Communities Of Memory On Witness Identity And Justice:

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

Memory, Politics and Identity C. McGrattan, 2012-10-10 The question of how to move beyond contentious pasts exercises societies across the globe Focusing on Northern Ireland this book examines how historical injustices continue to haunt contemporary lives and how institutional and juridical approaches to dealing with the past often give way to a silencing consensus or re marginalising victims

Localising Memory in Transitional Justice Mina Rauschenbach, Julia Viebach, Stephan Parmentier, 2022-05-30 This collection adds to the critical transitional justice scholarship that calls for transitional justice from below and that makes visible the complex and oftentimes troubled entanglements between justice endeavours locality and memory making Broadening this perspective it explores informal memory practices across various contexts with a focus on their individual and collective dynamics and their intersections reaching also beyond a conceptualisation of memory as mere symbolic reparation and politics of memory It seeks to highlight the hidden unwritten and multifaceted in today s memory boom by focusing on the memorialisation practices of communities activists families and survivors Organising its analytical focal point around the localisation of memory it offers valuable and new insights on how and under what conditions localised memory practices may contribute to recognition and social transformation as well as how they may at best be inclusive or exclusive of dynamic and diverse memories Drawing on inter and multi disciplinary approaches this book brings an in depth and nuanced understanding of local memory practices and the dynamics attached to these in transitional justice contexts It will be of much interest to students and scholars of memory and genocide studies peace and conflict studies transitional justice sociology and anthropology Public Memory, Public Media and the Politics of Justice P. Lee, P. Thomas, 2012-08-13 Exposing how memory is constructed and mediated in different societies this collection explores particular contexts to identify links between the politics of memory media representations and the politics of justice questioning what we think we know and understand about recent history Reformed Churches in South Africa and the Struggle for Justice Marry-Anne Plaatjies-Van Huffel, Robert Vosloo, 2013-11-01 The various contributions in this informative and exciting volume explore the ambivalent and complex history of Reformed faith during the years 1960 to 1990 in apartheid South Africa In the process light is shed on the role of Reformed churches in the struggle for justice freedom and dignity Parameters are simultaneously provided for defining the public role of Reformed faith in contemporary South Africa in the context of Africanisation and globalisation Prof Nico Koopman Dean of the Faculty of Theology Law and the Politics of Memory Stiina Loytomaki, 2014-06-05 Law and the Politics of Memory Stellenbosch University Confronting the Past examines law s role as a tool of memory politics in the efforts of contemporary societies to work through the traumas of their past Using the examples of French colonialism and Vichy as well as addressing the politics of memory surrounding the Holocaust communism and colonialism this book provides a critical exploration of law s role in belated transitional justice contexts The book examines how and why law has become so central in processes in which the past is constituted as a series of injustices that need to be rectified and can allegedly be repaired As such it explores different legal modalities in processes of working through the past addressing the implications of regulating history and memory through legal categories and legislative acts whilst exploring how trials restitution cases and memory laws manage to fulfil such varied expectations as clarifying truth rendering homage to memory and reconciling societies Legal scholars historians and political scientists especially those working with transitional justice history and memory politics in particular will find this book a stimulating exploration of the specificity of law as an instrument and forum of the politics of memory Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco Fadoua Loudiy, 2014-03-05 This book examines the Moroccan experience of transitional justice more specifically the negotiation of the legacy of the period commonly referred to as the Years of Lead This period of Moroccan history roughly spans from the early 1960s to 1999 during which thousands of citizens were arbitrarily detained tortured and killed because of their political opinions Through an analysis of testimonies public documents and personal interviews Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco seeks to shed light on Moroccan citizens struggle for recognition and reparation in the aftermath of a long history of grave human rights violations ranging from arbitrary arrest and torture to state sponsored disappearances and murders While Morocco s experience is often presented within a historical global context this book offers a comparative analysis discussing other national examples to situate the Moroccan experience within the relatively recent history of political transitions Seeking to advance a rhetoric of symbolic justice that privileges the voice of the victims and offers hope for the renewal of a community s ethos through public discourse and ethico political practices this book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars with an interest in Human Rights and Middle East Politics Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association, 2006 List of members in v 1 Social Theory and Practice, 2006 Guide to Book Publishers, Editors & Literary Agents 2007 Jeff Herman, 2006-12 Presents a guide to the names and specialities of American and Canadian publishers editors and literary agents including information on the acquisition process Thomas Ruffin and the Perils of Public Homage ,2009 and on choosing literary agents I Hope I Join the Band Frankie Condon, 2012-03-02 Both from the Right and from the Left we are stymied in talking well with one another about race and racism by intransigent beliefs in our own goodness as well as by our conviction that such talk is useless White antiracist epistemology needs to begin not with our beliefs but with our individual and collective awakening to that which we do not know Drawing on scholarship across disciplines ranging from writing and rhetoric studies to critical race theory to philosophy I Hope I Join the Band examines the limits and the possibilities for performative engagement in antiracist activism Focusing particularly on the challenges posed by raced white identity to performativity and moving between narrative and theoretical engagement thebook names and argues for critical shifts in the understandings and rhetorical practices that attend antiracist activism Wounds in the City, Scars in the Nation Ghada Adel Masri, 2007 The American Historical Review John Franklin Jameson, Henry Eldridge Bourne, Robert Livingston Schuyler, 2009 American Culture in the 1960s Sharon Monteith, 2008 A clear overview of the major cultural forms of 1960s America fiction and poetry music and performance film and television art and photography and influential texts of the decade Redeeming America Shoon Lio,2008 The New Oxford Companion to Law Peter Cane, Joanne Conaghan, 2008 For any reader needing a concise yet expert explanation of a subject in law the New Oxford Companion to Law is the ideal reference work Providing greater depth than can be found in legal dictionaries but always accessible to the non specialist entries in the Companion cover all areas of law and legal systems and are extensively cross referenced for ease of navigation The Companion draws upon the expertise of over 700 scholars and practitioners offering the widest possible range of perspectives on legal topics Consisting in over 1700 alphabetically arranged entries the Companion features The fundamentals of all the major areas of law such as criminal law tax and social security law human rights law family and employment law education law sports law international and EU law The role and workings of legal institutions such as parliaments courts law schools and international bodies such as the EU and the UN Leading cases famous trials and distinguished lawyers past and present Major events in legal history and major debates in legal theory Twenty pages of rich illustrations bringing the content to life The Companion will appeal to the interested citizen students applying for law courses at university law students and also to advanced readers who are already
