Constantin Guys Karen W. Smith, 1978 Constantin Guys Karen Woodbridge Smith, 1978 Constantin Guys, Crimean War Drawings 1854- 1856 , 1978 The Crimean War and Cultural Memory Sima Godfrey, 2023-08-31 The Crimean War 1854-56 is widely considered the first modern war with its tactical use of railways telegraphs and battleships its long range rifles and its notorious trenches precursors of the Great War It is also the first media war the first to know the impact of a correspondent on the field of battle and the first to be documented in photographs No one however including the French themselves seems to remember that France was there fighting in Crimea losing 95 000 soldiers and leading the Allied campaign to victory It would seem that the Crimean War has no place in the canon of culturally retained historical events that define modern French identity Looking at literature art theatre material objects and medical reports The Crimean War and Cultural Memory considers how the Crimean War was and was not represented in French cultural history in the second half of the nineteenth century Ultimately the book illuminates the forgotten traces that the Crimean War left on the French cultural landscape The Final Spectacle Julia Thoma, 2019-03-18 The book examines military paintings in France in the 1850s and 1860s when the genre experienced a new lease of life It recreates the paintings art historical historical and social context and considers the explosion of military subjects in their own right rather than as a consequence of war reporting The paintings entertainment value effectively communicated political agendas catering to the emerging phenomenon of mass spectatorship and giving rise to innovative compositions The book also looks at the other side of the artistic spectrum proposing that smaller formats adapted the sentimental techniques of military memoirs to focus on the soldiers experiences of warfare and to elicit a critique of war The Ultimate Spectacle Ulrich Keller, 2013-10-18 Chloroform telegraphy steamships and rifles were distinctly modern features of the Crimean War Covered by a large corps of reporters illustrators and cameramen it also became the first media war in history For the benefit of the ubiquitous artists and correspondents both the domestic events were carefully staged giving the Crimean War an aesthetically alluring even spectacular character With their exclusive focus on written sources historians have consistently overlooked this visual dimension of the Crimean War Photo historian Ulrich Keller challenges the traditional literary bias by drawing on a wealth of pictorial materials from scientific diagrams to photographs press illustration and academic painting The result is a new and different historical account which emphasizes the careful aesthetic scripting of the war for popular mass consumption at home Fashioning the Modern Middle East Reina Lewis, Yasmine Nachabe Taan, 2021-06-03 In the first book to address the critical role of the undressed body in the formation of the modern Middle East these essays unveil contemporary struggles over nation gender modernity and post modernity Contributions from leading interdisciplinary scholars exploring gender representation photography dress and visual culture recount the role of the visible elite body in campaigns for gender and social emancipation dress histories concerning early nationalist women and men and legal frameworks used by those who seek to control the movement of gendered bodies The result is a rich picture of a historical period and cultural landscape which brings dress and visual culture back into historical narratives of the modern Middle East Recognising multiple modernities multiple imperialisms and diverse regional experiences of post colonialism Fashioning the Modern Middle East contains a range of theoretical frameworks invaluable to students of fashion studies Middle Eastern studies anthropology photography and gender Bringing forward new primary material and re investigating extant sources from new perspectives this is the essential introduction to the role of the dressed and undressed body in the formation of the modern Middle East A Poetics of Art Criticism Timothy Bell Raser,1989 Raser questions criticism s predilection for a scientific discourse arguing that aesthetic categories are better indicators of a text s literary qualities Although aesthetics has claimed subjective pleasure as its sole criterion since the time of Kant aesthetic judgments tend always to ground themselves in logic or reference In art criticism description serves as this ground and is no more productive than in Baudelaire s art criticism where it leads to poetry The Bulletin of the Cleveland Museum of Art Cleveland Museum of Art,1979 Art Libraries Journal ,1979

Picturing War in France, 1792-1856 Katie Hornstein,2018-02-06 From the walls of the Salon to the pages of weekly newspapers war imagery was immensely popular in postrevolutionary France This fascinating book studies representations of contemporary conflict in the first half of the 19th century and explores how these pictures provided citizens with an imaginative stake in wars being waged in their name As she traces the evolution of images of war from a visual form that had previously been intended for mostly elite audiences to one that was enjoyed by a much broader public over the course of the 19th century Katie Hornstein carefully considers the influence of emergent technologies and popular media such as lithography photography and panoramas on both artistic style and public taste With close readings and handsome reproductions in various media from monumental battle paintings to popular prints Picturing War in France 1792 1856 draws on contemporary art criticism war reporting and the burgeoning illustrated press to reveal the crucial role such images played in shaping modern understandings of conflict British Artists and War Peter Harrington,1993 British artists and war examines in detail the artistic inspiration and response to wars throughout the eighteenth nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The second part of British artists and war is a unique comprehensive catalogue of more than 800 surviving oil paintings depicting soldiers in battle and on campaign in public and private collections around the world including exhibition and provenance details when known Dust jacket flap Crisis of the Ottoman Empire James J. Reid,2000 This work focuses upon the military problems of the Ottoman Empire in the era 1839 to 1878 The author examines the Crimean War 1853 to 1856 from the perspective of the Ottoman army using British and French sources as well as the few available Ottoman materials Scholarship on the war has ignored this aspect but the high quality of work about the British French and Russian involvement in the war has enabled the present study to advance its own work The inability of the Ottoman high command to learn the lessons of the Crimean War led to serious defeats in the Russo Turkish War of 1877 1878 Revolts occurring in this period also receive attention While the book analyzes the nature of war in the Balkans and Anatolia its primary objective is the study of the war s social and psychological influences This perspective runs as a theme throughout the book but the author focuses on the psychological aspects in the final chapter using comparative perspectives Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. Supplement Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.). Library,1962

 Canadian - American Slavic Studies ,1980 A quarterly journal devoted to Russia and East Europe Histoire Russe ,1981 Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.). Library,1980 Art Journal ,1960
