Constructing Colonial Discourse Captain Cook At Nootka Sound:

Constructing Colonial Discourse Noel Elizabeth Currie, 2005 While Captain James Cook's South Pacific voyages have been extensively studied much less attention has been paid to his representation of the Pacific Northwest In Constructing Colonial Discourse N E Currie focuses on the month Cook spent at Nootka Sound on the west coast of Vancouver Island in 1778 during his third Pacific voyage Comparing the official 1784 edition of that voyage with his Cook's journal account made available in the scholarly edition prepared by New Zealand scholar J C Beaglehole Currie demonstrates that the representation of North America's northwest coast in the late eighteenth century was shaped as much by the publication process as by British notions of landscape natural history cannibalism and history in the new world Most recent scholarship critiques imperialist representations of the non European world while taking these published accounts at face value Constructing Colonial Discourse combines close textual analysis with the insights of postcolonial theory to critique the discursive and rhetorical strategies by which the official account of the third voyage transformed Cook into an imperial hero

Captain Cook Rediscovered David L. Nicandri, 2020-11-01 Captain Cook Rediscovered is the first modern study to frame Captain James Cook's career from a North American vantage Although Cook is inextricably linked to the South Pacific in the popular imagination his crowning navigational and scientific achievements took place in the polar regions Recognizing that Cook sailed more miles in the high latitudes of all of the world's oceans than in the tropical zone this book gives due attention to his voyages in seas and lands usually neglected David L Nicandri acknowledges the cartographic accomplishments of the Australasian first voyage but focuses on the second and third voyage discovery missions near the poles where Cook pioneered the science of iceberg and icepack formation This ground breaking book overturns an area of study that has been typically dominated by the palm tree paradigm resulting in a truly modern appraisal of Cook for the climate change era

Aboriginal Rights Claims and the Making and Remaking of History Arthur J. Ray, 2016-01-06 How research into Indigenous rights claims is influenced by and in turn changes Indigenous law and claims legislation The Rights of Indigenous Peoples in Marine Areas Stephen Allen, Nigel Bankes, Øyvind Ravna, 2019-09-19 The question of what rights might be afforded to Indigenous peoples has preoccupied the municipal legal systems of settler states since the earliest colonial encounters As a result of sustained institutional initiatives many national legal regimes and the international legal order accept that Indigenous peoples possess an extensive array of legal rights However despite this development claims advanced by Indigenous peoples relating to rights to marine spaces have been largely opposed This book offers the first sustained study of these rights and their reception within modern legal systems Taking a three part approach it looks firstly at the international aspects of Indigenous entitlements in marine spaces It then goes on to explore specific country examples before looking at some interdisciplinary themes of crucial importance to the question of the recognition of the rights of Indigenous peoples in marine settings Drawing on the expertise of leading scholars this is a rigorous and long overdue exploration of a significant gap in the literature The Death of Captain Cook Glyndwr Williams, 2008 In a style that is more detective story than conventional biography Williams explores the multiple narratives of Cook's death In short Williams examines the story of Cook's progress from obscurity to fame and eventually to infamy a story that until now has never been fully told Science in the Age of Baroque Ofer Gal, Raz Chen-Morris, 2012-11-28 This volume examines the New Science of the 17th century in the context of Baroque culture analysing its emergence as an integral part of the high culture of the period The collected essays explore themes common to the new practices of knowledge production and the rapidly changing culture surrounding them as well as the obsessions anxieties and aspirations they share such as the foundations of order the power and peril of mediation and the conflation of the natural and the artificial The essays also take on the historiographical issues involved the characterization of culture in general and culture of knowledge in particular the use of generalizations like Baroque and the status of such categories and the role of these in untangling the historical complexities of the tumultuous 17th century The canonical protagonists of the Scientific Revolution are considered and so are some obscure and suppressed figures Galileo side by side with Scheiner Torricelli together with Kircher Newton as well as Scilla The coupling of Baroque and Science defies both the still triumphalist historiographies of the Scientific Revolution and the slight embarrassment that the Baroque represents for most cultural national histories of Western Europe It signals a methodological interest in tensions and dilemmas rather than self-affirming narratives of success and failure and provides an opportunity for reflective critique of our historical categories which is valuable in its own right The Hawaiian Journal of History Linda K. Menton, 2004-12-20 The Hawaiian Journal of History, 2006 Roggewein's Giants Molly Elizabeth Ball, 2008 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 Captain Cook at Nootka Sound and Some Questions of Colonial Discourse Noel Elizabeth Currie, 1994 Krieg und Literatur, 2007 Recherches Théâtrales Au Canada, 2000 America, History and Life, 1996 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide American Doctoral Dissertations, 1994 Literature Criticism from 1400 to 1800 Michael Lablanc, 2003-12 Presents literary criticism on the works of writers of the period 1400 1800 Critical essays are selected from leading sources including published journals magazines books reviews diaries broadsheets pamphlets and scholarly papers Criticism includes early views from the author's lifetime as well as later views including extensive collections of contemporary analysis The Publishers Weekly, 1905 Intertidal Morris and Helen Belkin Art Gallery, 2005 Publishers Weekly, 1905 The Nootka Sound Controversy: A dissertation William R. Manning, 2022-06-02 William R Manning's The Nootka Sound Controversy A Dissertation offers an incisive examination of the 18th century geopolitical disputes surrounding Nootka Sound focusing on the complex interplay between British and Spanish interests in the Pacific Northwest Utilizing a meticulous analytical style Manning delves into historical documents providing a nuanced interpretation of colonial ambitions indigenous perspectives and international law The dissertation engages with significant events such as the Nootka Crisis highlighting its implications for European nation building and imperial dynamics during an era marked by exploration and territorial expansion Manning a historian schooled in the intricacies of colonial studies draws upon his extensive background in maritime history and international relations which perhaps stem from his formative experiences in academia and interactions with specialists in Pacific history His profound commitment to uncovering the multifaceted narratives of lesser known historical episodes culminates in this work a testament to his scholarly rigor and critical approach to historical inquiry Manning s balanced treatment of the involved parties also reflects his broader interest in the intersection of history and politics within colonial settings This dissertation is essential reading for scholars historians and students interested in maritime history colonial studies and the global implications of imperial conflicts Manning s painstaking research and comprehensive analysis not only enrich the existing literature on the Nootka Sound but also invite readers to reconsider the significance of place in the broader context of historical discourse
