Rodgers, 2004-07-02 This is a Foreword by an archaeologist not a conservator but as Brad Rodgers says Conservation has been steadily pulled from archaeology by the forces of specialization p 3 and he wants to remedy that situation through this manual He sees this work as a call to action for the non professional conservator permitting curators conservators and archaeologists to identify artifacts that need professional attention and allow these professionals to stabilize most artifacts in their own laboratories with minimal intervention using simple non toxic procedures

p 5 It is the mission of Brad's manual to bring conservation back into archaeology p 6 The degree of success of that goal depends on the degree to which archaeologists pay attention to and put to use what Brad has to say because as he says The conservationist archaeologist is responsible to make preparation for an artifact's care even before it is excavated and after its storage into the foreseeable future a tremendous responsibility p 10 The manual is a combination of highly technical as well as common sense methods of conserving wood iron and other metals ceramics glass and stone organics and composites a far better guide to artifact conservation than was available to me when I first faced that archaeological challenge at colonial Brunswick Town North Carolina in 1958 a challenge still being faced by archaeologists today The stage of conservation in 1958 is in dramatic contrast to the procedures Brad describes in this manual conservation has indeed made great progress For instance a common procedure then was to heat the artifacts red hot in a furnace a method that made me cringe Archaeology Richard Michael Stewart, 2002 Archaeology Basic Field Methods introduces archaeological field methods and provides a basis for understanding the links between the nature of archaeological evidence the recognition of that evidence in the field and the techniques involved in the search for and recovery of archaeological evidence in a variety of settings Outstanding Features Provides a basic introduction to sediments soils stratigraphy and geomorphology Discusses ethical concerns and codes of professional conduct Discusses cultural resource management CRM and its impact on the practice of field archaeology Contains exercises and discussion questions at the end of each chapter A Manual of Field Excavation William G. Dever, Hubert Darrell Lance, 1978 Journal of Field Archaeology Association for Field Archaeology, 1995

Handbook of Archaeological Methods Christopher Chippindale, Herbert D. G. Maschner, 2005-11-17 The Handbook of Archaeological Methods comprises 37 articles by leading archaeologists on the key methods used by archaeologists in the field in analysis in theory building and in managing cultural resources The book is destined to become the key reference work for archaeologists and their advanced students on contemporary archaeological methods Formulating Ethics and Standards in Archaeology Patricia Cridlebaugh, 1990 Practical Archaeology Brian D. Dillon, 1993 Journal of Middle Atlantic Archaeology, 1990 The Oxford Encyclopedia of Archaeology in the Near East Eric M. Meyers, American Schools of Oriental Research, 1997 This comprehensive five volume work analyzes the archaeological and linguistic data that pertain to the broad cultural milieu of the ancient Near East the crossroads of three of the world's most influential religions Judaism Christianity and Islam Ranging from prehistoric times up to the early centuries of the rise of Islam the work covers the civilizations of Syria Palestine Mesopotamia Anatolia Iran Arabia Cyprus Egypt and the coastal regions of North and East Africa It includes 1 125 alphabetically arranged entries on sites languages material culture archaeological methods organizations and institutions and major excavators and scholars of the field This one of a kind accessibly written reference brings new breadth to the study of archaeology in the biblical world making it a valuable resource not only to scholars and students of archaeology but also to those with an interest in ancient art and architecture languages history and religion
