

The background of the entire page is a reproduction of a painting by John Constable. It depicts a coastal scene with a vast, dramatic sky filled with large, billowing clouds in shades of grey, blue, and white. Below the sky, a body of water meets a sandy beach. In the foreground, several figures are visible on the beach, some standing and others sitting, looking towards the sea. The overall mood is atmospheric and captures a moment of natural beauty. The title 'Constable's Clouds' is superimposed on the left side of the painting.

Constable's Clouds John Constable, 2000 Attempts to match paintings with ideas and tries to establish War at a Distance Mary A. Favret, 2009-10-19 What does it mean to live during wartime away from the battle zone What is it like for citizens to go about daily routines while their country sends soldiers to kill and be killed across the globe Timely and thought provoking War at a Distance considers how those left on the home front register wars and wartime in their everyday lives particularly when military conflict remains removed from immediate perception available only through media forms Looking back over two centuries Mary Favret locates the origins of modern wartime in the Napoleonic era and describes how global military operations affected the British populace as the nation's army and navy waged battles far from home for decades She reveals that the literature and art produced in Britain during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries obsessively cultivated means for feeling as much as understanding such wars and established forms still relevant today Favret examines wartime literature and art as varied as meditations on the Iliad the history of meteorology landscape painting in India and popular poetry in newspapers and periodicals she locates the embedded sense of war and dislocation in works ranging from Austen Coleridge and Wordsworth to Woolf Stevens and Sebald and she contemplates how literature provides the public with methods for responding to violent calamities happening elsewhere Bringing to light Romanticism's legacy in reflections on modern warfare this book shows that war's absent presence affects home in deep and irrevocable ways Monet's Minutes André Dombrowski, 2023-01-01 A stunning exploration of the vital links between Claude Monet's Impressionism and the time technologies that helped define modernity in the nineteenth century Monet's Minutes is a revelatory account charting the relationship between the works of Claude Monet 1840 1926 founder of French Impressionism and one of the world's best known painters and the modern experience of time Andr Dombrowski illuminates Monet's celebration of instantaneity in the context of the late nineteenth century time technologies that underwrote it Monet's version of Impressionism demonstrated an acute awareness of the particularly modern pressures of time but until now scholars have not examined the histories and technologies of time and timekeeping that informed Impressionism's major stylistic shifts Arguing that the fascination with instantaneity rejected the dulling cultures of newly routinized and standardized time Monet's Minutes traces the evolution of Monet's art to what were then seismic shifts in the shape of time itself In each chapter Dombrowski focuses on the connections between a set of Monet's works and a specific technology or experience of time while providing the voices of period critics responding to Impressionism Grounded in exceptional research and analyses this book offers new interpretations of key works by Monet and a fresh perspective on late nineteenth century art society and modern temporality John Constable's Clouds Kurt Badt, 1950 Constable's Clouds Edward Morris, 2000 John Constable's Skies John E. Thornes, John Constable, 1999-01-01 John Constable is arguably the most accomplished painter of English skies and weather of all time For Constable the sky was the keynote the standard of scale and the chief organ of sentiment in a landscape painting But how far did he understand the workings of the forces of nature which created his favourite cumulus clouds portrayed in so many of his skies over the landscapes of Hampstead Heath Salisbury and Suffolk And were the skies he painted scientifically accurate In this lucid and accessible study John Thorne provides a meteorological framework for reading the skies of landscape art compares Constable's skies to those produced by other artists from the middle ages to the nineteenth century analyses Constable's own meteorological understanding and examines the development of his painted skies In so doing he provides fresh evidence to identify the year of painting of some of Constable's previously undated cloud studies

Constable's Skies Mark Evans, 2018-08-14 A beautiful gift sized volume celebrating Constable's enduring fascination and engagement with the sky John Constable was one of the supreme painters of the weather and his depictions of the sky are essential components of all his landscape paintings from famous works such as The Hay Wain and Salisbury Cathedral from the Meadows to his numerous cloud studies painted on Hampstead Heath culminating in paintings that are all sky the landscape beneath is completely absent In a letter to friend John Fisher written in 1821 Constable commented That landscape painter who does not make his skies a very material part of his composition neglects to avail himself of one of his greatest aids It will be difficult to name a class of landscape in which the sky is not the key note the standard of scale and the chief organ of sentiment Written by Mark Evans a leading authority on the work of John Constable and brimming with beautiful images Constable's Skies captures the artist's fascination with the sky and brings together his depictions of the English weather from throughout his career The unprecedented fidelity of Constable's painted skies is proven by reference to contemporary weather diaries The book also includes a guide to where to find Constable's work around the world

Close Observation Frederic Edwin Church, Theodore E. Stebbins, Cooper-Hewitt Museum, 1978 Frederic E Church is increasingly recognized today as the leading painter of the Hudson River School the group of optimistic realistic landscape painters who flourished during the mid nineteenth century 1840-1875 He is a pivotal figure and one who influenced his contemporaries greatly Yet even Church is known almost solely from his finished oil paintings which are large detailed and panoramic with no hint of the artist's hand visible This book brings for the first time scholarly attention and the eye of the connoisseur to Church's best oil sketches 112 are discussed and illustrated In these works the artist is seen working directly from nature en plein air with great speed and emotion The sketches are astonishingly detailed yet fresh and sensuous in execution The book analyzes Church's stylistic progression his use of sketches in the creation of finished studio paintings and the formation and decline of his own vision and that of the Hudson River School itself as reflected in the changing style and use of the oil sketch The book is divided into sections according to Church's major travels and subjects the trips to South America 1853 and 1857 Niagara the voyage to the north to see icebergs the trip to Jamaica 1865 and his year and a half long journey to Europe and the Near East starting in the autumn of 1867 The last years of his life Church spent the winters in Mexico and the summers at Olana center of the earth the house he designed and built in the foothills of the Catskills Jacket flap

John Constable - CLOUDS IN PAINTINGS & SKETCHES E. L. Helton PhD, 2021-12-15 Born in East Bergholt Suffolk on 11 June 1776 Constable was the second son of the six children of Golding Constable and Ann Watts He was educated at a private school in Lavenham and at the grammar school in Dedham subsequently joining the family business of which it was intended he would succeed as manager He learned the technique of painting from John Dunthorne a local plumber and glazier who was an amateur painter and was encouraged by Sir George Beaumont Staying with relatives at Edmonton in 1796 he met John Cranch a mediocre artist whose style he imitated and John Thomas Smith the antiquarian draftsman with whom he made drawings of picturesque cottages In 1799 his father gave him an allowance to enter the Royal Academy Schools reluctantly consenting in 1802 to his becoming a professional painter That same year Constable showed his first landscape at the Academy where he was to exhibit nearly every year until his death and acquired a studio opposite the family house He spent summers in East Bergholt sketching from nature until 1817 in the autumn of 1806 he made a two month visit to the Lake District In 1809 Constable met and fell in love with Maria Bicknell but he was unable to marry her until 1816 owing to the opposition of Maria's grandfather After the marriage the couple lived in London first on Keppel Street then after 1822 on Charlotte Street The marriage which was the prelude to Constable's finest work was a deeply happy one and there were seven children to whom the artist was devoted Maria's health was far from robust however and she died in 1828 a blow from which Constable never fully recovered
