Communicating Science Contexts And Channels Reader :

Reading Popular Physics Elizabeth Leane, 2017-03-02 Reading Popular Physics is a valuable contribution to our understanding of the nature and implications of physics popularizations. A literary critic trained in science, Elizabeth Leane treats popular science writing as a distinct and significant genre, focusing particularly on five bestselling books: Stephen Hawking's A Brief History of Time, Steven Weinberg's The First Three Minutes, James Gleick's Chaos, M. Mitchell Waldrop's Complexity, and Gary Zukav's The Dancing Wu Li Masters. Leane situates her examination of the texts within the heated interdisciplinary exchanges known as the Science Wars, focusing specifically on the disputed issue of the role of language in science. Her use of literary analysis reveals how popular science books function as sites for disciplinary skirmishes as she uncovers the ways in which popularizers of science influence the public. In addition to their explicit discussion of scientific concepts, Leane argues these authors employ subtle textual strategies that encode claims about the nature and status of scientific knowledge claims that are all the more powerful because they are unacknowledged. Her book will change the way these texts are read, offering readers a fresh perspective on this highly visible and influential genre.

Geographies of Knowledge and Power Peter Meusburger, Derek Gregory, Laura Suarsana, 2015-06-24 Interest in relations between knowledge, power, and space has a long tradition in a range of disciplines, but it was reinvigorated in the last two decades through critical engagement with Foucault and Gramsci. This volume focuses on relations between knowledge and power. It shows why space is fundamental in any exercise of power and explains which roles various types of knowledge play in the acquisition, support, and legitimization of power. Topics include the control and manipulation of knowledge through centers of power in historical contexts, the geopolitics of knowledge about world politics, media control in twentieth-century cartography, in modern war, the power of words, the changing face of Islamic authority, and the role of Millennialism in the United States. This book offers insights from disciplines such as geography, anthropology, scientific theology, Assyriology, and communication science.

Information, Power, and Democracy Nico Stehr, 2015-11-12 The link between liberty and knowledge is neither static nor simple. Until recently, the mutual support between knowledge, science, democracy, and emancipation was presupposed. Recently, however, the close relationship between democracy and knowledge has been viewed with skepticism. The growing societal reliance on specialized knowledge often appears to actually undermine democracy. Is it that we do not know enough, but that we know too much? What are the implications for the freedom of societies and their citizens? Does knowledge help or hinder them in unraveling the complexity of new challenges? This book systematically explores the shifting dynamics of knowledge production and the implications for the conditions and practices of freedom. It considers the growth of knowledge about knowledge and the impact of an evolving media. It argues for a revised understanding of the societal role of knowledge and presents the concept of knowledge societies as a major resource for liberty.

Communicating Science Eileen Scanlon, 1999 Communicating Science is an ideal introduction for anyone who wants to learn about the relationship between science the media and the public Museums and Archaeology Robin Skeates,2022-06-19 Museums and Archaeology brings together a wide but carefully chosen selection of literature from around the world that connects museums and archaeology Part of the successful Leicester Readers in Museum Studies series it provides a combination of issue and practice based perspectives As such it is a volume not only for students and researchers from a range of disciplines interested in museum gallery and heritage studies including public archaeology and cultural resource management CRM but also the wide range of professionals and volunteers in the museum and heritage sector who work with archaeological collections The volume s balance of theory and practice and its thematic and geographical breadth is explored and explained in an extended introduction which situates the readings in the context of the extensive literature on museum archaeology highlighting the many tensions that exist between idealistic principles and real life practice and the debates that surround these In addition to this section introductions and the seminal pieces themselves provide a comprehensive and contextualised resource on the interplay of museums and archaeology Democratic Transgressions of Law ,2010-01-25 Participation of concerned actors and the public is a central element in the legal regulation of science and technology In constitutional democracy these participatory forms are governed by the rule of law The volume critically examines participatory governance in this realm and makes suggestions with respect to further institutional and political cultural developments It assembles contributions of a broad interdisciplinary range within a comparative research programme opening the black box of participatory governance in legal procedure The contributions are the result of almost a decade of fruitful discussion between he authors They also demonstrate the potential of a cross disciplinary approach that stretches from sociology via political science and jurisprudence to hermeneutics linguistics and conversation analysis Contributors are Gabriele Abels Matthias Baier Alfons Bora Elena Collavin Heiko Hausendorf Zsuzsanna Iv nyi Andr s Kert sz Les Levidow Korn lia Marinecz Peter M nte Patrick O Mahony Giuseppe Pellegrini and Henrik Rahm New Trends in Specialized Discourse Analysis Maurizio Gotti,Davide S. Giannoni,2006 This volume brings together a selection of contributions presented at the 15th European Symposium on Languages for Special Purposes held at the University of Bergamo Italy from 29 August to 2 September 2005 The conference title New Trends in Specialized Discourse reflects the emphasis given to recent orientations in research coming from established as well as new authors in the field As suggested by the title of this volume the analysis of specialized discourse calls for a specialized discourse analysis When applied linguists deal with vocational discourses they are faced with a double challenge on the one hand an understanding of textualisations often alien to the general language on the other hand the use of analytical tools designed specifically for their investigation The studies presented in this volume position themselves somewhere along this continuum focusing alternatively on converging diverging features of texts and discourses Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Message Received Greg Philo,2014-06-11 Message Received brings together the most recent research findings of the Glasgow Media Group It focuses on major public issues such as the impact of fictional violence on children and media coverage of ethnic minorities the developing world and disasters It examines media representations of mental illness and public understanding of risks about this and about other areas such as health and food safety The Group has also studied controversies in the media such as the BSE crisis and other major events such as the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe
