Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1974 Reading Contemporary Black British and African American Women Writers Jean Wyatt, Sheldon George, 2020-01-28 Contemporary African American and Black British Women Writers Narrative Race Ethics brings together British and American scholars to explore how in texts by contemporary black women writers in the U S and Britain formal narrative techniques express new understandings of race or stimulate ethical thinking about race in a reader Taken together the essays also demonstrate that black women writers from both sides of the Atlantic borrow formal structures and literary techniques from one another to describe the workings of structural racism in the daily lives of black subjects and to provoke readers to think anew about race Narratology has only recently begun to use race as a category of narrative theory This collection seeks both to show the ethical effects of narrative form on individual readers and to foster reconceptualizations of narrative theory that account for the workings of race within literature and culture The Roots of American Community David Zarefsky, 1995 American Literature and American Identity Patrick Colm Hogan, 2021-11-10 In recent years cognitive and affective science have become increasingly important for interpretation and explanation in the social sciences and humanities However little of this work has addressed American literature and virtually none has treated national identity formation in influential works since the Civil War In this book Hogan develops his earlier cognitive and affective analyses of national identity further exploring the ways in which such identity is integrated with cross culturally recurring patterns in story structure Hogan examines how authors imagined American identity understood as universal democratic egalitarianism in the face of the nation s clear and often brutal inequalities of race sex and sexuality exploring the complex and often ambivalent treatment of American identity in works by Charlotte Perkins Gilman Eugene O Neill Lillian Hellman Djuna Barnes Amiri Baraka Margaret Atwood N Scott Momaday Spike Lee Leslie Marmon Silko Tony Kushner and Heidi Schreck Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ... The United States Catalog Mary Burnham, Carol Hurd, 1928 Enduring Legacies Bruce E. Johansen, 2004-05-30 Treaties are so fundamental to the lives of Native Americans and their nations in the United States and Canada that life without them would be difficult to imagine Most contemporary issues from land claims to resource ownership to gambling permits are rooted in laws that derive much of their sustenance from such documents Treaties are therefore vibrant documents that define important issues in our time This book is an attempt to maintain a national conversation on the treaty basis of important contemporary laws and issues While the texts of such treaties have long been available discussion and other annotation in a context that gives them contemporary meaning has been scarce This collection of essays by experts in Native American history examines these historic agreements in light of recent and ongoing controversies Claims to ancestral land bases are one prime example the Canandaigua Treaty of 1794 provides a context in which to address the Onondaga s claim to most of the Syracuse urban area Treaties provide the bases for events such as the modern day rebirth of the Ponca Nation in Nebraska more than a century after a bureaucratic error resulted in banishment from ancestral land One chapter explores why the U S Army still officially regards tragic events at Wounded Knee in December 1890 as a battle rather than a massacre Another reveals how treaties and laws have been used to retain and regain gas and oil resource ownership Still another expert examines why so much energy has been expended over the fate of 9 300 year old bones that have come to be called Kennewick Man
