Let's Get Real Martha Caldwell, Oman Frame, 2022-02-15 This is a vital resource for any teacher or administrator looking to help students tackle issues of race class gender religion and cultural background Authors Martha Caldwell and Oman Frame both lifelong educators offer a series of teaching strategies designed to encourage conversation and personal reflection enabling students to think creatively rather than stereotypically about difference Using the Transformational Inquiry method your students will learn to explore their own identities share stories and thoughts with their peers learn more through reading and research and ultimately take personal and collaborative action to affect social change in their communities This second edition s updates include new research throughout as well as additional lessons on gender and sexuality The lesson plans and handouts throughout the book are appropriate for middle and high school classes and are easy to implement into your own curriculum

Ten Thousand Steps in Her Shoes Muneeza Mehmood Alam, Lisa Bagnoli, 2024-07-18 Women around the world face numerous mobility challenges Public transport can provide many economic benefits that should be enjoyed equally by all users regardless of gender or life circumstances In the Middle East and North Africa MENA region women have a higher university enrollment rate than men yet their labor force participation rate remains low and stagnant What is preventing them from translating their educational achievements into economic productivity Is it a matter of personal preference or structural barriers or is it both Although public transport systems can play a significant role in women s participation in the labor force globally this topic has been little explored in the MENA region Ten Thousand Steps in Her Shoes The Role of Public Transport in Women s Economic Empowerment examines the role of public transport in women s access to economic opportunities in urban MENA The book studies the links among mobility gender and access to economic opportunities and focuses on three metropolitan areas Amman Jordan Beirut Lebanon and Cairo the Arab Republic of Egypt Chapters focus on the availability of public transport close to households and employment centers accessibility to job opportunities affordability social and cultural norms and safety from crime and harassment Data collected in 2022 reveal that a significant percentage of non working women in urban MENA lack affordable comfortable safe time efficient and reliable transport options thus preventing them from seeking work Women can contribute significantly to the economy Improving public transport and tailoring it to the needs of various communities can help women be economically active In addition providing flexible work arrangements that support balancing personal family and work lives protecting women from gender based discrimination and offering high quality childcare options near where people work or live are key However gender equity in transport use can be only partially accomplished through well intentioned policy interventions Public awareness and endorsement of the benefits of greater gender equality within households workplaces and society at large are also crucial to advancing women s participation in the economy The analysis and recommendations presented in this report will help policy makers in Jordan Lebanon and Egypt design concrete actions improve women's mobility through public transport and create an enabling environment to increase female economic participation Employment Security Review, 1943

Rethinking Organizational Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion William J. Rothwell, Phillip L. Ealy, Jamie Campbell, 2022-05-03 Research has shown that having a diverse organization only improves and enhances businesses Forbes and Time report that diversity is an 8 Billion a year investment However poorly implementing diversity programs have damaging effects on the organization and the very individuals these programs attempt to help Poorly implemented programs can cause peers and subordinates to question decisions and lose faith in leadership In addition it can cause even the most confident individuals to doubt their own skillset and qualifications Many organizations have turned to training to solve this complex issue Yet still other organizations have created and filled diversity and inclusion positions to tackle the issue The effects of these poorly implemented programs are highlighted during strenuous times such as the latest COVID 19 pandemic Marginalized people are more marginalized and resources and support do not reach everyone Tasks such as providing technical support conducting large group meetings or distributing work obligations without seeing employees on a daily basis becomes more challenging Complex problems cannot be solved with simple solutions Using organization development OD to develop a comprehensive change initiative can help This book outlines how properly conducting an OD change initiative can effectively increase an organization's diversity and inclusion it is grounded in research based literature on diversity and OD principles Many organizational leaders realize the key importance of diversity equity inclusion and multiculturalism in modern organizations It is only through such efforts can organizations thrive in a networked world where much work is done virtually and often across borders But a common scenario is that leaders recognizing the need for a diversity program will pick someone from the organization to launch it Perhaps the person identified for this challenge is in the HR department but has had no experience in launching diversity efforts or even in managing large scale long term organization wide change efforts But these are the challenges to be faced This book quickly identifies some reasons why diversity programs fail and how to avoid those failures The majority of the book highlights how to use OD to improve organization culture and processes to not only increase diversity and inclusion but develop overall organization talent and prevent personal preferences and biases from hindering the selection of the best talent for positions
