Community Policing The Challenges Of Successful Organizational Change Criminal Justice Recent Scholarship:

Community Policing Joseph Andrew Schafer, 2001 The Use of Force by Detention Officers Marie L. Griffin, 2001
After conducting a survey of all detention officers in Maricopa County Arizona the author concludes that five variables within the work environment authority fear of victimization institutional operations quality of supervision and role ambiguity have a significant direct and or indirect effect on an officer's willingness to use force The findings suggest that an officer's perception of interactions and or relationships with inmates and supervisory personnel are more influential in the use of force than the officer's perceptions of the larger organization or his/her individual personality Private Vs. Public Operation of Juvenile Correctional Facilities Gaylene Styve Armstrong, 2001 Armstrong studies the environmental quality of confinement in private and public juvenile correctional facilities using data from 48 facilities representing 4 590 delinquents 1 362 staff and 48 administrators in 19 states 16 private and 32 public facilities Her results demonstrate that neither staff nor juvenile delinquents perceived the environmental quality to be significantly different between private and public facilities Further compared to public facilities private facilities were smaller newer and had a more intensive admission process for juvenile delinquents Public and Private correctional staff differed significantly on age and prior work experience Differences in the juvenile populations were minimal Bullies, Fights, and Guns Stacey Nofziger, 2001 Annotation Nofziger sociology anthropology and social work Kansas State U applies self control theory to a broad spectrum of juvenile behaviors from schoolyard bullying to drive by shootings After reviewing subcultural and other criminological theories the author explains self control theory's focus on tendencies toward criminality rather than on specific crimes From an analysis of survey data from four Fayetteville AR schools she concludes that bullying should receive as much attention as more violent behaviors since they all can be mitigated by self control or triggered by opportunity The survey form is appended Annotation c Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice Shlomo Giora Shoham, Ori Beck, Martin Kett, 2007-10-08 At the outset of the twenty first century more than 9 million people are held in custody in over 200 countries around the world from the essay Prisons and Jails by Ron King The first comparative study of this increasingly integral social subject International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice provides a comprehensive and balanced review Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields, 2002 Community Policing in a Rural Setting Quint Thurman, Edmund F. McGarrell, 2014-10-13 The authors provide stepping stones for rural and small town agencies to make the organizational changes needed for community policing to take hold The book introduces the concept of community policing and its many benefits to the agencies and communities that adopt it Important issues discussed include the challenge of organizational change as well as examples of community policing obstacles and successes and the future of community policing in the 21st century "I Won't Do Manhattan" Robert R. Weidner, 2001 Weidner examines a crackdown by the police and a misdemeanor court on street prostitution in Manhattan Indicators covering the years 1990 1998 show that street prostitution disappeared in the crackdown s wake However interviews with prostitutes reveal that the reduction in the market for street prostitution was neither the result nor the cause of prostitutes leaving the life Instead they took measures dressing conservatively working indoors moving elsewhere to reduce the risk of arrest Weidner s findings highlight the ramifications of a focus on improving public spaces by removing individuals seen as detrimental to the general quality of life

The Relationship Between National Homicide Rates and Medical Care

Don Soo Chon,2002 Noting that violence is a process and death is only one possible consequence of it Chon police administration Kaya U South Korea evaluates the argument that medical resources are a predictor of homicide rates for where medical care is poor victims of assault are more likely to die and then be listed as a homicide statistic While other cross national studies have explored this proposition before Chon argues that his study is methodologically improved by its expansion of the number of countries examined and by the inclusion of seven medical variables four variables derived from competing theories and the dependent variable of lethality rate referring to the success rate in attempted homicides Multiple regression techniques are used to analyze the data and only weak support for the proposed model is found Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Crime and Justice in the Age of Court TV Hedieh Nasheri,2002 This book seeks to provide useful and relevant information to aid judges lawyers legal scholars media groups and the public at large in making decisions about the appropriateness of permitting live electronic coverage of courtroom trials both as a general rule and in individual cases To aid in the discussion of cameras in the courtroom this book focuses on the electronic trial coverage conducted by the Courtroom Television Network Court TV The question that this book raises is whether public information about trials is to come solely from second hand summaries on the news spin control press conferences prejudicial and inflammatory characterizations by interested third parties or whether the public will be permitted as well to observe the entirety of the actual in court proceedings under the control of the Court Openness of public institutions including the judiciary is a key ingredient in our democracy Effective Police Leadership in the 21st Century Rob Elkington,Christopher

Democratic Policing in Transitional and Developing Countries

Nathan Pino,Dr Michael D Wiatrowski,2012-12-28 Is it possible to create democratic forms of policing in transitional and developing societies This volume argues that policing models and practices promoted by the west are often inadequate for adoption by countries making democratic transitions because they do not adequately address issues such as human rights equity co production accountability openness and organizational change Therefore police reform is often limited to a one size fits all approach The book expands the dialogue so that discussions of democratic policing around the world are more realistic comprehensive and sensitive to the local context Detailed case studies on Iraq South Africa Northern Ireland and Kazakhstan provide a realistic assessment of the current state of policing The editors use the studies to suggest how to promote democratic policing and other important goals of democratic reform around the world The volume will assist academics policy makers NGOs and others in tailoring a local democratic policing strategy within a broader framework to enhance socioeconomic development and citizen capacity build social capital reduce various forms of conflict and support human rights Fear of Crime Among Inner-city African Americans Yolanda M. Scott,2001 Scott uses a systemic social control approach to explain inner city African Americans fear of crime from their perspective Perceptions of neighborhood disorder intra community control and views of local police extra community control predict fear of local violent and property crime Perceived crime risk is a mediating factor between these fears and the two systemic factors The systemic argument was supported perceived local disorder and negative views of police increased residents fear of crime Central to any reduction in inner city African Americans fear of crime is their perception that there be strong intra and extra community control barriers between themselves and crime Community Policing Geoffrey P. Alpert,Alexis Russell Piquero,1998 This collection reviews analyzes aspects of community policing that have prompted increased attention at both the academic practitioner levels
