Community Support Framework Germany 1994-1999:

A Creeping Transformation? Michael W. Bauer, 2013-03-14 How can we approach the Commission's role as co-manager of policy implementation? Why should we expect the Commission to be pulled into domestic policy execution and to accumulate something like an implementation management capacity? How should we conceptualise the Commission's linkage with post-decision management issues? Finally, how does the Commission's involvement in the application of EU policies, if any, significantly change everything? Such questions are answered in this study, which is concerned with what may be called the implementation management capacity of the European Commission. Simply put, this is the role the Commission plays in the implementation of large-scale European spending programmes. While it is true that the Commission's predominant prerogatives are to draft legislation and facilitate bargaining, it also has a role in post-decision policy management. This role is of increasing importance for the emerging governance of the European Union. Readership: social scientists, journalists, and all those interested in the role of the European Commission in shaping EU policies. Implementing the CSF Regional Development Programmes, 1994 European Commission, 1995 EU Structural Funds Beyond Agenda 2000 Frank Bollen, Ines Hartwig, Phedon Nicolaides, 2000 Official Journal of the European Communities, 1999 Education and Training in the European Union Andreas Moschonas, 2019-01-15 Published in 1998 Education and training in the European Union is a policy area aiming to enable young people to experience the reality of Europe through various forms of cooperation, including training periods in firms in other member states, university courses in the Community countries, and exchanges. This book examines why the Community decided to take actions in the field of education and training, what the extent of this involvement is, and how the future may affect EU decisions on education and training. It argues that the logic of the EU involvement in education and training derives from both economic and political considerations, that the extent of this involvement has not so far been very significant but is growing, and that the pace of political integration will ultimately condition the Community's competence in the field of education and training. Regional Planning and Development in Europe David Shaw, Peter Roberts, 2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2000. Providing a review and assessment of a number of the major features evident in regional planning and development in Europe, this volume contains a series of regional case studies drawn from current research in various European countries. These illustrate a broad range of theoretical views which offer perspectives on the operation of the EU Structural Funds and regional restructuring, development, and key concerns evident in spatial planning, environmental management, and lessons from past experience. The editors collate views to arrive at challenging conclusions and suggestions for future policy priorities. Books in Print, 2005-2006 Michael Cairns, 2005 Institutional Change after the Great Recession Luis Cárdenas del Rey, Javier de

Arribas Cámara,2021-08-12 This book combines demand led growth models and the institutionalist approach in order to explain the macroeconomic performance of the main European countries in recent years followed by which a coherent explanation of the institutional change since the Great Recession including the economic policy response to the economic and financial crisis 2008 and to the debt crisis 2010 is provided A Comparative Political Economy CPE analytical framework and provide an institutional base to the different European growth models is built in general terms over the period 1995 2018 The results allow us to link diverse growth dynamics to the changes of the institutional framework as a consequence of the economic and financial crises In each chapter for country case studies France Germany Italy Spain Greece Sweden UK and Poland there s an ntroduction with a general characterization of the country and the most relevant changes that have occurred subsequently main legislative milestones or changes in the behaviour of social agents especially the process of dualization or deregulation of European economies In addition an analysis of the macroeconomic evolution and the situation of the labour market before and after the crisis from a demand side perspective is included concluding with the linkages between both issues and the characterization of the growth model This book is of special interest to all the students and university professors who will use this book to be able to follow a multitude of subjects from Applied Economy to

International Economic Structure but can also be useful for researchers doctoral students and teaching staff who want to expand knowledge in the fields of comparative political economy institutions and the European Union In general this book is aimed at anyone interested in expanding their knowledge of the evolution of Europe today Subject Guide to Books in
