Community And Neighbourhood Mediation:

Community and Neighbourhood Mediation Marian Liebmann, 1998 Looks at mediation as it can be applied to resolving community and neighbourhood disputes The book covers the history and theory of mediation practices before looking at how these can work in practice by analyzing the mediation process and examining detailed case studies It goes on to look at the organizational structures which allow these processes to be delivered from model structures and services to advice on recruitment and training The book also examines practical issues such as the importance of equal opportunities in community mediation schemes how to maintain standards and get accreditation and how to maintain cost effectiveness

Community and Neighbour Mediation Marian Liebmann, 2003 Global Trends in Mediation Nadja Marie Alexander, 2006-01-01 In its first edition Global Trends in Mediation was the first book to concentrate on mediation from a comparative perspective reaching beyond the all too familiar Anglo American view and as such has enjoyed wide practical use among alternative dispute resolution ADR practitioners worldwide This new edition has not only been updated throughout it has also added two new jurisdictions France and Quebec and a very useful comparative table summarising the salient points from each of the fourteen jurisdictional chapters Each jurisdictional chapter addresses critical structural and process issues in alternative dispute resolution such as the institutionalisation of mediation mediation case law and legislation the range and nature of disputes where mediation is utilised court related mediation mediation practice standards education training and accreditation of mediators the role of lawyers in mediation online dispute resolution and future trends All the contributors are senior dispute resolution academics or practitioners with vast knowledge and experience of dispute resolution developments in their countries and abroad Responding to Community Conflict John Gray, Moira

Halliday, Andrew Woodgate, 2002 This review maps the range of mediation within the community that is mediation of disputes within local communities outside established legal and justice systems It identifies what community mediation is and how it links to other mediation activities within the UK highlighting the range of organisations responsible for providing mediation how are they managed and the way in which mediation is delivered Regulating Dispute Resolution Felix

Steffek, Hannes Unberath, Hazel Genn, Reinhard Greger, Carrie Menkel-Meadow, 2014-07-04 This book proposes a principled approach to the regulation of dispute resolution It covers dispute resolution mechanisms in all their varieties including negotiation mediation conciliation expert opinion mini trial ombud procedures arbitration and court adjudication The authors present a transnational Guide for Regulating Dispute Resolution GRDR The regulatory principles contained in this Guide are based on a functional taxonomy of dispute resolution mechanisms an open normative framework and a modular structure of regulatory topics The Guide for Regulating Dispute Resolution is formulated and commented upon in a concise manner to assist legislators policy makers professional associations practitioners and academics in thinking about which solutions best suit local and regional circumstances The aim of this book is to contribute to the understanding and development of the legal framework governing national and international dispute resolution Theory empirical research and regulatory models have been taken from the wealth of experience in 12 jurisdictions Austria Belgium Denmark England and Wales France Germany Italy Japan the Netherlands Norway Switzerland and the United States of America Experts with a background in academia practice and law making describe and analyse the regulatory framework and social reality of dispute resolution in these countries On this basis the authors draw conclusions about policy choices regulatory strategies and the practice of conflict resolution This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional s International Arbitration online service Conflict
