Community Mental Health Social Action And Reaction:

Community Mental Health Bruce Denner, 1973 Community Mental Health; Social Action and Reaction, Edited by Bruce Denner [And] Richard H. Price Bruce Denner (Comp), 1973 Social Work Response to the White House Conference on Aging Constance Corley Saltz, 1997 This volume is a testimony to the continued interest of the social work profession in broad areas affecting older persons and the profession's commitment to understanding the critical issues and actions needed to optimize the well being of older Americans Social Work Response to the White House Conference on Aging highlights key resolutions made at the White House Conference on Aging WHCOA to provide a blueprint or model for revising and developing programs and policies that benefit the aging population As the authors explore the relation of social work practice to the WHCOA resolutions they seek to eradicate myths about aging and to establish concrete ways for maximizing the quality of life for elders through independence work and productive living Late life is a time when one's sense of importance self esteem and independence is jeopardized Social Work Response to the White House Conference on Aging offers unique insight on how autonomy and beneficence can be restored to elderly persons through their participation in the home the workplace the community and larger society Unabashedly this book discusses ageism barriers to health and mental health services for the elderly premature nursing home placement employment discrimination and family unfriendly policies It also discusses the societal benefits of having a large national resource of productive older adults grandparents raising grandchildren unmet mental health needs among older persons residential patterns the demographic demands of a rapidly growing elderly and disabled population social and moral links among generations balancing mutual aid and independence tactics and techniques of coalition building on the local and state levels crime prevention and elder abuse The 1995 White House Conference on Aging made an urgent call for action In the wake of that call this book shows social work educators practitioners and academics how they can use the WHCOA resolutions to advocate on behalf of elderly persons and get them the policies programs assistance and services they need to enjoy active full lives Community Mental Health Centers, Perspectives of the Seventies , 1981 Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman, 2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families The volume's 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging

A truly monumental resource this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today
