Community Education in the Western World C. D. Poster, Angelika Kruger, 1990 First published in 1990 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Community Education and the Western World Angelika Kruger, Cyril Poster, 2002-11-01 Community education is now a worldwide phenomenon It may have as its operational focus a school or community centre or it may have no specific location but be an activity of a village or neighbourhood It may be primarily concerned with learning or with community development or with community action Inevitably and properly its form derives from the social and historical context of each country and from the needs of its people The editors of this volume have a wide experience of international community education both through their work for the International Community Education Association and their personal links with many of the countries represented here Community Education and the Western World Angelika Kruger, Cyril Poster, 2002-11 First published in 1990 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company EBOOK: LOCAL EDUCATION Mark Smith, 1994-09-16 Drawing upon the experiences of adult and community educators youth and community workers Mark Smith examines the practice of educators who build up ways of working with local networks and cultures Shops launderettes streets bars cafes and people s houses are the settings for much of their work and when they do appear in schools and colleges they are most likely to be found in corridors eating areas and student common rooms Their work is not organized by subject syllabi or lessons it is about conversation and community a commitment to local democracy and self organization and is often unpredictable and risky Mark Smith offers an analysis of the subtle and difficult activity of intervening in other peoples lives of conversing with purpose and of engaging with people to broaden opportunity and to effect change in their lives and communities Routledge International Companion to Education Miriam Ben-Peretz, Sally Brown, Bob Moon, 2004-04-28 The Routledge International Companion to Education aims to address the key issues underpinning the rethinking and restructuring of education at the beginning of the new millennium

Community Education, Principles and Practices from World-wide Experience National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Community Education, 1959 Country Community Education American Country Life Association, 1923 Decolonising Community Education and Development Marjorie Mayo, 2024-10-22 It is vital that we decolonise community education and development learning from the past in order to challenge current discrimination and oppression more effectively In this book Marjorie Mayo identifies ways of developing more inclusive policies and practices working towards social justice for the future She also tackles the pervasive influence of the culture wars undermining work in communities including the denial of problematic colonial legacies Inspired by movements such as Black Lives Matter and labour solidarity the book includes case studies from the US UK and the Global South outlining the lessons that can be applied to community education and development training and practice Community Education, an Agenda for Educational Reform Garth Allen, 1987 Community Education and Neoliberalism Camilla Fitzsimons, 2025-11-10

This open access book now in its second edition offers a powerful analysis of adult and community education at a time of rising inequality and diminishing state support Grounded in both Irish and international contexts this edition again challenges the impact of neoliberal agendas on grassroots community education and makes a convincing case for reclaiming community education s radical consciousness raising agenda The book is theoretically rooted in critical feminist pedagogy and draws on real world examples to present key aspects of this approach to adult learning in a clear accessible and practical way Community Education and Neoliberalism exposes the extent to which market driven forces and managerialist agendas are eroding the transformative nature of adult and community education The author examines the impact of neoliberal government lifelong learning policies the potential drawbacks of professionalising community education and the perils of accreditation systems when marketisation becomes the principal focus But this book does not simply offer a critique it also presents practical pathways to revitalise community education ensuring it continues to be a part of the struggle for a better world which the author argues can only be achieved through collective action The book is essential reading and a call to action for students educators activists and policymakers alike or indeed or anyone who is passionate about equality and social justice
