The Politics of Nature and Science in Southern Africa Maano Ramutsindela, Giorgio Miescher, 2016-08-12 This book brings together recent and ongoing empirical studies to examine two relational kinds of politics namely the politics of nature i e how nature conservation projects are sites on which power relations play out and the politics of the scientific study of nature These are discussed in their historical and present contexts and at specific sites on which particular human environment relations are forged or contested This spatio temporal juxtaposition is lacking in current research on political ecology while the politics of science appears marginal to critical scholarship on social nature Specifically the book examines power relations in nature related activities demonstrates conditions under which nature and science are politicised and also accounts for political interests and struggles over nature in its various forms The ecological socio political and economic dimensions of nature cannot be ignored when dealing with present day environmental issues Nature conservation regulations are concerned with the management of flora and fauna as much as with humans Various chapters in the book pay attention to the ways in which nature science and politics are interrelated and also co constitutive of each other They highlight that power relations are naturalised through science and science related institutions and projects such as museums botanical gardens wetlands parks and nature reserves

The SAGE Handbook of Environment and Society Jules Pretty, Andy Ball, Ted Benton, Julia Guivant, David R Lee, David Orr, Max Pfeffer, Professor Hugh Ward, 2007-10-30 A monumental and timely contribution to scholarship on society and environments The handbook makes it easy and compelling for anyone to learn about that scholarship in its full manifestations and as

Making and Unmaking Intellectual Property Mario Biagioli, Peter Jaszi, Martha Woodmansee, 2015-07-31 Rules regulating access to knowledge are no longer the exclusive province of lawyers and policymakers and instead command the attention of anthropologists economists literary theorists political scientists artists historians and cultural critics This burgeoning interdisciplinary interest in intellectual property has also expanded beyond the conventional categories of patent copyright and trademark to encompass a diverse array of topics ranging from traditional knowledge to international trade Though recognition of the central role played by knowledge economies has increased there is a special urgency associated with present day inquiries into where rights to information come from how they are justified and the ways in which they are deployed Making and Unmaking Intellectual Property edited by Mario Biagioli Peter Jaszi and Martha Woodmansee presents a range of diverse and even conflicting contemporary perspectives on intellectual property rights and the contested sources of authority associated with them Examining fundamental concepts and challenging conventional narratives including those centered around authorship invention and the public domain this book provides a rich introduction to an important intersection of law culture and material production

Sustainable Governance of Wildlife and Community-Based Natural Resource Management Brian Child, 2019-10-23 This book develops the Sustainable Governance Approach and the principles of Community Based Natural Resource Management CBNRM It provides practical examples of successes and failures in implementation and lessons about the economics and governance of wild resources with global application CBNRM emerged in the 1980s encouraging greater local participation to conserve and manage natural and wild resources in the face of increasing encroachment by agricultural and other forms of land use development This book describes the institutional history of wildlife and the empirical transformation of the wildlife sector on private and communal land particularly in southern Africa to develop an alternative paradigm for governing wild resources With the twin goals of addressing poverty and resource degradation in the world's extensive agriculturally marginal areas the author conceptualises this paradigm as the Sustainable Governance Approach which integrates theories of proprietorship and rights prices and economics governance and scale and adaptive learning The author then discusses and defines CBNRM a major subset of this approach Interweaving theory and practice he shows that the primary challenges facing CBNRM are the devolution of rights from the centre to marginal communities and the governance of these rights by communities a challenge which is seldom recognised or addressed He focuses on this shortcoming extending and operationalising institutional theory including Ostrom's principles of collective action within the context of cross scale governance Based on the author's extensive experience this book will be key reading for students of natural resource management sustainable land use community forestry conservation and development Providing practical but theoretically robust tools for implementing CBNRM it will also appeal to professionals and practitioners working in communities and in conservation and development
