Theory in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics James Mattingly, 2022-09-21 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Theory is a landmark work that examines theory in general and the broad split between the hard and soft sciences a split that is being re examined as approaches to scientific questions become increasingly multidisciplinary      Afrofuturism 2.0 Reynaldo Anderson, Charles E. Jones, 2015-12-16 The ideas and practices related to afrofuturism have existed for most of the 20th century especially in the north American African diaspora community After Mark Dery coined the word afrofuturism in 1993 Alondra Nelson as a member of an online forum along with other participants began to explore the initial terrain and intellectual underpinnings of the concept noting that AfroFuturism has emerged as a term of convenience to describe analysis criticism and cultural production that addresses the intersections between race and technology Afrofuturism 2.0 The Rise of Astroblackness represents a transition from previous ideas related to afrofuturism that were formed in the late 20th century around issues of the digital divide music and literature Afrofuturism 2.0 expands and broadens the discussion around the concept to include religion architecture communications visual art philosophy and reflects its current growth as an emerging global Pan African creative phenomenon      From Pragmatics to Dialogue Edda Weigand, Istvan Kecskes, 2018-09-15 This volume aims at building bridges from pragmatics to dialogue and overcoming the gap between two circles which have cut themselves off from each other in recent decades even if both addressed the same object language use Pragmatics means the study of natural language use There is however no clear answer as to what language use means We are instead confronted with multiple and diverse models in an uncircumscribed field of language use When trying to transform such a puzzle of pieces into a meaningful picture we are confronted with the complexity of language use which does not mean language put to use but represents the unity of a complex whole and calls for a total change in methodology towards a holistic theory Human beings as dialogic individuals use language as dialogue which allows them to tackle the vicissitudes of their lives Dialogue and its methodology of action and reaction can be traced back to human nature and provides the key to the unstructured field of pragmatics The contributions to this volume share this common ground and address various perspectives in different types of action game      Embodiment in the Semiotic Matrix Isaac E.
Catt, 2017-09-22 Communicology is widely accepted on the international scene as a new name for the study of human communication It replaces several equivocal disciplinary conceptions such as communication which may fail to distinguish the science of communication from its object of investigation or the message centered communication studies which often obfuscates information exchange with the experience of shared meaning in human encounters Communicology differs from the American mainstream social science of communication not only because it is grounded in communication theory rather than information theory but also because it advances a philosophically informed ecological perspective on human discourse. This book is intended as a contribution to the philosophy of communication and the human science of communicology. Semiotic phenomenology is thoroughly described as the synthetic logic that combines a philosophy of consciousness with a science of culture and conduct to explicate the lifeworld habitus. Consciousness is viewed as cultural semiotic and experience as personal phenomenological. This is a reciprocal reflexive relationship in which culture is conceived as consciousness of communication and communication the manifest experience of culture. The book describes embodiment so conceived including the history of the matrix idea in American pragmatism and European philosophy as they commingled in the United States to produce a unique discipline of communication the science of embodied discourse. Important roots of this new discipline are described for the first time here in a unique synthesis of C S Peirce John Dewey Gregory Bateson and Pierre Bourdieu. In addition the semiotic relativity hypothesis is argued to be an important implication of this new discipline. Transcending the stale debate on language and thought the limited conception of linguistic relativity is considerably broadened and deepened. The distinctive lifeworld of humans is argued to occur at the threshold of sign consciousness in the semiotic matrix of culture society person. Semiotic phenomenology is not only a synthesis of two great European philosophical movements structuralism and phenomenology it is also the essence of American pragmatism. This view culminates in the contemporary human science of communicology.

Encyclopedia of Phenomenology Lester Embree, 2013-06-29. This encyclopedia presents phenomenological thought and the phenomenological movement within philosophy and within more than a score of other disciplines on a level accessible to professional colleagues of other orientations as well as to advanced undergraduate and graduate students. Entries average 3 000 words. In practically all cases they include lists of works for further study. The Introduction briefly chronicles the changing phenomenological agenda and compares phenomenology with other 20th Century movements. The 166 entries are about matters of seven sorts: 1 the four broad tendencies and periods within the phenomenological movement 2 twenty three national traditions of phenomenology 3 twenty two philosophical sub disciplines including those referred to with the formula the philosophy of x 4 phenomenological tendencies within twenty one non philosophical disciplines 5 forty major phenomenological topics 6 twenty eight leading phenomenological figures and 7 twenty seven non phenomenological figures and movements of interesting similarities and differences with phenomenology. Concerning persons years of birth and death are given upon first mention in an entry of the names of deceased non phenomenologists. The names of persons believed to be phenomenologists and also for cross referencing purposes the titles of other entries are printed entirely in SMALL CAPITAL letters also upon first mention. In addition all words thus occurring in all small capital letters are listed in the index with the numbers of all pages on which they occur. To facilitate indexing Chinese Hungarian and Japanese names have been rearranged so that the personal name precedes the family name.
