Communicating Uncertainty Media Coverage Of New And Controversial Science:

Communicating Uncertainty Sharon M. Friedman, Sharon Dunwoody, Carol L. Rogers, 2012-10-12 Exploring the interactions that swirl around scientific uncertainty and its coverage by the mass media this volume breaks new ground by looking at these issues from three different perspectives that of communication scholars who have studied uncertainty in a number of ways that of science journalists who have covered these issues and that of scientists who have been actively involved in researching uncertain science and talking to reporters about it In particular Communicating Uncertainty examines how well the mass media convey to the public the complexities ambiguities and controversies that are part of scientific uncertainty In addition to its new approach to scientific uncertainty and mass media interactions this book distinguishes itself in the quality of work it assembles by some of the best known science communication scholars in the world This volume continues the exploration of interactions between scientists and journalists that the three coeditors first documented in their highly successful volume Scientists and Journalists Reporting Science as News which was used for many years as a text in science journalism courses around the world

Handbook of Public Communication of Science and Technology Massimiano Bucchi, Brian Trench, 2008-06-03 Comprehensive yet accessible this key Handbook provides an up to date overview of the fast growing and increasingly important area of public communication of science and technology from both research and practical perspectives As well as introducing the main issues arenas and professional perspectives involved it presents the findings of earlier research and the conclusions previously drawn Unlike most existing books on this topic this unique volume couples an overview of the practical problems faced by practitioners with a thorough review of relevant literature and research The practical Handbook format ensures it is a student friendly resource but its breadth of scope and impressive contributors means that it is also ideal for practitioners and professionals working in the field Combining the contributions of different disciplines media and journalism studies sociology and history of science the perspectives of different geographical and cultural contexts and by selecting key contributions from appropriate and well respected authors this original text provides an interdisciplinary as well as a global approach to public communication of science and technology

Sterling, 2009-09-25 The six volume Encyclopedia of Journalism covers all significant dimensions of journalism including print broadcast and Internet journalism US and international perspectives history technology legal issues and court cases ownership and economics

Routledge International Handbook of Ignorance Studies Matthias Gross, Linsey McGoey, 2015-05-15 Once treated as the absence of knowledge ignorance today has become a highly influential topic in its own right commanding growing attention across the natural and social sciences where a wide range of scholars have begun to explore the social life and political issues involved in the distribution and strategic use of not knowing The field is growing fast and this handbook reflects this interdisciplinary field of study by drawing contributions from economics sociology history philosophy cultural studies anthropology feminist studies and related fields in order to serve as a seminal guide to the political legal and social uses of ignorance in social and political life Chapter 33 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available here https://tandfbis.s3.us-west-2.amazonaws.com/rftfiles/docs/OpenAccess/Chapters/9780415718967_oachapter33.pdf The Science Communication Challenge Gitte Meyer, 2018-03-26 The Science Communication Challenge explores and discusses the whys as distinct from the hows of science communication Arguing that the dominant science communication paradigm is didactic it makes the case for a political category of science communication aimed at furthering discussions of science related public affairs and making room for civilized and reasonable exchanges between different points of view As civil societies and knowledge societies modern democratic societies are confronted with the challenge of accommodating both the scientific logic of truth seeking and the classical political logic of pluralism The didactic science communication paradigm however is unsuited to dealing with substantial disagreement Therefore it is also unsuited to facilitate communication about the steadily increasing number of science related political issues Using insights from an array of academic fields The Science Communication Challenge explores the possible origins of the didactic paradigm connecting it to particular understandings of knowledge politics and the public and to the widespread assumption of a science versus politics dichotomy The book offers a critique of that assumption and suggests that science and politics be seen as substantially different activities suited to dealing with different kinds of questions and to different varieties of science communication

Agriculture and Ecosystem Resilience in Sub Saharan Africa Yazidhi Bamutaze, Samuel Kyamanywa, Bal Ram Singh, Gorettie Nabanoga, Rattan Lal, 2019-05-22 This volume discusses emerging contexts of agricultural and ecosystem resilience in Sub Saharan Africa as well as contemporary technological advances that have influenced African livelihoods In six sections the book addresses the sustainable development goals to mitigate the negative impacts on agricultural productivity brought about by climate change in Africa Some of the challenges assessed include soil degradation land use changes natural resource mismanagement declining crop productivity and economic stagnation This book will be of interest to researchers NGOs and development organizations Section 1 focuses on climate risk management in tropical Africa Section 2 addresses the water ecosystem agriculture nexus and identifies the best strategies for sustainable water use Section 3 introduces Information Communication Technology ICT and how it can be used for ecosystem and human resilience to improve quality of life in communities Section 4 discusses the science and policies of transformative agriculture including challenges facing crop production and management Section 5 addresses landscape processes human security and governance of agro ecosystems Section 6 concludes the book with chapters uniquely covering the gender dynamics of agricultural ecosystem and livelihood resilience
