Communicating Vessels Andr  Breton, 1990-01-01 What Freud did for dreams Andr  Breton 1896 1966 does for despair in its distortions he finds the marvelous and through the marvelous the redemptive force of imagination Originally published in 1932 in France Les Vases communicants is an effort to show how the discoveries and techniques of surrealism could lead to recovery from despondency This English translation makes available the theories upon which the whole edifice of surrealism as Breton conceived it is based In Communicating Vessels Breton lays out the problems of everyday experience and of intellect His involvement with political thought and action led him to write about the relations between nations and individuals in a mode that moves from the quotidian to the lyrical His dreams triggered a curious correspondence with Freud available only in this book As Caws writes The whole history of surrealism is here in these pages Architecture and the

Mimetic Self Lucy Huskinson, 2018-02-02 Buildings shape our identity and sense of self in profound ways that are not always evident to architects and town planners or even to those who think they are intimately familiar with the buildings they inhabit Architecture and the Mimetic Self provides a useful theoretical guide to our unconscious behaviour in relation to buildings and explains both how and why we are drawn to specific elements and features of architectural design It reveals how even the most uninspiring of buildings can be modified to meet our unconscious expectations and requirements of them and by the same token it explores the repercussions for our wellbeing when buildings fail to do so Criteria for effective architectural design have for a long time been grounded in utilitarian and aesthetic principles of function efficiency cost and visual impact Although these are important considerations they often fail to meet the fundamental needs of those who inhabit and use buildings Misconceptions are rife not least because our responses to architecture are often difficult to measure and are in large part unconscious By bridging psychoanalytic thought and architectural theory Architecture and the Mimetic Self frees the former from its preoccupations with interpersonal human relations to address the vital relationships that we establish with our nonhuman environments In addition to providing a guide to the unconscious behaviours that are most relevant for evaluating architectural design this book explains how our relationships with the built environment inform a more expansive and useful psychoanalytic theory of human relationship and identity It will appeal to psychoanalysts and analytical psychologists architects and all who are interested in the overlaps of psychology architecture and the built environment Treatise on Style Aragon, 1991-01-01 Surprising juxtapositions like goats spread across pianos and fearful optical illusions like eyeballs being sliced characterized the surrealist movement in the arts in 1928 when Louis Aragon published Trait du Style in Paris Aragon had become ever more contemptuous of vogues and pretensions In the name of surrealism he produced the first significant critique of it Instead of merely upsetting old relationships and skewering sensibilities Trait du Style was meant to shock with a capital S and it did Only now has it been completely translated into English Although time has attenuated the scandalous nature of Aragon's language his criticism has lost none of its edge in this translation by Alyson Waters From the beginning which describes a postcard showing a little boy on a potty as representative of French humor and the French spirit to the end an attack in scatological language on the French military establishment Aragon zeros in on one target after another Nothing escapes his notice or venom whether it is the masturbatory output of contemporary writers the prostitution of culture or the perversions of government Still Treatise on Style is more than a brilliant diatribe directed against what Aragon perceived as the moral political and intellectual failures of his time He proposes surrealism in art as in life as a means to achieve a valid ethical and aesthetic style Surrealism as Aragon defines it here loses some of its mythical and mystical trappings it becomes inspiration with rolled up shirt sleeves He exercises this faculty in his own writing which aims to shake readers out of their complacency by alternating the intensely lyrical with the borderline obscene and juxtaposing the language of the educated elite with that of the street Whether denouncing religious fantacism or dispensing praise Aragon remains true to his idea of the surrealist project to reclassify certain values through the act of writing itself Treatise on Style entertains as a portrait of a movement and of a personality who kept moving Aminadab Maurice Blanchot,2002-01-01 Thomas enters a boarding house but can t seem to leave

The Lost Steps Andr  Breton,1996-01-01 The Lost Steps Les Pas perdus is Andr  Breton s first collection of critical and polemical essays Composed between 1917 and 1923 these pieces trace his evolution during the years when he was emerging as a central figure in French and European intellectual life They chronicle his tumultuous passage through the Dada movement proclaim his explosive views on Modernism and its heroes and herald the emergence of Surrealism itself Along the way we are given Breton s serious commentaries on his Modernist predecessors Guillaume Apollinaire and Alfred Jarry followed by his not so serious Dada manifestoes Also included are portraits of Marcel Duchamp Francis Picabia and Breton s mysterious friend Jacques Vachi as well as a crisis by crisis account of his dealing with Dada s leader Tristan Tzara Finally Breton offers a first glimpse of Surrealism the movement that was forever after identified with his name and that stands as a defining force in twentieth century aesthetics Mark Polizzotti editorial director of David R Godine Publisher is the author of Revolution of the Mind The Life of Andr  Breton He is also the translator of Jean Echenoz s Double Jeopardy Nebraska 1994 and Cherokee Nebraska 1994 and of Andr  Breton s Conversations The Autobiography of Surrealism Mary Ann Caws is Distinguished Professor of French at Hunter College and at the City University of New York Her most recent work is Robert Motherwell What Art Holds She is the translator of Andr  Breton s Mad Love Nebraska 1987 and Communicating Vessels Nebraska 1990 Books in Print ,1994 Library of the World's Best Literature, Ancient and Modern: Biographical dictionary Charles Dudley Warner,Hamilton Wright Mabie,Lucia Isabella Gilbert Runkle,George Henry Warner,1902

