Constitutional Reform of School Finance Kern Alexander, Kenneth Forbis Jordan, 1965 Developments in School Finance, 1997 Research in Education, 1973 Equity and Adequacy in Education Finance National Research Council, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Education Finance, 1999-02-12

Spending on K 12 education across the United States and across local school districts has long been characterized by great disparities that reflect differences in property wealth and tax rates For more than a quarter century reformers have attempted to reduce these differences through court challenges and legislative action As part of a broad study of education finance the committee commissioned eight papers examining the history and consequences of school finance reform undertaken in the name of equity and adequacy This thought provoking timely collection of papers explores such topics as What do the terms equity and adequacy in school finance really mean How are these terms relevant to the politics and litigation of school finance reform What is the impact of court ordered school finance reform on spending disparities How do school districts use money from finance reform What policy options are available to states facing new challenges from court decisions mandating adequacy in school finance When measuring adequacy how do you consider differences in student needs and regional costs Resources in Education, 1973 Future Directions for School Finance Reform Betsy Levin, 1974 Financing of Elementary and Secondary Education United States. Congress. House. Education and Labor, 1972 Developments in School Finance William J. Fowler, 1998-05 Contains papers by state education dept policymakers analysts and data providers on emerging issues in school finance Includes estimates of disparities and analysis of the causes of expenditures in public school districts race poverty and the student curriculum court ordered school finance equalization resource allocation to schools under conditions of radical decentralization building equity and effectiveness into school based funding models alternative options for deflating education expenditures over time productivity collapse in schools and evaluating the effect of teacher degree level on educational performance Financing of Elementary and Secondary Education United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. General Subcommittee on Education, 1972 From Schoolhouse to Courthouse Martin R. West, Joshua Dunn, 2010-02-01 A Brookings Institution Press and the Thomas B Fordham Institute publication From race to speech from religion to school funding from discipline to special education few aspects of education policy have escaped the courtroom over the past fifty years Predictably much controversy has ensued Supporters of education litigation contend that the courts are essential to secure student and civil rights while critics insist that the courts distort policy and that the mere threat of litigation undermines the authority of teachers and administrators From Schoolhouse to Courthouse brings together experts on law political science and education policy to test these claims Shep Melnick Boston College and James Ryan University of Virginia School of Law draw lessons from judicial efforts to promote school desegregation and civil rights Martha Derthick University of Virginia John Dinan Wake

Forest University and Michael Heise Cornell Law School discuss litigation over high stakes testing and school finance in the era of No Child Left Behind Richard Arum New York University Samuel R Bagenstos Washington University Law School and Frederick M Hess American Enterprise Institute analyze the consequences of court rulings for school discipline special education and district management Finally editors Joshua Dunn and Martin R West probe the tangled relationship between religious freedom student speech and school choice
