Contemporary Art and Feminism Jacqueline Millner, Catriona Moore, 2021-07-05 This important new book examines contemporary art while foregrounding the key role feminism has played in enabling current modes of artmaking spectatorship and theoretical discourse Contemporary Art and Feminism carefully outlines the links between feminist theory and practice of the past four decades of contemporary art and offers a radical re-reading of the contemporary movement Rather than focus on filling in the gaps of accepted histories by adding the missing female queer First Nations and women artists of colour the authors seek to revise broader understandings of contemporary practice by providing case studies contextualised in a robust art historical and theoretical basis Readers are encouraged to see where art ideas come from and evaluate past and present art strategies What strategies materials or tropes are less relevant in today's networked event-driven art economies What strategies and themes should we keep hold of or develop in new ways This is a significant and innovative intervention that is ideal for students in courses on contemporary art within fine arts visual studies history of art gender studies and queer studies

Australian Women Norma Grieve, Ailsa Burns, 1994 This book is representative of the rich diversity of contemporary Australian scholarship in the 1990s Ann Curthoys begins with an overview of Australian feminisms from 1970 until the present and poses the question of whether Australian feminist thinking has developed a distinctive character Her conclusions are complemented by Anne Summers and Gisela Kaplan's comparisons with developments in the US and Europe and by Jill Roe's piece on Australian women and nationalism Questions raised in Curthoys's discussion of feminist responses to postmodern and postcolonial critiques are taken up in differing contexts by philosopher Philippa Rothfield anthropologists Gill Bottomley Maila Stevens and Vicki Kirby and film theorist Barbara Creed Historians Jackie Huggins Patricia Grimshaw and Marilyn Lake offer new perspectives on the complex relationships between Australian Aboriginal women and Australian feminisms The gender problems associated with economic issues are addressed by trade unionist Carmel Shute in Gillian Hewitson's critique of neoclassical economics and in Lois Bryson's discussion of women work and welfare Difficulties in the implementation of equal opportunity in the workplace are discussed by Margaret Thornton and Rosemary Pringle Norma Grieve describes some possible childhood precursors of the boys' games that often impede this implementation Feminist critiques of continuing gender inequities in the law in politics and in marriage are provided by Adrian Hose Marian Simms and Ailsa Burns Beverley Kingston gives a historical account of the gendered nature of shopping and Stephanie Bunbury discusses the gender positions available in teen movies The final chapter by Susan Magarey Susan Sheridan and Lyndall Ryan concerns the teaching of Women's Studies This book whole addressed to all who are interested in women's issue is particularly relevant for students of Women's Studies and related disciplines Rethinking the Victim Anne Brewster, Sue Kossew, 2019-02-18 This book is the first to examine gender and violence in Australian literature It argues that literary texts by Australian women writers offer unique ways of understanding the social problem of gendered violence bringing this often private and suppressed issue into the public sphere It draws on the international field of violence studies to investigate how Australian women writers challenge the victim paradigm and figure women's agencies In doing so it provides a theoretical context for the increasing number of contemporary literary works by Australian women writers that directly address gendered violence an issue that has taken on urgent social and political currency By analysing Australian women's literary representations of gendered violence this book rethinks victimhood and agency particularly from a feminist perspective One of its major innovations is that it examines mainstream Australian women's writing alongside that of Indigenous and minoritised women In doing so it provides insights into the interconnectedness of Australia's diverse settler Indigenous and diasporic histories in chapters that examine intimate partner violence violence against Indigenous women and girls family violence and violence against children and the war and political violence Australian Women Norma Grieve, Ailsa Burns, 1994 Articles by Lake and Huggins annotated separately examine the relation of the feminist movement to the position and views of Aboriginal women The Hunter Anthology of Contemporary Australian Feminist Poetry Bonny Cassidy, Jessica Wilkinson, 2016-08-17 Australia has a rich history of feminist poetry but there is no one kind of feminist voice The seventy new poems commissioned for this anthology demonstrate a complexity of social political and cultural visions Contemporary Australian Feminist Poetry is united by the shared effort to shape responsible writing on everyday subject matter family fear dreams love literary inheritance the body power fun pain metaphors of self Each of these poems cut its own path through language Together their politics are restless inextricably tied to the now Australian Feminism Barbara Caine, Moira Gatens, 1998 The distinctive features of Australian feminism including diversity engagement with the state openness to new ideas and connections with ideas and developments overseas are fully explored in this major new encyclopedic reference book Doing Feminism Anne Marsh, 2021-08-31 APAIS 1994: Australian public affairs information service , The Australian Feminist Law Journal , 2003 Contemporary Australian Feminism Sullivan, 19?? APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service , Bureaucrats, Technocrats, Femocrats Anna Yeatman, 2020-07-31 This collection of essays in political sociology and public policy contests some of the fundamental features of the contemporary State as it is manifested in Australia It explores themes such as the development of the complex interventionist State characterised by the proliferation of its activities to encompass virtually every feature of its subjects daily lives and functioning as a central site of struggle over the distribution of social economic political and cultural resources It also examines the impact of the so called new social movements the women s movement the various multiracial and multicultural movements and the environmental movement which make new claims on the democratisation of the distribution of resources and investigates the impact on the State of the pressure for economic restructuring arising from the new terms of competition within a global economy in recession In tracing the links between these themes Bureaucrats Technocrats Femocrats makes a major contribution to a critical tradition of writing and analysis in public administration Talkin' Up to the White Woman Aileen Moreton-Robinson,2000 In this accessible and provocative analysis of the whiteness of Australian feminism the author applies academic training and cultural knowledge in revealing the invisible position of power and privilege in feminist practice This is a uniquely Australian contribution to the increasing global discourse on feminism and race APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service ,2000 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list

International Feminist Perspectives in Criminology Nicole Hahn Rafter,1995 This collection of essays brings together an international range of contributors who outline and analyze the impact of feminism on criminology in their countries The book provides an overview of the subject enabling international comparisons to be made Australian Political Ideas Geoff Stokes,1994 Discusses Australian writing on politics to 1860 populism and pluralism competing images of democracy two traditions within the Liberal Party Australian feminism and the utopian ideas of Edward Bellamy Also looks at post colonial and post modern themes in two novels by Peter Carey Indexed Contributors include Colin Hughes L J Hume and M D Fletcher The editor lectures in government at the University of Queensland and is a co author of Accounting for the Humanities Women Making Time Elizabeth McMahon,Brigitta Olubas,2006 How do women experience time in the modern world What connections can be drawn between time action and ethical human relations From vantage points across the humanities and social sciences Women Making Time looks at how women fashion understandings of the past present and future The book reviews the ways in which feminist issues have been reduced to generational disputes between 1970s and 1990s Feminism has always looked towards the future when envisaging and enacting social change At the same time feminists have sought to recuperate forgotten and overlooked moments usually through response to the constraints faced by particular women Women Making Time is a rich and diverse collection of essays that moves through the complementary domains of past and future and into the complex now of aesthetic and cultural production By valuing the processes of loss and excess the book illuminates the complex banalities achievements and continuities of women s experiences Men Who Believe in Feminism Amanda Goldrick-Jones,2002-11-30 Goldrick Jones academic writing and women s studies U of Winnipeg explores the motives and tells the stories of anti sexist men s groups in North America Britain and Australia from the early 1970s through the end of the 1990s They share a common goal of inviting men to support feminist principles and do feminist work Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Feminism Worldwide Joan Nordquist,1996
