Constructing The Holocaust A Study In Historiography:

Constructing the Holocaust Dan Stone, 2003 On the one hand then this is traditional historiography the history of history writing On the other hand the problem is approached via recent work in the philosophy of history closely analysing historical works as texts This is an interdisciplinary study that brings to bear on historiography the kind of textual analysis usually reserved for fiction testimony or film The Holocaust precisely because it throws into doubt older methodologies demands the search for new ones Showing how Holocaust historians inadvertently and paradoxically reinscribe into the wider culture patterns of thought that the Holocaust repudiated Constructing the Holocaust tries to respond to the Holocaust in a way that recognises its potential impact on usually unquestioned beliefs and unspoken methodological assumptions BOOK JACKET

Histories of the Holocaust Dan Stone, 2010-06-17 A comprehensive and accessible guide to the major themes and debates in Holocaust historiography over the last two decades The SAGE Handbook of Historical Theory Nancy Partner, Sarah Foot, 2012-12-18 The SAGE Handbook of Historical Theory introduces the foundations of modern historical theory and the applications of theory to a full range of sub fields of historical research bringing the reader as up to date as possible with continuing debates and current developments The book is divided into three key parts covering Part I Foundations The Theoretical Grounds for Knowledge of the Past Part II Applications Theory Intensive Areas in History Part III Coda Post Postmodernism Directions and Interrogations This important handbook brings together in one volume discussions of modernity empiricism deconstruction narrative and postmodernity in the continuing evolution of the historical discipline into our post postmodern era Chapters are written by leading academics from around the world and cover a wide array of specialized areas of the discipline including social history intellectual history gender memory psychoanalysis and cultural history The influence of major thinkers such as Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault and Hayden White is fully examined This handbook is an essential resource for practising historians and students of history and will appeal to scholars in related disciplines in the social sciences and humanities who seek a closer understanding of the theoretical foundations of history

History and Psychoanalysis in the Columbus Centre Danae Karydaki, 2023-12-26 This book draws on a range of key archives and oral testimonies to provide the first systematic and historical study of the origins context development frustrations inner contradictions and legacies of the Columbus Centre The Columbus Centre a remarkable though largely forgotten research institute was established at the University of Sussex in 1966 triggered by claims of a dearth of academic research about Nazism and the Holocaust Its basic stated aim was to bring together psychoanalysis and history for a scholarly investigation of discrimination mass violence and the preconditions of genocide in the past and the present The Nazi crimes were studied along with other instances of prejudice and mass violence such as sixteenth and seventeenth century witch hunts South African apartheid the persecution of the Roma people and race relations in the United States and modern day Britain The book seeks to place the Columbus Centre in the historiography of mass violence by analysing the Centre's works through four historiographical prisms or power relations in which they were produced: psychoanalysis, class, race, and gender. This interdisciplinary volume is a valuable text for scholars and students of historiography, psychoanalysis, genocide, and violence, and postwar Europe, and for professionals within the field of psychology.

The Historiography of Genocide Anton Weiss-Wendt, Robert Krieken, Alfred A. Cave, Ben Kiernan, Doris Bergen, David Moshman, Victoria Sanford, John Docker, Robert Hitchcock, 2008-02-13 The Historiography of Genocide is an indispensable guide to the development of the emerging discipline of genocide studies and the only available assessment of the historical literature pertaining to genocides.

(Re)Constructing Memory: School Textbooks and the Imagination of the Nation James H. Williams, 2014-08-08 This book examines the shifting portrayal of the nation in school textbooks in 14 countries during periods of rapid political, social, and economic change. Drawing on a range of analytic strategies, the authors examine history and civics textbooks and the teaching of such texts along with other prominent curricular materials: children's readers, a required text penned by the head of state, a Holocaust curriculum, etc. The authors analyze the uses of history and pedagogy in building, reinforcing, and/or redefining the nation and state, especially in the light of challenges to its legitimacy. The primary focus is on countries in developing or transitional contexts. Issues include the teaching of democratic civics in a multiethnic state with little history of democratic governance; shifts in teaching about the Khmer Rouge in post-conflict Cambodia; children's readers used to define national space in former republics of the Soviet Union; the development of Holocaust education in a context where citizens were both victims and perpetrators of violence; the creation of a national past in Turkmenistan; and so forth. The case studies are supplemented by commentary, an introduction, and a conclusion.

Famines and the Making of Heritage Marguérite Corporaal, Ingrid de Zwart, 2024-06-05 Famines and the Making of Heritage is the first book to bring together groundbreaking research on the role of European famines in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in relation to heritage making, museology, commemoration, education, and monument creation. Featuring contributions from famine experts across Europe and North America, the volume adopts a pioneering transnational perspective and discusses issues such as contestable and repressed heritage, materiality, dark tourism, education on famines, oral history, multidirectional memory, and visceral empathy. Questioning why educational curricula and practices in schools and on heritage sites are region- or nation-oriented, or transnational, chapters also consider whether they emphasise conflict or mutual understanding. Contributions also consider how present issues of European concern, such as globalisation, commodification, human rights, poverty, and migration, intersect with the heritage and memory of modern European famines. Lastly, the book considers what role emigrant and diasporic communities within and outside Europe play in the development of famine heritage and educational practices, and whether famine heritage is accessible to them. Famines and the Making of Heritage provides a crucial resource for museum and heritage scholars, students, and professionals working on or with difficult or dark heritages, as well as those interested in the study of famines and legacies of troubled pasts.

History Jewish Paweł Maciejko, Scott Ury, 2020-08-25 This collection explores the different ways that intellectuals scholars and institutions have sought to make history Jewish While practitioners of Jewish history often assume that the Jews are a well defined ethno national unit with a distinct continuous history this volume questions many of the assumptions that underlie and ultimately help construct Jewish history Starting with a number of articles on the Jews of eighteenth and nineteenth century Poland and Hungary continuing with several studies of Jewish encounters with the advent of nationalism and antisemitism and concluding with a set of essays on Jewish history and politics in twentieth century eastern Europe pre state Palestine and North America the volume discusses the different methodological research and narrative strategies involved in transforming past events into part of the larger canon of Jewish history

Cultural Memory and the Construction of Identity Dan Ben-Amos, Liliane Weissberg, 1999 Cultural memory and the Construction of Identity brings together scholars of folklore literature history and communication to explore the dynamics of cultural memory in a variety of contexts Memory is a powerful tool that can transform a piece of earth into a homeland and common objects into symbols The authors of this volume show how memory is shaped and how it operates in uniting society and creating images that attain the value of truth even if they deviate from fact

The Discursive Construction of History Hannes Heer, 2008-02-12 How do democratic and pluralistic societies cope with traumatic events in their past What strategies and taboos are employed to reconstruct wars revolutions torturing mass killings and genocide in a way to make their contradiction to basic human rights and values invisible This interdisciplinary volume analyzes in detail for the first time in multiple genres the history and image of the German Wehrmacht and the debates in Austria and Germany surrounding two highly contested exhibitions about the war crimes of the German Wehrmacht during WWII
