Doing Business -- An Independent Evaluation World Bank, 2008-06-11 This independent evaluation of the Doing Business Indicators assesses the methods and processes used to construct the indicators their relevance to development outcomes and their usefulness to policy makers and other stakeholders It makes recommendations for improving the collection and presentation of data and for greater clarity in communicating what the indicators can and cannot capture

Annual Review of Development Effectiveness 2006 Monika Huppi, 2006 The results agenda adopted by the World Bank and other donors aims to ensure that development assistance yields sustainable poverty reduction Effective poverty reduction results from three main factors sustained and inclusive growth effective service delivery to the poor and capable public sector institutions that are accountable to stakeholders for the results they achieve The Annual Review of Development Effectiveness 2006 assembles evaluative evidence around three questions central to poverty reduction How effectively has economic growth translated into poverty reduction in Bank assisted countries and what factors have affected these results What factors have led to high quality results in areas that deliver services to the poor What measures help raise the accountability of public institutions responsible for delivering and sustaining these results The report identifies three key areas where the World Bank can further strengthen its effectiveness in helping countries reduce poverty Economic growth has improved in many Bank client countries but a stronger focus on the nature of growth is needed to ensure that such growth leads to jobs for the poor and productivity increases in poorer regions and sectors where the poor earn their incomes Consistent use of a clearly articulated results chain helps ensure that Bank country assistance programs and individual projects set realistic objectives that key cross sectoral constraints to achieving them are adequately considered and that due attention is given to building capacity A realistic assessment of the political economy of governance related reforms is needed to tailor efforts to increase the accountability of public sector institutions to local conditions

2006 Annual Report on Operations Evaluation Janardan Prasad Singh, 2006-01-01 This series continues to strengthen its focus on results monitoring and evaluation The latest 2006 edition updates the implications of managing for results in World Bank operations assesses if monitoring and evaluation practices provide staff with information that helps them manage for results and looks at IEG's own effectiveness Its recommendations address ways to make monitoring and evaluation more effective and influential tools IEG Review of World Bank Assistance for Financial Sector Reform Laurie Effron, 2006-01-01 This evaluation presents an independent assessment of the Bank's support for financial sector reforms over the period FY93-03. It assesses the extent to which the objectives of Bank assistance were achieved including reducing government ownership of financial intermediaries, decreased market concentration, increased competition and efficiency, healthier and more stable financial intermediaries, and deeper, more developed financial systems. It also examines Bank support for financial sector reforms in countries under crisis.

Financial Sector Assessment Program Lily L. Chu, 2006-01-01 The Financial Sector Assessment Program (FSAP) is a major initiative undertaken jointly by the World Bank and the IMF in response to the financial crises of the late 1990s. The ultimate objectives of the program are i) the identification and resolution of financial sector vulnerabilities and their macroeconomic stability implications and ii) fostering financial sector development and its contribution to economic growth. In addition, the FSAP was expected to help the Bank Fund and other institutions design appropriate assistance to address issues identified by the FSAP. The evaluation found that the FSAP is a good quality diagnostic tool. Joint Bank Fund cooperation has allowed an integrated approach towards financial sector vulnerabilities and development needs and has expanded the depth and quality of the skills base. The assessments, however, fall short in prioritizing recommendations and integrating the findings and recommendations of the assessments into its overall programs.

