Cosmos In Man:

Cosmos in Man Torkom Saraydarian, 1973 God, Cosmos, and Man Wayne Fields, 1998 God Cosmos and Man builds a powerful scientific interpretation of existence centered on the meticulous integrated development of several main concepts 1 Matter here and everywhere spontaneously self organizes 2 All order we see in the universe has resulted from matter's self organization 3 Life is the highest state of spontaneously self organized matter and almost certainly exists widely in the cosmos 4 Mind is the highest state of life seemingly capable of exerting progressively increasing control over the universe as intelligence further evolves 5 Science seems to be telling us that god may be different than at least the Western religions would have us believe Humans basically had a blind faith religious view of existence when modern science arose about 400 years ago But science has progressively superceded religion relative to many critical issues and remaining topics seem likely to fall to science's relentless onslaught as well This book carefully crafts a powerful argument based on diverse biological and physical disciplines to show how a remarkably consistent world view emerges from today's science Such a new perspective carries powerful attributes that may be more satisfying for many and as any world view should do and agrees with what we actually see This book provides a fresh penetrating scientific analysis of existence and reveals veiled but powerful interrelations between matter conscious mind and cosmic makeup that suggest imaginative new views of god Cosmos in Man H. dialogue and globalization The Interpretation of the Fourth Gospel C. H. Dodd, 1968-05 Since its publication almost forty years ago The Interpretation of the Fourth Gospel has established itself as a classic of biblical scholarship. Regarded as a seminal text in Johannine studies, it provides a comprehensive and authoritative exposition of the major elements and themes contained in this more original and fascinating of ancient documents. The author reconstructs the background and intellectual milieu out of which the Fourth Gospel may be supposed to have taken shape. He then defines as precisely as possible the leading concepts that may be said to have determined the structure and arrangement of the book as we have it. The result is a massive achievement and no serious student of the New Testament can afford to ignore this study's findings. The Interpretation of the Fourth Gospel represents the culmination of a lifetime's reflection on its subject by one of this century's most distinguished New Testament scholars and will continue to stimulate and provoke generations of readers.

The Triumph of Mercy Mohammed Rustom, 2012-09-01 Discusses philosopher Mulladr's commentary on the opening chapter of the Qur'an. Winner of the 21st International Book of the Year Prize in Iran. This book investigates the convergence of philosophy, scriptural exegesis, and mysticism in the thought of the celebrated Islamic philosopher Mulladr (1050-1640). Through a careful presentation of the theoretical and practical dimensions of Mulladr's Qur'anic hermeneutics, Mohammed Rustom highlights the manner in which Mulladr offers a penetrating metaphysical commentary upon the Fatiha, the chapter of the Qur'an that occupies central importance in Muslim daily life. Engaging such medieval intellectual giants as Fakhr al-Din al-Razi (d. 606/1210) and Ibn Arabi (d. 638/1240) on the one hand, and the wider disciplines of philosophy, theology, Sufism, and Qur'anic exegesis on the other, Mulladr's commentary upon the Fatiha provides him with the opportunity to modify and recast many of his philosophical positions within a scripture-based framework. He thereby reveals himself to be a profound religious thinker who, among other things, argues for the salvation of all human beings in the afterlife.
