The book covers a range of topics including the history of sociology, social inequality, race and ethnicity, gender, sexuality, social institutions, and globalization. An Introduction to Sociology Carl Addington Dawson, Warner Ensign Gettys, 1929 Gendering the Sociology Profession Sanja Magdalenić, 2004. This Ph.D. dissertation is framed as a historical comparative analysis of the sociology profession. The focus will be put on the emergence and the development of the profession and its organizational arenas. The analysis will present data from three sociology fields: Sweden, Britain, and the US, as these fields relate to the three models of professionalization that have been outlined by the sociology of the professions. Performing a comparative analysis of an individual profession will help reveal similarities and differences between the cases being considered. The aim of the dissertation is twofold. First, it seeks to add to theorizing about the relationship between gender and professions by exploring the ways in which the emergence, organization, and knowledge production of an academic profession has interrelated with gender in the historical development of sociology as a profession. Contents include: Introduction, Sociology of the professions through gender lens, the Professional project, Gendering professional associations, Patterns of closure in academic