An Impact Evaluation of India's Second and Third Andhra Pradesh Irrigation Projects Howard White, 2008 The Independent Evaluation Group (IEG) of the World Bank has undertaken impact evaluations of the Bank's support to irrigation in Andhra Pradesh, India, under AP Irrigation II and III and of the U.K. Department for International Development supported Rural Livelihoods Project (RLP). This is one of a series of IEG impact evaluations. See appendix H. IEG's program of impact evaluation is in part carried out under a Department for International Development (DFID) partnership agreement, hence the focus on RLP. However, survey villages are also covered by the Bank-supported DPIIP project so that the findings are also relevant to this project. 2009 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness World Bank, 2009-12-04 The Annual Review of Development Effectiveness 2009 presents evidence on the World Bank's efforts in two areas. Part I tracks the outcomes of Bank projects and country programs and the evolution of monitoring and evaluation (M&E). Part II examines the Bank's support for environmentally sustainable development compatible with economic growth and poverty reduction. The Bank's project performance rebounded in 2008, allaying concerns about the weakened performance in 2007. As previous ARDEs have shown, project performance has been improving gradually for 15 years according to the traditional measure, percent of projects with satisfactory versus unsatisfactory outcomes. But IEG ratings of M&E quality for completed projects indicate considerable room for progress. Information to assess impacts continues to be lacking, although preliminary data suggests improvements in baseline data collection. Bank support for the environment has recovered since 2002 due to new sources of concessional finance. The outcomes of environment projects have improved in recent years A growing number of regional projects are addressing the shared use of water resources New global partnerships are deepening the Bank s involvement in climate change issues But M and E remains weak three quarters of environment related projects those managed by sectors other than environment lack reporting of environmental outcomes 2008 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness World Bank,2008-10-01 For the World Bank and its partners the ever present test is to deliver results to lift people out of poverty and promote socially and environmentally sustainable development Achieving such success in any individual country is increasingly intertwined with making progress on shared global challenges The 2008 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness an independent evaluation presents evidence on the Bank s efforts in two important and connected areas tracking outcomes of Bank projects and country programs and progress in fostering global public goods such as protecting the earth s climate and preventing the spread of dangerous communicable diseases World Bank Assistance to Agriculture in Sub-Saharan Africa

,2007-01-01 Sub Saharan Africa is a critical development priority it has some of the world s poorest countries and during the past two decades the number of poor in the Region has doubled to 300 million more than 40 percent of the Region s population Africa remains behind on most of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and is unlikely to reach them by 2015 With some of the world s poorest countries Africa is a development priority for the donor community A major drag on Africa s development is the underperformance of the critical agriculture sector which has been neglected both by donors and governments over the past two decades The sector faces a variety of constraints that are particular to agriculture in Africa and make its development a complex challenge Poor governance and conflict in several countries further complicate matters IEG has assessed the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance in addressing constraints to agricultural development in Africa over the period of fiscal 1991 2006 2005 Annual Report on Operations Evaluation World Bank. Independent Evaluation Group,2006-01-01 The 2005 Annual Report on Operation Evaluation examines the use of information by World Bank managers to improve development results and enhance the effectiveness of the Bank at the country level It suggests that greater attention is needed to measure and manage development results at the country level This will require strengthening countries performance measurement capacity The Bank is making progress in strengthening the results focus of its monitoring and evaluation but more attention is needed to improve performance measurement and tracking progress

Annual Review of Development Effectiveness, 2009, Achieving Sustainable Development World Bank,2009 The Annual Review of Development Effectiveness 2009 presents evidence on the World Bank s efforts in two areas Part I tracks the outcomes of Bank projects and country programs and the evolution of monitoring and evaluation M E Part II examines the Bank s support for environmentally sustainable development compatible with economic growth and poverty reduction The Bank s project performance rebounded in 2008 allaying concerns about the weakened performance in 2007 As previous ARDEs have shown project performance has been improving gradually for 15 years according to the traditional measure

Assessing World Bank Support for Trade, 1987-2004 Yvonne M. Tsikata, 2006 This evaluation of the Bank s assistance on trade related issues focuses on the period between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 The majority of developing countries have significantly improved their environment for trade and economic growth following over two decades of assistance from the Bank in trade reform Arguably the developing world is more open today than at any time in recent memory Developing countries have more than doubled their exports since the mid 1980s helping many of them to grow steadily Exports and imports have risen as a share of the gross domestic product GDP across a wide range of countries fueled in part by China s remarkable trade performance and the growth in services trade Trade policies have also been significantly liberalized Average import tariffs have fallen steadily over the period although the fall in other forms of protection has been more gradual Between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 about 8.1 percent of total Bank commitments went to 117 countries to help them better integrate into the global economy This financing has been accompanied by a large volume of analysis in operational economic and sector work ESW research publications on trade and working papers on trade related topics During the first phase starting in the 1980s the Bank focused largely on the traditional trade agenda related to opening up economies During the second phase from the mid to late 1990s the Bank s emphasis on trade declined although the impact of earlier trade reforms was still playing out In the third phase initiated with the collapse of the World Trade Organization WTO Seattle trade ministerial meeting in 1999 growing pressure to deliver on the Millennium Development Goals MDG and interest from development partners notably bilateral donors led the Bank to reappraise its trade activities This phase has focused on the global trading system and behind the border barriers to trade The Bank s trade activities during the period were led by a grade policy reform package supported by four components import related export related exchange rate and foreign exchange management and industrial and other supporting policies This assessment reviews project related outcomes and outputs to focus on the progress toward a more development friendly trading Recommendations include addressing poverty distributional outcomes and external shocks in a balanced approach revisiting the balance between global and country agendas and strengthening operational links on trade issues and strengthening knowledge management efforts

