Communication for and Against Democracy Marc Raboy, Peter Aurelius Bruck, 1989 Addresses different aspects of the communication question bringing out the ways in which communication serves at times as an instrument of repression and domination and at other times as a support for human emancipation Essays written by international scholars and activists These essays do much to increase reader awareness of the mediatization of society Choice In Between Communication Theories Through One Hundred Questions Tomas Kačerauskas, Algis Mickūnas, 2020-03-02 This book takes the form of a dialogue It presents two authors specialized in the phenomenology posing questions to each other and offering complex answers for critical discussion The book includes both presentation of different communication schools and philosophizing on the issues of communication The authors debate numerous topics by providing the definition and etymology of communication examining the limits of communication and using a political base of communication The issue which pervades all domains is that of mediation how things such as identities styles and bodies are mediated by culture history and tradition and what the limits are of such mediation This question leads to more complex issues of mediated mediations such that an explication of one medium is framed by another medium leading to a question of meta language as a fundamental unmediated medium This involves some fine points of mediation perspectivity discursivity ethics of communication ideology private and public Throughout the mutual interrogative dialogue the authors touch upon but avoid the daunting commitment to a theory of metacommunication as well as the transcendental problematic of accessing the numerous theoretical thematic and historical aspects of communication Communication For and Against Democracy Marc Raboy, 1989 The European Union and Human Rights Jan Wouters, Manfred Nowak, Anna-Luise Chané, Nicolas Hachez, 2020-12-17 With the adoption of the Lisbon Treaty the profile of human rights issues has greatly risen in relation to EU policies whether internal or external The EU has thereby made the commitment to ensure that all its actions are compliant with human rights and seek to promote them Yet the EU's commitment has come under scrutiny not only for its ground breaking character but also because recent events have put it to the test This volume has been designed to take stock of these developments to comprehensively discuss the conceptualization and operationalization of the EU's commitment to human rights throughout the EU's relationships policies actions and legislative activity and to critically assess its outcome This title is divided into four parts Framework presents the issues related to human rights promotion by the EU Actors delves into the relationships that play a part at home or abroad in regards to human rights policies and judgements Policies takes a case study approach and systematically reviews a range of EU internal and external policies to assess their human rights impact and implementation and finally Strategies provides an integrated assessment of the design and implementation of the EU's commitment to human rights This book brings together essays from around the world each discussing different aspects of EU commitment and evaluating the extent to which the EU is delivering on it Each chapter provides an introduction to the state of affairs