Library of the World's Best Literature, Ancient and Modern Charles Dudley Warner,Hamilton Wright Mabie,Lucia Isabella Gilbert Runkle,George Henry Warner,1902 Awaiting Oblivion Maurice Blanchot,1999-01-01 Another of Blanchot s almost fictions throwing into deliciously baffling high relief the enigmatic condition of a man and woman alone in a sparsely furnished hotel room who try to remember what has happened to bring them there as they apprehensively await whatever will happen next Their reserved confusion and quiet desperation eventually impress upon them and us the realization that imagination or if you will writing can create reality and offer the paradoxical solace that seems to rest at the heart of Blanchot's writing the sense that even language that expresses meaninglessness can't help but contain and therefore convey meaning Kirkus This absolutely first rate translation will not only make Blanchot accessible to many new readers but will also encourage Blanchot scholars and students to reconsider everything they thought they knew about L'Attente l'oubli This book should be required reading period Choice Awaiting Oblivion is one of Blanchot's crowning works a penetrating reflection upon human nature language and literature Translation Review Blanchot is a terrifying writer Review of Contemporary Fiction Maurice Blanchot has been for a half century one of France's leading authors of fiction and theory Two of his most ambitious nonfiction works The Space of Literature and The Writing of the Disaster are also available from the University of Nebraska Press as is The Most High his third novel John Gregg is the author of Maurice Blanchot and the Literature of Transgression

Hesitant Fire Max Jacob, 1991-01-01 A serious artist and a literary clown nonpareil Max Jacob was born in Brittany in 1876 and died in a Nazi prison camp in 1944 His influence on modern French poetry was profound and his modernist lyrical verse is still widely read Much of his other work is equally exciting and original but has waited decades for capable translators Hesitant Fire makes available for the first time in English some of his best prose The translators Moishe Black and Maria Green have succeeded in catching his gift for linguistic innovation for mimicry and buffoonery often a millimeter away from melancholy This anthology displays Jacob's versatility for he wrote in a dozen styles The Story of King Kabul the First and Gawain the Kitchen Boy is a fable populated by Balibridgians and Bouloulabassians Excerpts from In Defense of Tartufe reveal the poet's mysticism and aestheticism Those from The Flowering Plant offer brilliant social analysis behind a mask of the Absurd Flim Flam studies such characters as The Lawyer Who Meant to Have Two Wives Instead of One and The Unmarried Teacher at the High School in Cherbourg The Dullard Prince blends autobiography and fiction Letters to Mrs Golden calf and other imaginary members of the bourgeoisie are taken from The Dark Room Never before published The Maid was inspired by a contemporary murder case Also included here are portions of The Bouchaballe Property Jacob's favorite of his own novels entries from A Traveler's Notebook personal letters and four religious meditations For many English language readers Hesitant Fire will be in introduction to a writer who was an immediate precursor of Surrealism who was a close friend of Picasso and Apollinaire who converted to Catholicism but retained an intensely Jewish outlook and who produced work that is still vivid nearly a half century after his death

Break of Day André Breton, 1999-01-01 Originally published in France in 1934 Break of Day is André Breton's second collection of critical and polemical essays following The Lost Steps Nebraska 1996 In fewer than two hundred pages it captures the first full decade of the surrealist movement The collection opens with an essay composed in 1924 that examines key elements of surrealism and concludes with Breton's harsh revaluation in 1933 of automatic writing Among the other essays in the volume are Burial Denied and In Self Defense two pieces that in translator Mark Polizzotti's words mark surrealism's conscious break from the mainstream and the beginning of its attempts to work alongside the French Communist Party Also included are Psychiatry Standing before Surrealism which addresses Breton's complex ambivalent views on mental illness and the emerging psychiatric establishment Introduction to Achim von Arnim's Strange Tales which reveals surrealism's debt to such precursors as the German romantics and delineates a surrealist aesthetic of the macabre and Picasso in His Element in which Breton demonstrates his formidable talents as a critic of the visual arts Progress in Love on the Slow Side Jean Paulhan, 1994-01-01 Five short stories by a French essayist 1884 1968 Annual Bibliography of Modern Art Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.).
