Community Care For The Mentally Disabled:

Community Care for the Mentally Disabled John Kenneth Wing, M. Rolf Olsen, 1979 Returning the Mentally Disabled to the Community United States. General Accounting Office, 1977 The Mentally Disordered Offender in an Era of Community Care William Watson, Adrian Grounds, 2007-02-01 The care and management of mentally disordered offenders poses a major challenge to criminal justice agencies and psychiatric services These patients the people nobody owns are particularly vulnerable to political and professional change and as psychiatric services become increasingly community based the task of meeting the needs of the offender as well as expectations of public protection becomes a more difficult prospect This book brings together the papers and a summary of the discussion presented at a Cropwood Round Table conference organized by the Institute of Criminology and the Department of Psychiatry of the University of Cambridge Seeking to define future needs and directions in legal and service provisions it includes perspectives from the fields of criminology sociology and social psychiatry and contributions from practitioners and administrators Remarkable for the tenacity and depth with which the expert contributors address the problems this is essential reading for all professionals working in the psychiatric and criminal justice systems with this frequently marginalized client group Through a searching examination of the situation within one jurisdiction it points the way to service developments improved care management and research opportunities that have universal applications Concepts in community care for people with a learning difficulty Patricia Brigden, Margaret Todd, 1993-11-11 This book provides all those concerned with the delivery of care and services to people with a learning difficulty with an up to date overview of recent development in the area Three major themes are explored empowering individuals change management and working with clients Within this framework the authors examine the historical context of current service delivery and the influences from Europe and America on care practice Practical guidelines are incorporated for staff who might wish to implement some of the ideas within the chapters Community Care and the Future of Mental Health Service Provision Simon Goodwin, 1990 Medicaid Community Care Act of 1980 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Subcommittee on Health and the Environment, 1980 Mental Disability And the European Convention on Human Rights Peter Bartlett, Oliver Lewis, Oliver Thorold, 2007 Mental disability has come of age as a subject of concern under the European Convention on Human Rights It was only in 1979 that the first significant decision of the ECHR was decided on the subject and after that cases were relatively few for many years It is only recently that this has begun to change This volume provides an account of where the law currently stands and speculation as to how it may develop The initial chapters deal with substantive aspects of Convention rights including issues of detention in institutions conditions within institutions medical treatment problems associated with guardianship and others The final two chapters move to discuss the practicalities of litigation The book concludes with a number of appendices primarily the primary international legal materials of relevance to mental disability rights under the ECHR and the relevant recommendations and principles from the Council of Europe It is hoped that this volume in addition to shedding light on where the law currently stands will offer practical guidance to lawyers concerning the mechanics of representing people with mental disabilities

An A-Z of Community Care Law Michael Mandelstam, 1998 Mandelstam breaks this complex subject down into individual terms then explains the legal and practical implications of each term in plain language enabling readers to explore specific issues quickly and concisely

Community Care Practice and the Law Michael Mandelstam, 1999 This second edition of Community Care Practice and the Law has been substantially rewritten and restructured to reflect the rapid change affecting community care in legislation the law courts policy and practice The book bridges the gap between law and practice by juxtaposing fully and systematically legislation legal judgments in the courts local ombudsman and health service ombudsman findings Parliamentary debates and answers and numerous reports about practice from the Department of Health voluntary organisations professional associations and academics Distinctive features of the book include two large digests of cases containing well over three hundred legal judgments and local ombudsman investigations a chapter consisting of a practical checklist of questions for managers practitioners and users of services and their advisors to check the lawfulness of policies eligibility criteria and individual decisions two overview stand alone chapters one summarising the system the other highlighting underlying themes and mechanisms an inclusive approach embracing not only a range of both residential and non residential care services but also equipment and home adaptations carers direct payments NHS services generally and continuing care moving and handling law legislation and guidance old and new underlying joint working and joint finance avoidance of jargon

Impossible Jobs in Public Management Erwin C. Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner's clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency's constituencies 3 the public's confidence in the authority of the commissioner's profession and 4 the strength of the agency's myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs Community Care Sheila Sharkey,Sara Barna,1990 Addresses three principal areas of the controversial policy of community care and considers the context of a policy of community care the planning of services and examples of good practice This book should be of interest to professionals and students of social work psychology and psychiatry Financing Community Care for the Chronically Mentally Ill in Texas David C. Warner,1990 California. Court of Appeal (4th Appellate District). Division 2. Records and Briefs California (State)., New York Court of Appeals. Records and Briefs. New York (State)., California.
