Communities In Transformation Anthropological Journal On European Cultures:

Anthropological Journal on European Cultures ,2005 Communities in Transformation Gabriela Kiliánová,Martin Kanovsky,2004 Since 1989 the theme of the onset the course and future of the change in post socialist countries of Central and Eastern Europe was interlinked with the dismantling of the old authoritarian regime and introduction of the new democratic one It has been at the centre of attention of politicians media and the public at large and it has entered the field of interest of the social sciences as well For ethnologists and anthropologists this theme represents a unique historical experience and it creates the opportunity to observe the key processes of changes in specific conditions of the living laboratory of a current social reality The collection of papers published in this issue has similar objectives It brings empirical mostly case studies of cultural and socio economic changes in rural and urban communities in Central and Eastern Europe namely in the Czech Republic Poland Slovakia and Ukraine Individual contributions explore the ongoing process of social economic and cultural transformation in post socialist societies and its impact at the local and regional micro level Social Transformations in Scandinavian Cities Magnus Johansson,Erica Righard,Tapio Salonen,2016-02-14 The Social Transformations of Scandinavian Cities highlights the changing face of social sustainability and social disintegration in Scandinavian cities against the backdrop of ongoing global societal transformations It contributes to the literature on urban development in advanced societies by bringing in theoretical and empirical analyses of how migration inequality residential segregation and changes in national and local policy intersects and unfolds in urban landscapes in Denmark Norway and Sweden In particular this volume contributes with insights to how these processes play out in a Scandinavian welfare state context In The Social Transformations of Scandinavian Cities we learn in which ways and how progress is being made today

The Rise and Fall of Community Studies Robert Parkin,2025-09-01 Since its inception about a century ago the anthropology of Europe has transitioned from studies of settled communities shaped by fieldwork traditions elsewhere to a focus on more mobile and virtual communities This book provides a partial retrospective on the field offering a rich collection of ethnographic summaries from across the continent It will be of interest to students and academics seeking a survey of this branch of anthropology whether for private study or university courses Family, Kinship and State in Contemporary Europe Hannes Grandits,Patrick Heady,Peter P. Schweitzer,Martin Kohli,2010 Kinship is at the heart of European society sharing with the state responsibility for welfare and social reproduction But the workings of kinship and their connection to state policies remain controversial Received theories have had to be revised in the light of social and demographic change and accumulating evidence of long standing cultural differences With Family Kinship and State in Contemporary Europe the editors and their collaborators have gathered a three volume array of historical sociological and ethnographic data that examine these issues and introduce readers to the types of kin relationships found around contemporary Europe In this volume the authors report the findings of a comparative ethnographic study looking at the local reality of family life its practical constraints and the support and control offered by wider kinship and community ties in nineteen localities across Europe The ethnographic chapters are placed in context by a quantitative comparison of kinship networks and by opening and concluding chapters focusing on kinship theory and the sustainability of kinship and community ties Engaging and

Transforming Global Communication through Cultural Discourse Analysis Trudy Milburn,Michelle Scollo,2018-11-13 Global communication can be difficult in the best of circumstances The contributors in this book take seriously the premise that one can examine communication within specific global settings and scenes with the goal of ensuring that the meanings made among those within specific communities is more clearly understood This includes recognizing that we often communicate based on specific assumptions and act in ways that have normative bases that are shared with those within communities but are often difficult to discern or navigate by those who are not members of them Situated within the Ethnography of Communication research program the contributors in this volume use Cultural Discourse Analysis to examine such practices a theory and methodology developed by Donal Carbaugh over the past thirty years The book is a celebration of his work and career in which forty four prominent Communication scholars and practitioners come together to use this framework to examine pressing communication issues across the globe The book includes a preface by Gerry Philipsen that is an academic history of Carbaugh s career an introduction outlining the history and current practice of Cultural Discourse Analysis sixteen data based chapters using the framework to examine a broad range of inter cultural communication practices across the globe and an epilogue by Carbaugh reviewing this research and its future trajectory The book is a handbook of Cultural Discourse Analysis for examining the latest in Cultural Discourse Analysis research and learning how to do such work that will be useful to advanced undergraduate and graduate students in a broad range of fields inter cultural communication scholars and all those who seek to better understand and communicate in the global world today The

Anthropology of East Europe Review ,2009 Extremism and Violent Extremism in Serbia Valery Perry,2019-04-30 The topics of extremism violent extremism and radicalization leading to terrorism have constituted an increasingly prominent area of policy interest and donor support in recent years globally and in the western Balkans Counterterrorism initiatives as well as efforts to prevent and counter violent extremism P CVE often reveal the need for broader reform peacebuilding and democratization strategies While foreign donors and domestic authorities tend to focus on ISIS inspired violent jihadism in many countries in the region and particularly in the case of Serbia there are other forms of extremism namely far right nationalism violent hooliganism and neo Nazi movements that are often considered to be more of an imminent threat particularly as they are often viewed as examples of normalized political expression The dynamics of reciprocal radicalization in which competing extremisms feed off of reinforce and even need one another can create seemingly intractable conflict spirals of escalation and violence This volume explores these dynamics in Serbia through original research taking fresh perspectives that demonstrate that Serbia is vulnerable to many types of extremism which can best be prevented by achieving the liberal democratic rights based reforms that have remained elusive for more than two decades This broad and holistic approach is important for Serbia and its neighbors as the security lens through which most research has been focused to date has done little to explain the deep and structural dynamics of radicalization and extremism in the region
