Communities Of Resistance Writings On Black Struggles For Socialism:

Communities of Resistance A. Sivanandan, 2019-11-12 There is no socialism after liberation socialism is the process through which liberation is won Each of the essays in Communities of Resistance acts as a critical reaffirmation of socialist politics as the context for questions of race and resistance The left itself is under scrutiny here from a black perspective A series of powerful interventions covers many of the issues which have confronted radical politics in the 1980s inner city uprisings the demand for black sections in the Labour Party local government anti racism the move to a common European market This collection included incisive critiques of contemporary Marxism All that Melts into Air is Solid The Hokum of New Times of post colonial development and of the Eurocentric assessment of imperialism The End of Tolerance Arun Kundnani, 2007-07-20 Is Britain becoming a more racist society Arun Kundnani looks behind the media hysteria to show how multicultural Britain is under attack by government policies and vitriolic press campaigns that play upon fear and encourage racism Exacerbated by the attacks of 9 11 and 7 7 Kundnani argues that a new form of racism is emerging that is based on a systematic failure to understand the causes of forced migration global terrorism and social segregation The result is a climate of hatred especially against Muslims and asylum seekers Yet the government presses ahead with flawed policies and anti terrorist legislation that creates further resentment alienation and criminalisation What can be done This timely and precise analysis is a useful account of why racism is now thriving and what we can do to stop it No Justice, No Police? Matt Clement, 2023-05-26 Sparked by the brutal police murder of George Floyd the second wave of the blacklivesmatter protest movement has surged across more than 100 US cities spilling into Brazil South Africa Paris and London to name a few of the primary sites of active resistance This is a new movement international in scope with a disproportionately large section of young people black and white using their own language and tactics to fundamentally challenge the whole range of racist institutions governing today s globalised world Matt Clement s No Justice No Police The Politics of Protest and Social Change chronicles this movement as it continues to deepen and broaden South Asian Writers in Twentieth-Century Britain Ruvani Ranasinha, 2007-02-22 This book considers the work of South Asian writers who emigrated to or were born in Britain Comparing the work of different generations it shows how the experience of migrancy the attitudes towards migrant writers in the literary market place and the critical reception of them changed significantly during the twentieth century

Incarcerating the Crisis Jordan T. Camp, 2016-04-18 The United States currently has the largest prison population on the planet Over the last four decades structural unemployment concentrated urban poverty and mass homelessness have also become permanent features of the political economy These developments are without historical precedent but not without historical explanation In this searing critique Jordan T Camp traces the rise of the neoliberal carceral state through a series of turning points in U S history including the Watts insurrection in 1965 the Detroit rebellion in 1967 the Attica uprising in 1971 the Los Angeles revolt in 1992 and events in post Katrina New Orleans in 2005 Incarcerating the Crisis argues that these dramatic events coincided with the emergence of neoliberal capitalism and the state's attempts to crush radical social movements. Through an examination of the poetic visions of social movements including those by James Baldwin, Marvin Gaye, June Jordan, José Martí, and Suni Patterson, it also suggests that alternative outcomes have been and continue to be possible.

No Country Sonali Perera, 2014-02-11 Can there be a novel of the international working class despite the conditions and constraints of economic globalization? What does it mean to invoke working class writing as an ethical intervention in an age of comparative advantage and outsourcing? No Country argues for a rethinking of the genre of working class literature. Sonali Perera expands our understanding of working class fiction by considering a range of international texts, identifying textual, political, and historical linkages often overlooked by Eurocentric and postcolonial scholarship. Her readings connect the literary radicalism of the 1930s to the feminist recovery projects of the 1970s and the anticolonial and postcolonial fiction of the 1960s to today's counter-globalist struggles, building a new portrait of the twentieth century's global economy and the experiences of the working class within it. Perera considers novels by the Indian anticolonial writer Mulk Raj Anand, the American proletarian writer Tillie Olsen, Sri Lankan Tamil Black British writer and political journalist Ambalavaner Sivanandan, Indian writer and bonded labor activist Mahasweta Devi, South African-born Botswanan Bessie Head, and the fiction and poetry published under the collective signature Dabindu, a group of free trade zone garment factory workers and feminist activists in contemporary Sri Lanka. Articulating connections across the global North-South divide, Perera creates a new genealogy of working class writing as world literature and transforms the ideological underpinnings, casting literature as cultural practice.

Confronting Injustice without Compromising Truth Study Guide Thaddeus J. Williams, 2022-06-28 Enacting social justice is essential to the Christian faith. But the Bible's call to seek justice is not a call to superficial activism. True justice requires biblical wisdom and communal discernment. Maybe you're frustrated with a version of Christianity that doesn't seem to take justice seriously. Perhaps you've witnessed the rise of ideologies that brand themselves as social justice but you have a sense that something is off about them. Maybe you have a hunch that God offers a better way to do justice than what's offered by the snarky memes on our news feeds. In this 14-session video-based study guide, teacher and lecturer Thaddeus Williams furthers the case he made in his book, taking study groups and individuals deeper into complex questions of how to pursue a path of justice without compromising the truth of the gospel. Participants will watch video segments, DVD streaming video sold separately, hear from a diverse range of experts, interact in group discussions, and answer personal reflection questions to discover what the Bible and the example of Jesus have to teach us about justice. Williams confronts religious and political tribalism and challenges participants to discover a compelling vision of justice for all. God's image-bearers that offers hopeful answers to life's biggest questions and a way forward. Sessions include: What is Social Justice? The God Question, The Imago Question, The Idolatry Question, The Collective Question, The Splintering Question, The Fruit Question, The Disparity Question, The Color Question, The Gospel Question, The Tunnel Vision