The Effectiveness of World Bank Support for Community-based and -driven Development Nalini Kumar, 2005 This report analyzes the effectiveness of the World Bank s lending support for the growing area of community based development CBD and community driven development CDD The latter supports the empowerment of the poor by giving communities control over subproject resources and decisions while CBD gives communities less responsibility and emphasizes collaboration consultation or sharing information with them on project activities Since the late 1990s the focus of Bank supported CBD CDD projects has shifted toward CDD though many CDD projects also include CBD components 2006 Annual Report on Operations Evaluation World Bank. Independent Evaluation Group, Janardan Prasad Singh, 2006 The Annual Report on Operations Evaluation series continues to strengthen its focus on results monitoring and evaluation This latest edition updates the implications of managing for results in World Bank operations assesses if monitoring and evaluation practices provide staff with information that helps them manage for results and looks at IEG's own effectiveness Its recommendations address ways to make monitoring and evaluation more effective and influential tools World Bank Engagement at the State Level World Bank, 2010 Introduction Which states Evolution of the Bank strategy The scope of Bank engagement Modalities of state level engagement Summary of findings Improving the World Bank's Development Effectiveness Ajay Chhibber, World Bank. Operations Evaluation Dept, 2005 Focuses on the questions to assess the development effectiveness of World Bank programs How have living conditions in the developing world improved over the last 10-15 years and how does this compare with the previous decade How effective have World Bank interventions been in helping countries improve their living conditions Public Sector Reform World Bank. Independent Evaluation Group, 2008 The effectiveness and efficiency of a country's public sector is vital to the success of development activities including those the World Bank supports Sound financial management an efficient civil service and administrative policy efficient and fair collection of taxes and transparent operations that are relatively free of corruption all contribute to good delivery of public services The Bank has devoted an increasing share of its lending and advisory support to the reform of central governments so it is important to understand what is working what needs improvement and what is missing IEG has examined lending and other kinds of Bank support in 1999-2006 for public sector reform in four areas public financial management administrative and civil service revenue administration and anticorruption and transparency Although a majority of countries that borrowed to support public sector reform experienced improved performance in some dimensions there were shortcomings in important areas and in overall coordination The frequency of improvement was higher among IBRD borrowers than among IDA borrowers Performance usually improved for public financial management tax administration and transparency but did not usually with respect to civil service Direct measures to reduce corruption such as anticorruption laws and commissions rarely succeeded From Schooling Access to Learning Outcomes, an Unfinished Agenda H. Dean Nielsen, World Bank. Independent Evaluation Group, 2006 In developing countries over the past 15 years high priority was accorded to increasing enrolments in primary schools but much less attention was directed to whether children were learning adequately Of the primary education projects funded by the World Bank only 20 percent have an explicit objective to help children improve learning outcomes including such basic skills as reading and writing. Some 90 percent of the projects support quality improvements usually in terms of better educational inputs such as books and teacher training but only about 35 percent target and track improved student learning as made evident by for example better reading writing and mathematical skills. For the evaluation IEG reviewed over 700 primary education projects from 1990 onward. According to IEG 69 percent of World Bank projects designed to improve access to education succeeded in achieving their expansion goals. Enrolment expansion has generally come through supply side interventions such as new schools and classrooms within easy walking distance, hiring more teachers and activating community support. Governments have also increased demand by eliminating school fees and providing girls scholarships. The report recommends that countries, the World Bank and development partners give the same emphasis to learning outcomes as to access so that the world's increasing investments in primary education have a far greater impact on poverty reduction and national development.

Small States World Bank. Independent Evaluation Group, 2006. The Independent Evaluation Group IEG prepared this synthesis note as an input to the ongoing process surrounding the international agenda for Small States. Its purpose is to provide a perspective on some of the issues small states face through a review of World Bank experience with country and project assistance. The lessons and findings are drawn from IEG Country Assistance Evaluations and Project Performance Assessment Reports as well as from IEG Reviews of Country Assistance Strategy Completion Reports and Project Implementation Completion Reports.
