Constructing Modernity The Art Career Of Naum Gabo:

Constructing Modernity Martin Hammer, Professor Christina Lodder, Naum Gabo, Christina Lodder, 2000-01-01 Naum Gabo 1890 1977 whose eventful life took him from his native Russia to Berlin Paris London and finally the United States achieved renown as one of the most inventive and controversial figures in twentieth century sculpture This book is the first comprehensive account of Gabo's life career and artistic theory and practice Martin Hammer and Christina Lodder explore in detail the evolution of the artist's work and his aesthetic concerns creative processes assimilation of such new materials as plastic and approach to public sculpture The authors also examine his response to the scientific and political revolutions of his age and trace the origins and development of Gabo's utopian conviction that Constructivist art was profoundly in tune with modernity social progress and advances in science and technology Drawing on Gabo's extensive and largely unpublished archives of letters diaries notebooks models and sketchbooks Hammer and Lodder discuss the sculptor's work in the context of his relations with other avant garde artists architects and critics including his brother Antoine Pevsner They also situate his aesthetic theory and practice within the Constructivist movement

From Space in Modern Art to a Spatial Art History Jutta Vinzent, 2019-12-02 This book traces artists theories of constructive space in the first half of the twentieth century Drawing on these concepts and recent theories on space it develops a methodology termed Spatial Art History that conceives of artworks as physical spatio temporal things which produce the social to overcome the reductive understanding of art as a mere mirror or facilitator of society

The Unsung Hero of the Russian Avant-Garde: The Life and Times of Nikolay Punin Natalia Murray, 2012-06-27 This book is the first biography of Nikolay Punin 1888 1953 One of the most prominent art critics of the avant garde in 1919 Punin was the Commissar of the Hermitage and Russian Museums he was lecturing at the Academy of Arts and at the State University in Petrograd and subsequently Leningrad He was the right hand of Lunacharsky and the head of the Petrograd branch of the Visual Arts Department of Narkompross From 1913 till 1938 Punin worked at the Russian Museum and organized several major exhibitions of Russian art Yet his name is not widely known in the West primarily because his file languished in the KGB archives since he died in 1953 partly because his grave in the Gulag where he died is marked only by a number and partly because his own reputation became submerged under that of his lover poet and writer Anna Akhmatova Through the life and inheritance of Nikolay Punin this book will examine the very phenomenon of the Russian avant garde and its fate after the October Revolution as well as the artistic trends and cultural policies which dominated Soviet art in the 1930 1950s For an interview with the author on The Voice of Russia July 19th 2012 click here

Modern Jewish Art Ori Soltes, 2019-01-07 In Modern Jewish Art Definitions Problems and Opportunities Ori Z Soltes considers both the emerging and evolving discussion on and the expanding array of practitioners of Jewish art in the past two hundred years He notes the developing problem of how to define Judaism in the 19th century as a religion a culture a race a nation a people and thus the complications for placing Jewish art under the extended umbrella of religion and the arts The fluidity with which one must engage the subject is reflected in the broadening conceptual and visual vocabulary the extended range of subject foci and media and the increasingly rich analytical approaches to the subject that have surfaced particularly in the past fifty years Well known and little known artists are included in a far ranging discussion of painting sculpture photography video installations ceremonial objects and works that blur the boundaries between categories Einstein for the 21st Century Peter L. Rethinking Malevich Charlotte Douglas, Christina Lodder, 2007 Rethinking Malevich is an English language collection of sixteen innovative essays by leading international scholars that document new and intriguing aspects of Kazimir Malevich's art and biography This latest research on the Russian modern artist appears after more than seventy years of political and cultural difficulties including the East West bifurcation of his artistic and written legacy that impeded the study and understanding of his work For the first time the greater portion of Malevich's work and writings was available for the scholarly research and study undertaken here The result is a wealth of new details about this pioneer of abstraction including explorations of his early art education the differences in the reception of his abstract art by Western and Russian audiences the appearance of his work in 1936 at the Museum of Modern Art the artist's special relationship with Ukraine The development of his art is considered alongside that of Vasily Kandinsky and Giorgio De Chirico and his philosophy is examined in comparison with the ideas of Nikolai Fedorov and Ortega y Gasset The history of Russian and Soviet art in the 1920s and 1930s is intricately interwoven with the revolutionary social changes taking place throughout the country Here are details of the political maneuverings Malevich went through in Russia to protect his art and his friends and his reaction to Lenin's death in 1924 and the subsequent growth of the Lenin myth Rethinking Malevich reveals the complex early interweaving of Suprematism and Constructivism considers little researched aspects of the artist's Post Suprematist period and the history of Malevich's literary legacy Not least it demonstrates the various ways in which Malevich's art continues to stimulate the highly unusual work of contemporary Russian artists Contemporary Art and the Mathematical Instinct
