Communication And Reconciliation Challenges Facing The 21st Century:

Communication, Reconciliation Philip J. Lee, 2001 Reconciliation the heart felt restoration of person to person people to people and all to God is as central to the Christian message as it is sorely needed in today's world The stories in this book come from all over the globe India where Hindus and Christians urgently need to embrace a culture of dialogue and where words alone have not been enough for reconciliation between untouchables and upper castes Argentina where the Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo paid the cost to communicate truly about the military dictatorship and the missing persons Estonia where understanding the role of one's mother tongue has been essential to promoting communication between Estonians and Russophones Canada where sensitivity is critical for reconciliation between First Nations peoples and the churches Again and again a picture of communication with a human face emerges one that genuinely cares for the other as one's neighbour

A Culture of Engagement Cathleen Kaveny, 2016 Religious traditions in the United States are characterized by ongoing tension between assimilation to the broader culture as typified by mainline Protestant churches and defiant rejection of cultural incursions as witnessed by more sectarian movements such as Mormonism and Hassidism However legal theorist and Catholic theologian Cathleen Kaveny contends there is a third possibility a culture of engagement that accommodates and respects tradition It also recognizes the need to interact with culture to remain relevant and to offer critiques of social political legal and economic practices Kaveny suggests that rather than avoid the crisscross of the religious and secular spheres of life we should use this conflict as an opportunity to come together and to encounter challenge contribute to and correct one another Focusing on five broad areas of interest Law as a Teacher Religious Liberty and Its Limits Conversations about Culture Conversations about Belief and Cases and Controversies Kaveny demonstrates how thoughtful and purposeful engagement can contribute to rich constructive and difficult discussions between moral and cultural traditions This provocative collection of Kaveny's articles from Commonweal magazine substantially revised and updated from their initial publication provides astonishing insight into a range of hot button issues like abortion assisted suicide government sponsored torture contraception the Ashley Treatment capital punishment and the role of religious faith in a pluralistic society At turns masterful and inspirational A Culture of Engagement is a welcome reminder of what can be gained when a diversity of experiences and beliefs is brought to bear on American public life

Conflict Transformation and Religion Ellen Ott Marshall, 2016-08-08 Writing from a variety of contexts the contributors to this volume describe the ways that conflict and their efforts to engage it constructively shape their work in classrooms and communities Each chapter begins with a different experience of conflict a physical confrontation shooting and killing ethnic violence a hate crime overt and covert racism structural violence interpersonal conflict in a family and the marginalization of youth The authors employ a variety of theoretical and practical responses to conflict highlighting the role that faith power and relationships play in processes of transformation As these teachers and ministers engage conflict constructively they put forward novel approaches toward

Social Action ,2001 Indian Journal of Secularism ,2005 Requiem Philip J. Lee, 2001 Sharing Our Intellectual Traces Tracy Bridgeford, Karla Saari Kitalong, Bill Williamson, 2016-11-03 Administrators of academic professional and technical communication PTSC programs have long relied upon lore stories of what works to understand and communicate about the work of program administration Stories are interesting telling engaging and necessary But a discipline focused primarily on stories especially the ephemeral stories narrated at conferences and deliberated at department meetings usually suffice primarily to solve immediate problems and address day to day concerns and activities This edited collection captures some of those stories and layers them with theoretical perspectives and reflection to enhance their usefulness to the PTSC program administration community at large Like the ephemeral stories PTSC program administrators are accustomed to the stories told in this volume are set within specific institutional contexts that reflect specific institutional challenges They emphasize the intellectual traces the debts the authors owe to those who have informed and transformed their administrative work In so doing this collection creates another conversation albeit a robust diverse and theoretically informed one around which program leaders might define or redefine their roles and re envision their administrative work as the rich complex intellectual engagement that we find it to be This volume asks authors to move beyond a notion of administration as an activity based solely in institutional details and processes In so doing they emphasize theory as they share their reflections on core administrative processes and significant moments in the histories of their associated programs thereby affording opportunities for critical examination in conjunction with practical advice

Lerner, 2012-12-06 Service learning as defined by the editors is the generation of knowledge that is of benefit to the community as a whole This seventh volume in the Outreach Scholarship book series contributes a unique discussion of how service learning functions as a critical cornerstone of outreach scholarship The sections and chapters of this book marshal evidence in support of the idea that undergraduate service learning infused throughout the curriculum and coupled with outreach scholarship is an integral means through which higher education can engage people and institutions of the communities of this nation in a manner that perpetuate civil society The editors through this series of models of service learning make a powerful argument for the necessity of engaged institutions
