in which they feel pressured by mutually exclusive expectations and imperatives Latin American mestizos therefore are inevitably conflicted Despite the vastness of the geography in question and the innumerable variations in regional histories oral traditions and natural settings these contradictory demands create a pervasive dynamic that penetrates the very fabric of society showing up intentionally or not in the stories passed from generation to generation as well as in new stories written or adapted for Spanish speaking children The goal of this study therefore is to examine a variety of children s texts from the region to determine how national and hemispheric perceptions of reality identity and values are passed to the next generation This book will appeal to scholars in the fields of Latin American literary and cultural studies children s literature postcolonial studies and comparative literature
