Communicating For Development Experience In The Urban Environment Urban Management Series:

Communicating for Development Catalina Gandelonas, 2002 The book offers in depth discussion about how the communication process works or doesn't work. It questions and challenges who are the stakeholders, what are the best vehicles for transferring knowledge, why are local networks and intermediaries so important, what can hinder the communication process, and how may these gaps be overcome. New Media Leah A. Lievrouw, Sonia M. Livingstone, 2009

Contested Space Alison Brown, 2006 Based on a research study in four developing cities Dar Es Salaam, Kumasi, Maseru and Kathmandu, Contested Space explores the survival strategies of street traders and their relationships with city governments and examines the practical and policy implications for pro-poor street management. Funding Local Governance Jo Beall, 2005 This book explores the value of funding local initiatives that are designed to support development activities and promote local democracy. Reviewing experiences from Africa, Asia, Europe and Latin America, it demonstrates how local funds can deliver development within the context of a rights-based approach and democratic decentralization.

Cityscape in the Era of Information and Communication Technologies Agata Bonenberg, 2017-10-31 This book discusses the impact of information and communication technologies, particularly social media, on the structure and landscape of contemporary cities. It presents a multidisciplinary range of theories and practical case studies and addresses a broad readership from graduate students to practitioners active in the fields of urbanism and the architectural design of urban space. The book includes a wealth of illustrations depicting contemporary architecture and exemplary modern public spaces, as well as diagrams and tables that optimally visualize the concepts and ideas discussed. Routledge Handbook of Asian Cities Richard Hu, 2023-05-31 This handbook provides the most comprehensive examination of Asian cities, developed and developing, large and small, and their urban development. Investigating the urban challenges and opportunities of cities from every nation in Asia, the handbook engages not only the global cities like Shanghai, Tokyo, Singapore, Seoul, and Mumbai, but also less studied cities like Dili, Mal, Bandar Seri Begawan, Kabul, and Pyongyang. The handbook discusses Asian cities in alignment to the United Nations New Urban Agenda and Sustainable Development Goals in order to contribute to global policy debates. In doing so, it critically reflects on the development trajectories of Asian cities and imagines an urban future in Asia and the world in the post-sustainable, post-global, and post-pandemic era. Presenting 43 chapters of original, insightful research, this book will be of interest to scholars, practitioners, students, and general readers in the fields of urban development, urban policy, and planning, urban studies, and Asian studies. Governing Cities Meine Pieter van Dijk, Marika Noordhoek, Emiel A. Wegelin, 2002 The editors distil and discuss the elements contributing to the changing role of urban management: the prerequisites for and effects of decentralization; the importance of good governance and attention to cultural diversity; the role and potential of technological developments; the importance of formulating policies at city level.

Planning in Cities Roger Zetter, Rodney R. White, 2002 In this collection that bridges theory and practice, experts address the conflicting challenges of the increasingly rapid scale and speed of city growth and the problem of finding effective urban planning policies and management strategies to handle such challenges Bibliographic Index ,2006
