Como Hacer Cosas Sin Palabras

Alan Slater, J. Gavin Bremner

Como Hacer Cosas Sin Palabras:

Cómo hacer cosas sin palabras Diego Parente, 2024 This book explores a materialist philosophy of technology focusing on how things are made without words It examines the relationship between humans and artificial environments material culture and the agency of objects The author argues for shifting attention from functions and intentions to situated practices and material realizations in understanding technical objects and systems Cómo hacer cosas con palabras John Langshaw Austin, 1982 Este libro contiene ideas expuestas por John Langshaw Austin una figura clave en el mundo filosófico contemporáneo en sus clases y en un ciclo de conferencias ofrecido en la Universidad de Harvard las William James Lectures Se trata pues de una recopilación de notas cuidadosamente realizada por J O Urmson en la que quedan expuestas las últimas e inconclusas reflexiones de Austin sobre temas candentes de filosofía del lenguaje A ellos contribuye de manera original con su análisis de las denominadas expresiones realizativas performative utterances la noción de fuerza ilocucionaria y en general con su teoría de los actos lingüísticos Las ideas de Austin sobre la importancia del lenguaje ordinario el carácter cooperativo de la investigación filosófica y la necesidad de una ciencia del lenguaje liberada definitivamente del yugo de la filosofía hacen entre otras cosas que esta obra no sólo posea atractivo especial para todos aquellos interesados en la reflexión filosófica sobre el lenguaje sino también comunicación la semántica lingüística e incluso la filosofía del derecho Moving and Interacting in Infancy and Early Childhood Silvia Español, Mauricio Martínez, Fernando G. Rodríguez, 2022-09-08 This book introduces studies on infant and early childhood development that are in a permanent dialogue with the psychology of music the philosophy of mind and human movement studies They are based on an innovative framework that combines embodied cognition the multimodal approach to child development and the second person perspective in social cognition This frame of reference allows authors to revisit relevant topics in developmental psychology such as adult infant interactions early intersubjective experiences the development of perceptual verbal and gestural communication skills as well as the complexity of play in infancy and early childhood In the field of infancy and early childhood studies the three viewpoints brought together in this volume had a clear innovative impact Embodied psychology showed the body to be the primary agent in the interactions that shape the infant's psyche The second person perspective exhibited the direct transparent I Thou contact involved in the first patterns of reciprocity between adult and infant and the multimodal theory of perceptual development revealed an infant immersed in a multisensory environment conveying information to all perceptual systems as a unified experience The studies presented in this volume combine these three viewpoints and link them through the use of analytical tools and concepts from the temporal arts music and dance This way of conducting empirical research on some central topics in early infancy led to an aesthetic conception of development that emphasizes bodily experience temporal affects and their intertwining with symbolic capacities Moving and Interacting in Infancy and Early Childhood An Embodied Intersubjective and Multimodal Approach to the Interpersonal World will provide innovative tools for developmental and cognitive psychologists studying the development of early socio cognitive skills in infants and young children and will also serve as a rich source of information for researchers and practitioners in other fields such as education and nursing who can benefit from cutting edge knowledge in developmental sciences

The Cambridge Handbook of Sociocultural Psychology Jaan Valsiner, Alberto Rosa, 2007-06-04 This book first published in 2007 is an international overview of the state of our knowledge in sociocultural psychology as a discipline located at the crossroads between the natural and social sciences and the humanities Since the 1980s the field of psychology has encountered the growth of a new discipline cultural psychology that has built new connections between psychology sociology anthropology history and semiotics The handbook integrates contributions of sociocultural specialists from fifteen countries all tied together by the unifying focus on the role of sign systems in human relations with the environment It emphasizes theoretical and methodological discussions on the cultural nature of human psychological phenomena moving on to show how meaning is a natural feature of action and how it eventually produces conventional symbols for communication Such symbols shape individual experiences and create the conditions for consciousness and the self to emerge turn social norms into ethics and set history into motion

The Social Life of Objects in Early Development Cintia Rodríguez, Pedro Palacios, Iván Moreno-Llanos, Irene Guevara, 2025-06-21 This book fills a gap in early developmental psychology by providing a critical reconsideration of the status of artifact objects as protagonists of children's actions and communication The main thesis explored in the book is that objects are part of the material culture they have public functions and social meanings that are transmitted by the members of the community Their meanings are not naturally given and children are not born knowing what to do with objects All chapters analyze and illustrate communication with parents or with teachers and peers in the early years school The book also explores the status of action and uses of materiality in communicative situations with children on the autism spectrum The book shows objects coming alive in action and in communication shaping the social foundations and early development of the human psyche The book is intended for use by scholars and researchers in developmental psychology teachers in early childhood education mainly 0-3 years undergraduate and postgraduate students in the fields of psychology and education and sociocultural psychologists interested in early development
