Constance Markievicz Anne Haverty, Stories from Irish History James M Bourke,2021-12-03 Stories from Irish History is a collection of 13 stories based on selected episodes in Irish history some of which are unremembered They are historical fiction a popular modern genre which has great appeal for many readers Even though the stories are partly fictional they are based on extensive historical research We have to go back in time in order to discover ourselves and our culture We do not have to live in the past but neither should we deny it Our history is all around us in the very air we breathe not only in our history books but in the hills and valleys in our lore and literature in our art and architecture in our songs and poetry We know that the past is never past We need to know who we are and who we used to be We need to know about our cultural heritage our pre history our lore our local history and the story behind placenames Ireland is a nation of story tellers and historical fiction keeps that tradition alive not only in Ireland but also among the Irish diaspora in the UK USA Canada Australia and New Zealand Irish Women and Nationalism Louise Ryan,Margaret Ward,2019-09-16 Studies of Irish nationalism have been primarily historical in scope and overwhelmingly male in content Too often the shadow of the gunman has dominated Little recognition has been given to the part women have played yet over the centuries they have undertaken a variety of roles as combatants prisoners writers and politicians In this exciting new book the full range of women s contribution to the Irish nationalist movement is explored by writers whose interests range from the historical and sociological to the literary and cultural From the little known contribution of women to the earliest nationalist uprisings of the 1600s and 1700s to their active participation in the republican campaigns of the twentieth century different chapters consider the changing contexts of female militancy and the challenge this has posed to masculine images and structures Using a wide range of sources including textual analysis archives and documents newspapers and autobiographies interviews and action research individual writers examine sensitive and highly complex debates around women s role in situations of conflict At the cutting edge of contemporary scholarship this is a major contribution to wider feminist debates about the gendering of nationalism raising questions about the extent to which women s rights demands and concerns can ever be fully accommodated within nationalist movements A Terrible Beauty Diana Norman,1987
