and expectations Coverage incorporates the best of traditional methods and the brightest ideas of today s cutting edge thinkers into a cohesive presentation that emphasizes the individuality of each child and the idea that a relaxed unstructured yet carefully planned atmosphere is most conducive to effective teaching The result is a volume of solid practical advice and encouragement for students who love children and want to help them go forth successfully *Papers and Proceedings of the ...
