Communication Theories in Action Michelle Terese Violanti, Julia T. Wood, 2000 Theories of Communication Armand Mattelart, Professor Armand Mattelart, Michèle Mattelart, 1998-07 This textbook provides students with a concise introduction to the development of communication theory Written in an engaging style it offers an account of the development of all the major theoretical approaches in communication and media studies The book summarizes clearly and methodically the range of existing theories explains how and why the diverse currents and schools of thought emerged and contextualizes all the major approaches including those of cultural studies and political economy in their historical social and intellectual setting Theories of Communication is an essential text for all students of media communication and cultural studies It will also be welcomed by anyone seeking to understand the changes that have accompanied the rise of the so called information society Building Communication Theories Fred L. Casmir, 2013-10-16 Concern with various matters related to humans as they communicate has led to an increase in both research and theorizing during the second half of the 20th century As a matter of fact so many scholars and so many disciplines have become involved in this process that it is virtually impossible to understand and appreciate all that has been accomplished so far This book focuses on one important aspect of human sense making theory building and strives to clarify the thesis that theories do not develop in some sort of social intellectual or cultural vacuum They are necessarily the products of specific times insights and mindsets Theories dealing with the process of communication or communicating are tied to socio cultural value systems and historic factors that influence individuals in ways often inadequately understood by those who use them The process orientation of this book inevitably leads to an emphasis on the perceptions of human beings Thus the focus shifts from the subject or area called communication to the act of communicating Finally this volume offers insight into how the process of human sense making has evolved in those academic fields commonly identified as communication rhetoric speech communication or speech within specific socio cultural settings The Speaker's Handbook Jo Sprague, Douglas Stuart, 2005 This text is a reference guide for the individual speaker and textbook for use in the public speaking course It covers the issues one commonly confronts in preparing and delivering a speech Pref Student Companion for Communication Theories in Action Michelle Terese Violanti, 2000
