D. Ingram, 2023-03-31

This book engages with contemporary and often polarizing debates surrounding the risks of adolescent use of digital media and internet technologies By drawing on multiple research studies the text synthesizes current understandings of the impacts of social network use online gaming pornography and phenomena including cyberbullying cyberstalking and internet addiction to develop recommendations for the effective identification of at risk youth as well as strategies for informed communication about online risks and opportunities It shows how media discussion of risks to children and teenagers from new technology is highly emotive and often exaggerated rooted in the moral panic surrounding new cultural practices that young people engage in but which adults do not understand Online risks are thus conceptualized as centering on three areas specific to adolescence which have undergone radical changes due to new internet technology These include young people's identity the types of content that are accessed and social relationships The author shows how these matters stem from the potential of new technology to establish new interpersonal connections emphasizing how it brings opportunities as much as risks As such he provides a uniquely balanced discussion of potential dangers while also emphasizing the opportunities for social academic and personal growth which new technologies afford young people It will be indispensable for researchers and clinicians interested in assessing levels of online risk as well as scholars and educators with interests in cyberpsychology social psychology cyber culture social aspects of computing and media and adolescent development Contemporary Business David L. Choosing Web 2.0 Tools for Learning and Teaching in a Digital World Pam Berger, Sally Trexler, 2010-04-09 Learning literacy and Web 2.0 Searching the Web Social bookmarking Managing and organizing information Content collaboration Media sharing Social networking Digital mapping Does the Development of Cognitive Dissonance Inhibit the Success of Influencer Marketing?, 2021-09-15 Master's Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1.3 language English abstract The present master's thesis addresses the subject of the development of cognitive dissonance and its potential inhibitory effects on the success of influencer marketing The focus lies on the one hand on the investigation of the topic on the foundation of a theoretical literature analysis of meaningful theories as well on the other hand on the execution of an empirical study The theoretical investigation of the topic is carried out in the introductory chapter Identification and Initial Review of Key Literature on the basis of literature and applied practical examples The empirical investigation is based on the research question Which effect do cognitive dissonances have on the purchase of products advertised by influencers and the hypothesis Consumers tend to possess unconscious automated attitudes in the arrangement of bias or stereotypes towards influencer marketing In order to investigate these an implicit association test with pictorial and literal stimuli to the categories influencer and classic advertising figure was created In this study 59 persons participated as valid test participants The central results of the research show that both explicit and implicit attitudes towards influencers and their form of marketing exist Cognitive dissonances resulting from this are very likely though an actual slowing down of these attitudes on the purchasing process of products advertised by influencers cannot be confirmed fully Since the proven implicit attitudes only show a medium IAT effect a retardation of the purchase decision can be assumed However as current figures from influencer marketing indicate a final inhibition cannot be assumed in total
