

CONSTRUCTION CLAIMS MANAGEMENT

Numerous stakeholders and complicated contracts are frequently present in construction projects.

Clear paperwork is provided and communication between all parties is facilitated by a well-managed claim.

All relevant documents must be kept up to date throughout the course of the project in order for the claims management process to be effective.

By identifying possible risks early and taking proactive steps to mitigate them, a project's exposure can be reduced.

Claims may be made due to a number of reasons, like as delays, design flaws, a lack of materials, etc.
